Ceramics Jo Dahn, 2015-10-22 New Directions in Ceramics explores and responds to contemporary ceramists use of innovative modes of practice investigating how change is happening and interpreting key works Jo Dahn provides an overview of the current ceramics landscape identifying influential exhibitions events and publications to convey a flavour of debates at a time when much about the character of ceramics is in a state of flux What non traditional activities does the term ceramics now encompass How have these practices developed and how have they been accommodated by institutions in Britain and internationally Work by a wide range of ceramists including Edmund de Waal Nina Hole Clare Twomey Keith Harrison Alexandra Engelfriet Linda Sormin Walter McConnell and Phoebe Cummings is considered Following an extended introduction on ceramics in critical discourse chapters on performance installation raw clay and figuration each provide an introductory overview to the area under discussion with a closer examination of work by key ceramists and illustrations of relevant examples The interplay of actions and ideas is a central concern critical and cultural contexts are woven into the account throughout and dialogues with practitioners provide a privileged insight into thought processes as well as studio activities

Catalogue of the Birds in the British Museum: Passeriformes, or perching birds. Fringilliformes: pt. I, containing the families Dicaeidae, Hirundinidae, Ampelidae, Mniotiltidae and Motacillidae by R.B. Sharpe British Museum (Natural History). Department of Zoology, 1885 This enormous undertaking which according to one of the prefaces professes to be a complete list of every bird known at the time of publication kept growing even as it was being written The Museum added eagerly to their already vast collections during the decades of publication acquiring by gift the great collections of A O Hume on Asian birds and those of Sclater and Salvin and Godwin on Neotropical birds so that the size of the collection nearly tripled between 1874 and 1888 Sharpe originally intended to do all the work himself but others were called in when this became clearly impossible The plates are all of birds not previously illustrated In the decades following its publication this catalogue was universally acclaimed as the most important work on systematic ornithology that has ever been published Zimmer p 96 And even after one hundred years it remains an essential reference for the serious ornithologist as it underpins a great deal of modern bird classification With 387 plates most hand coloured lithographs some chromolithographs by William Hart J G Keulemans Joseph and Peter Smit
