Being-in-Christ and Putting Death in Its Place Miles Richardson,2006-09-01 Winner of the James Mooney Award of the Southern Anthropological Society In this bracingly original anthropological study Miles Richardson draws on forty years of empirical research to explore the paradox that while humans must die like all evolving life forms they have adapted a unique symbolic communication that makes them aware of their naturally occurring fate and through word and artifact they dwell upon that discovery Using the concepts of culture and place he illuminates how two groups Catholics in Spanish America and Baptists in the American South create being in Christ and thereby put death in its place The book combines biological cultural archaeological and linguistic anthropology a rigorous evolutionary framework and a postmodern dialogic stance to view humanity as inescapably a product of nature without sacrificing the interpretative social constructions that turn a primate into a poem Hard won ethnographic detail and moving religious insight make this an enthralling work San Pedro, Colombia Miles Richardson,1965 Research on the American Republics United States.
