The Secondary Mod Dick Stroud, 2021-04-21 This is the story of secondary modern schools based on facts not prejudice It is an alternative to the popular narrative that these schools were a scar on the country's educational history The Secondary Mod is a journey perhaps more a voyage of discovery Along the way you will discover that the accepted stories about the tripartite system and comprehensive schools are a simplistic distortion of the truth Worse still the mistakes the education establishment made in the past still determine how children are educated today Researched using the National Archives this book explores the evolution of secondary education in England and Wales from the end of WWI to the early 2000s It's a tale of bureaucratic reports well meaning ideas badly implemented and the harsh realities of life after WWII What we learn enables us to answer the question were secondary moderns a monstrous mistake or much maligned You may be surprised

Beowulf and the Illusion of History John F. Vickrey, 2009 Most Beowulf scholars have held either that the poem's minor episodes are more or less based on incidents in Scandinavian history or at least that they entail nothing of the fabulous or monstrous Beowulf and the Illusion of History contends that like the poem's Grendelkin episodes certain minor episodes involve monsters and contain motifs of the Bear's Son folktale In the Finn Episode the monsters are to be taken as physically present in the story as we have it while in the mention of the hero's fight with Daeghrefn and perhaps in the accounts of the fight with Ongenbeow the principal foes though originally monsters appear now more like ordinary humans The inference permits the elucidation of passages hitherto obscure and indicates that the capability of the Beowulf poet as a maker is greater than has been thought John F. Bessie Louise Pierce, 1926      Cultural Visions: Essays in the History of Culture , 2022-03-07 This collection opens with an inquiry into the assumptions and methods of the historical study of culture comparing the new cultural history with the old. Thirteen essays follow, each defining a problem within a particular culture. In the first section, Biography and Autobiography, three scholars explore historically changing types of self-conception, each reflecting larger cultural meanings; essays included examine Italian Renaissance biographers and the autobiographies of Benjamin Franklin and Mohandas Gandhi. A second group of contributors explore problems raised by the writing of history itself, especially as it relates to a notion of culture. Here examples are drawn from the writings of Thucydides, Jacob Burckhardt, and the art historians Alois Riegl and Josef Strzygowski. In the third section, Politics, Nationalism, and Culture, the essays explore relationships between cultural creativity and national identity, with case studies focusing on the Holy Roman Emperor Maximilian I, the place of Castile within the national history of Spain, and the impact of World War I on the work of Thomas Mann. The final section, Cultural Translation, raises the complex questions of cultural influence and the transmission of traditions over time through studies of Philo of Alexandria's interpretation of the Hebrew Bible, Erasmus' use of Socrates, Jean Bodin's conception of Roman law, and adaptations of the Hebrew Bible for American children.
