Reporting From Washington The History Of The Washington Press Corps:

Reporting from Washington Donald A. Ritchie, 2005-03-15 Beginning with 1932 when a newly elected FDR energized the sleepy capital Ritchie highlights the dramatic changes in journalism that have occurred in the last seven decades We meet legendary columnists and investigative reporters as well as the pioneers of radio television cable television and internet news We also learn about the efforts of female and black reporters to break into what had long been a bastion of white maleness the press corps From Walter Winchell to Matt Drudge the people who cover Washington politics are among the most colorful and influential in American news Reporting from Washington offers an unforgettable portrait of these figures as well as of the dramatic changes in American journalism in the twentieth century Whatever Happened to the

Washington Reporters, 1978-2012 Stephen Hess, 2013-07-24 Whatever Happened to the Washington Reporters 1978 2012 is the first book to comprehensively examine career patterns in American journalism In 1978 Brookings Senior Fellow Stephen Hess surveyed 450 journalists who were covering national government for U S commercial news organizations His study became the award winning The Washington Reporters Brookings 1981 the first volume in his Newsworld series Now a generation later Hess and his team from Brookings and the George Washington University have tracked down 90 percent of the original group interviewing 283 some as far afield as France England Italy and Australia What happened to the reporters within their organizations Did they change jobs Move from reporter to editor or producer Jump from one type of medium to another from print to TV Did they remain in Washington or go somewhere else Which ones left journalism Why Where did they go A few of them have become quite famous including television correspondents Ted Koppel Sam Donaldson Brit Hume Carole Simpson Judy Woodruff and Marvin Kalb some have become editors or publishers of the New York Times Wall Street Journal Chicago Tribune Miami Herald or Baltimore Sun some have had substantial careers outside of journalism Most however did not become household names The book is designed as a series of self contained essays each concentrating on one characteristic such as age gender or place of employment including newspapers television networks wire services and niche publications The reporters speak for themselves When all of these lively portraits are analyzed one by one the results are surprisingly different from what journalists and sociologists in 1978 had predicted Praise for other books in the Newsworld series International News and Foreign Correspondents It is not much in vogue to speak of things like the public trust but thankfully Stephen Hess is old fashioned He reminds us in this valuable and provocative book that journalism is a public trust providing the basic information on which citizens in a democracy vote or tune out Ken Auletta The New Yorker Regardless of one's view of American news media one cannot help but be influenced by the information Stephen Hess puts forth in International News and Foreign Correspondents After reading this book it is not likely one will scan the newspaper or watch television news in the same way again International Affairs Review Readers of all backgrounds will find this a provocative text The Harvard International Journal of Press Politics Live from Capitol Hill Hess is a treasure a Washington

Conflicted Isaac Blacksin, 2024-07-02 How is popular knowledge of war shaped by the stories we consume what are the boundaries of this knowledge and how are these boundaries policed or contested by journalists producing knowledge from war zones Based on years of fieldwork in Iraq Syria Lebanon Afghanistan and Ukraine Conflicted challenges normative conceptions of war by revealing how representational authority comes to be Turning the lens on journalists from The New York Times The Washington Post The Wall Street Journal and other prominent publications Isaac Blacksin shows why news coverage of contemporary conflict widely presumed to function as a critique of excessive violence instead serves to sanction official rationales for war Blacksin argues that journalism's humanitarian frame now hegemonic in conflict coverage serves to depoliticize and remoralize war transforming war from an effect of policy on populations to a matter of violence against the innocent Exploring the tension between experience and expression in conditions of violence and tracking how journalists respond to dominant expectations of reality Conflicted tells the story of war reporters and the consequences of their convergence As new wars and new reportage continue to shape our understanding of armed conflict this book makes visible both the power and the particularity of war reportage

The Evening Star Faye Haskins, 2019-09-11 The Evening Star The Rise and Fall of a Great Washington Newspaper is the story of the 129 year history of one of the preeminent newspapers in journalism history when city newspapers across the country were at the height of their power and influence The Star was the most financially successful newspaper in the Capital and among the top ten in the country until its decline in the 1970s The paper began in 1852 when the capital city was a backwater southern town The Star's success over the next century was due to its singular devotion to local news its many respected journalists and the historic times in which it was published The book provides a unique perspective on more than a century of local national and international history The book also exposes the complex reasons for the Star's rise and fall from dominance in Washington's newspaper market The Noyes and Kauffmann families who owned and operated the Star for a century play an important role in that story Patriarch Crosby Noyes life and legacy is the most fascinating a classic Horatio Alger story of the illegitimate son of a Maine farmer who by the time of his death was a respected newspaper publisher and member of Washington's influential elite In 1974 his descendants sold the once great newspaper Noyes built to Joseph Allbritton Allbritton and then Time Inc tried to save the Star but failed
