Globalization and Media in the Digital Platform Age Dal Yong Jin, 2025-08-04. An empirically rich and student friendly book in which global media expert Dal Yong Jin discusses the nexus of globalization, digital media and popular culture and provides an essential introduction to the shifting media ecology of the early 21st century. Offering an in depth look at globalization processes as they relate to the global media, this second edition maps out the increasing role of digital platforms as they continue to shift the contours of globalization. This book introduces core theoretical concepts such as cultural imperialism, platform imperialism and soft power that can be critically applied to a broad range of contemporary media policies, practices, movements and technologies in different geographic regions of the world with a view to determining how they shape and are shaped by globalization. Fully updated throughout, this second edition explores new critical issues such as the impact of COVID 19 and the growth of artificial intelligence (AI) in cultural production, emphasizing the ever increasing role digital platforms play in the globalization process. It also introduces new theoretical frameworks for understanding globalization such as transnational proximity. End of chapter discussion questions prompt further critical thinking and research. An essential book for students of digital media, global media and globalization that want to understand the increasing impact of AI and digital platforms on global media and culture in the digital platform era.

Africana Religion in the Digital Age Margarita Simon Guillory, 2024-12-27. This book diversifies the fields of digital religion studies and Africana religious studies by considering the nuanced intersections between digital technologies and the religious experiences of African Americans. While Christianity is a continuous marker of religious identity for many African Americans, this digital approach to examining Africana religion in the US uncovers other non Christian esoteric traditions that have often been marginalized within academia. The book explores the diverse ways that African Americans employ the Internet, social media, human enhancement technologies and gaming to construct multidimensional modes of religious identities. It also considers the ways that Africana religious practitioners employ digital platforms to both complement and disrupt religious authority. Ultimately, the book establishes Africana religious experiences as viable entry points in the scholarly engagement of religion.
