White Hotel William Faulkner's Go Down Moses and Umberto Eco's The Name of the Rose He proposes recognizing four modes of the historical novel the past as a distant mirror of the present fictions whose authors seek to pinpoint the precise historical moment when the modern age or some prominent feature of it came into existence fictions whose authors aspire purely or largely to historical verisimilitude and fictions whose authors reverse history to contemplate utopia and dystopia in the future Thus historical fiction can be organized under the rubrics The Distant Mirror The Turning Point The Way It Was and The Way It Will Be This fourfold schema and his focus on postwar novels set Cowart's work apart from previous studies which have not devoted adequate space to the contemporary historical novel Cowart argues that postwar historical fiction merits more extensive treatment because it is the product of an age unique in the annals of history an age in which history itself may end

The Leopard Giuseppe Di Lampedusa, 2013-10-02 NOW A NETFLIX SERIES In this powerful novel an aristocratic family grapples with societal upheaval and personal struggles against the backdrop of sweeping historical change A majestic melancholy and beautiful novel The New Yorker A masterwork A superb novel Newsweek in 1860s Sicily Don Fabrizio Corbera Prince of Salina remains skeptical and stoic as he faces civil war and his family's loss of wealth and status The prince's favorite nephew Tancredi who opportunistically supports the unification efforts marries Angelica a beautiful woman from a lower social class to secure his future This marriage symbolizes the shifting social order and the decline of the aristocracy As Don Fabrizio struggles to adapt he retreats into his love of astronomy finding solace in the unchanging stars while his world crumbles around him Ultimately he must decide to resist the forces of change or come to terms with them Giuseppe Tomasi di Lampedusa the last in a line of Sicilian princes drew inspiration from his own family's decline to write this novel in the 1950s The dramatic sweep and richness of Lampedusa's observation his seamless intertwining of public and private worlds and his sure grasp of human frailty imbue The Leopard with beauty and power

Knossos, Mycenae, Troy Natale Barca, 2023-03-31 This work puts a particular emphasis on the mixing and osmosis of the first Mediterranean civilizations with particular reference to the Minoan Cycladic Mycenaean and Trojan and on the causes of their decline which are to be identified in a jumble of natural and human causes and in a long lasting slow but irreversible crisis It takes into account that the Mediterranean Dimension of the Bronze Age is a garden in which many legends flourished clearly distinguishing between myth and history and always bearing in mind that legends are not to be taken literally nonetheless they often have a grain of truth It does not aim to provide an exhaustive report but to compose a broad and evolutionary picture in which the facts and their connections which are deducible from archaeological evidence or from the accounts of ancient historians find their place in their consequentiality Its originality lies not in the choice of the subject but in the way of treating it The author introduces and explains in order to be read and perhaps to get excited Another characterizing element of Knossos Mycenae Troy is the wide use of the historical present that is made there to represent events and construct the text to reduce the reader's distance from the narrated events and facilitates their approach to them This book aims to provide the reader with an overall picture of the cultures that laid the foundations of Western civilization which is not generic but rather detailed and updated and which has scientific solidity Catalog of Copyright Entries, 1936 On the Paths of Prehistory Dario

Calderone, 2024-10-10 Using various research methods and sources the author identifies natural pathways in Milena central southern Sicily that were likely used throughout prehistory to reach the coasts from this inland region that continued to be used in more recent historical periods including the Roman period and the Middle Ages The Dawn of European

Interconnections in the Central Mediterranean Anthony Bonanno, Pietro Militello, 2008 The Leopard Giuseppe Tomasi Di Lampedusa, 2025-04-10 The Leopard by Giuseppe Tomasi di Lampedusa is a profound and elegiac novel that explores the decline of the Sicilian aristocracy during the Italian unification in the 19th century Centered on the introspective and aging Prince Fabrizio of Salina the novel portrays a world in transition where tradition and nobility give way to political upheaval and social change Through rich historical context and poetic prose Lampedusa captures the melancholic beauty of a fading era and the complexity of adapting to inevitable transformation Since its posthumous publication in 1958 The Leopard has been celebrated for its philosophical depth subtle irony and vivid characterizations It masterfully blends personal reflection with political commentary offering a nuanced critique of power decay and the illusions of permanence The novel's famous assertion If we want things to stay as they are things will have to change embodies its central paradox and continues to resonate with readers today The lasting significance of The Leopard lies in its exploration of identity time and the cost of
