Second Tier Cities Rapid Growth Beyond The Metropolis Globalization And Community:

Second Tier Cities, 1999      Second Tier Cities Ann R. Markusen, Yong-Sook Lee, Sean DiGiovanna, 1999 Over the past thirty years transnational investment trade and government policies have encouraged the decentralization of national economies disrupting traditional patterns of urban and regional growth Many smaller cities such as Seattle Washington Campinas Brazil Oita Japan and Kumi Korea have grown markedly faster than the largest metropolises Dubbed here second tier cities they are home to specialized industrial complexes that have taken root provided significant job growth and attracted mobile capital and labor The culmination of an ambitious five year fourteen city research project conducted by an international team of economists and geographers Second Tier Cities examines the potential of these new regions to balance uneven regional development create good stable jobs and moderate hyper urbanization Comparing across national borders the contributors describe four types of second tier cities Marshallian industrial districts hub and spoke cities satellite platforms and government anchored complexes They find that both industrial and regional policies have been important contributors to the rise of second tier cities though the former often trump the latter Lessons for local national and international policymakers are drawn The authors are critical of devolution and argue that it must be accompanied by strong labor and environmental standards and mechanisms to overcome differential regional resource endowments      Working Regions Jennifer Clark, 2013-05-29 Working Regions focuses on policy aimed at building sustainable and resilient regional economies in the wake of the global recession Using examples of four working regions regions where research and design functions and manufacturing still coexist in the same cities the book argues for a new approach to regional economic development It does this by highlighting policies that foster innovation and manufacturing in small firms focus research centers on pushing innovation down the supply chain and support dynamic design driven firm networks This book traces several key themes underlying the core proposition that for a region to work it has to link research and manufacturing activities namely innovation and production in the same place Among the topics discussed in this volume are the issues of how the location of research and development infrastructure produces a clear role of the state in innovation and production systems and how policy emphasis on pre production processes in the 1990s has obscured the financialization of intellectual property Throughout the book the author draws on examples from diverse industries including the medical devices industry and the US photonics industry in order to illustrate the different themes of working regions and the various institutional models operating in various countries and regions      Power and City Governance Alan DiGaetano, 1999      Shanghai Rising Xiangming Chen, 2009 Until around 1990 Shanghai was China's premier but sluggish industrial center Now at the beginning of the twenty first century the joint impact of global forces and state power has turned Shanghai into a dynamic megacity This collection places the city's unprecedented rise in a rare comparative examination of U S cities as well as with Asian megacities Singapore and Hong Kong providing a nuanced account of how Shanghai's politics economy society and space have been transformed by macro and micro level forces Regions That Work Manuel Pastor,2000 Remaking New York William Sites,2003 El Paso Victor M. Ortíz-González,2004 A grounded and instructive analysis of the ways globalization affects a border city Every marker of social difference can be easily interpreted in the fashionable language of borderlands and if so as Victor M Ortiz Gonzalez reveals the practical reality of the border region is often grossly misrepresented and its people woefully served He argues that amid the tantalizing abstractions generated by the sweeping reconfigurations of globalization people in cities like El Paso and Ciudad Juarez on the U S Mexican border are actually living the gritty realities of a new world order With descriptions of grassroots initiatives to confront the challenges and opportunities that NAFTA represents for the city El Paso challenges us to acknowledge and address the conceptual and sociopolitical tasks of a world in which abstract representations and nonlocal interests override concrete situations Ortiz Gonzalez also provides an indepth analysis of groups such as La Mujer Obrera Unite El Paso and the Hispanic Chamber of Commerce and their attempts to give local residents and workers more autonomy and power Balancing ethnographic detail with precise theoretical insights El Paso offers a compelling case study and a stirring call to understand both the conceptual challenge and the social urgency of the effects of globalization in local settings City Requiem, Calcutta Ananya Roy,2003 Housing developments emerge amid the paddy fields on the fringes of Calcutta overflowing trains carry peasant women to informal urban labor markets in a daily commute against hunger land is settled and claimed in a complex choreography of squatting and evictions such Ananya Roy contends are the distinctive spaces of a communism for the new millennium where at a moment of liberalization the hegemony of poverty is quietly reproduced An ethnography of urban development in Calcutta Roy s book explores the dynamics of class and gender in the persistence of poverty City Requiem Calcutta emphasizes how gender itself is spatialized and how gender relations are negotiated within the geopolitics of modernity and through the everyday practices of territory Thus Roy shows how urban developmentalism in its populist guise reproduces the relations of masculinist patronage and in its entrepreneurial guise seeks to reclaim a bourgeois Calcutta gentlemanly in its nostalgias In doing so her work expands the field of poverty studies by showing how a politics of poverty is also a poverty of knowledge a construction and management of social and spatial categories Emerging Nodes in the Global Economy: Frankfurt and Tel Aviv Compared D. Felsenstein,E.W. Schamp,A. Shachar,2013-03-14 Cities form one of the principal arenas in which globalization processes are manifest Much of the interest in the urban outcomes of globalization is focused on a limited number of iconic global or world cities Most places however will never attain that status They are more likely to play limited and specialized roles in a world economy increasingly dominated by flows Emerging Nodes in a Global Network looks at the temporal and volatile ways in which two such cities Frankfurt and Tel Aviv engage the global economy The central thesis of the book contends that the current round of globalization is characterized by places selectively functioning as nodes within global networks Drawing on a combination of qualitative and quantitative empirical studies of leading sectors in Frankfurt and Tel

Aviv financial and business services high technology air transportation tourism and cultural industries the process of network formation is systematically analyzed and the role of national and regional policy is highlighted Audience This book will be of major interest to academics researchers practitioners and policy makers in the areas of urban and economic geography public policy and economic development It also provides valuable material for government officials and regional and national agencies involved in metropolitan planning and development Splintering Urbanism Steve Graham, Simon

Marvin, 2002-09-11 Splintering Urbanism makes an international and interdisciplinary analysis of the complex interactions between infrastructure networks and urban spaces It delivers a new and powerful way of understanding contemporary urban change bringing together discussions about globalization and the city technology and society urban space and urban networks infrastructure and the built environment developed developing and post communist worlds With a range of case studies illustrations and boxed examples from New York to Jakarta Johannesburg to Manila and Sao Paulo to Melbourne Splintering Urbanism demonstrates the latest social urban and technological theories which give us an understanding of our contemporary metropolis Globalisation and the Politics of Forgetting Yong-Sook Lee, Brenda S.A. Yeoh, 2018-10-24 In both academic scholarship and the popular imagination the globality of modern society has been represented by global cities as the corporate and financial epicentres for capital accumulation cosmopolitan cultures and innovative change This has created an image of the globalised world as empty beyond cities which make it into the global league as paradigmatic celebrity cities As a counterpoint this book gives interpretive weight elsewhere in other places cities and regions drawing on a range of examples from both the developed and developing worlds This book was previously published as a special issue of the journal Urban Studies Latino Metropolis Victor M. Valle, Rodolfo D. Torres, 2000 Los Angeles scratches the surface of the city's image as a rich mosaic of multinational cultures and a grittier truth emerges its huge shimmering economy was built on the backs of largely Latino immigrants and still depends on them This book exposes the underside of the development and restructuring that have turned Los Angeles into a global city and in doing so it reveals the ways in which ideas about ethnicity Latino identity itself are implicated and elaborated in the process A penetrating analysis of the social economic cultural and political consequences of the growth of the Latino working class populations in Los Angeles Latino Metropolis is also a nuanced account of the complex links between political economy and the social construction of ethnicity Lifting examples from recent news stories political encounters and cultural events the authors demonstrate how narratives about Latinos are used to maintain the status quo particularly the existing power grid in the city In media representations of riots in the recasting and whitening of Mexican food as Spanish American cuisine in the community displacement that occurred as part of the development of the Staples Center in telling instances large and small we see how Los Angeles and its Latino population are mutually transforming And we see how an old Latino politics of racial identity is inevitably giving way to a new politics of class Combining political and economic insight with trenchant social and cultural analysis this work offers the clearest statement to date of how ethnicity and class intersect in defining racialized social relations in the contemporary metropolis Globalization and Community Series volume 7 Translation Inquiries University of Minnesota Press

Landscapes of Urban Memory Smriti Srinivas, A rich analysis of religion civic life and global transformation in India Established in the middle of the sixteenth century Bangalore has today become a center for high technology research and production the new Silicon Valley of India with a metropolitan population approaching six million It is also the site of the very popular annual performance called the Karaga dedicated to Draupadi the polyandrous wife of the heroes of the pan Indian epic of the Mahabharata Through her analysis of this performance and its significance for the sense of the civic in Bangalore Smriti Srinivas shows how constructions of locality and globality emerge from existing cultural milieus and how articulations of the urban are modes of cultural self invention tied to historical spatial somatic and ritual practices The book highlights cultural practices embedded in urbanization and moves beyond economistic arguments about globalization or their reliance on the European polis or the American metropolis as models Drawing from urban studies sociology anthropology performance studies religion and history Landscapes of Urban Memory greatly expands our understanding of how the civic is constructed

Regional Development in the Knowledge Economy Philip Cooke, Andrea Piccaluga, 2006-09-27

International contributors provide the first examination of the growing subject of regional knowledge economy development Illustrated by data and stylized accounts the international contributors chart the evolution of knowledge economies questioning the way in which they work and criticize accepted theories and inform how places can cope in the knowledge economy Based in concept on Cooke's Knowledge Economies Routledge 2002 Regional Development in the Knowledge Economy is a well grounded work exploring this increasingly important theme with relevance to innovation systems and related economic development literature

Hybrid Urbanisms in Secondary Cities of the Global South Christian Rosen, Nina Gribat, 2025-04-04 This book presents the concept of Hybrid Urbanisms aiming to deconstruct the still existing and often critiqued dualism of formalised and informalised practices in urban planning and infrastructure delivery Using an innovative perspective the book addresses this issue by focusing on the complex configurations in which both forms always co exist and compete as powerful social constructs It unveils the juxtaposition simultaneity dependency and intertwining of in formalised practices and highlights the relevance of this perspective to better understand urban development especially in the global South At the same time the book focuses on secondary cities of Ghana and Peru that are often overlooked in the existing literature but play a relevant role in global urbanisation quantitatively and qualitatively In offering a comparative perspective on two very diverse geographical contexts ten empirical studies are framed by a conceptualisation of Hybrid Urbanisms and a concluding systematisation of perspectives on this central aspect of urban development Taken together this volume make an innovative contribution on how to produce new and more diverse urban theories of cities of the global South This book is essential for scholars students and practitioners in the fields of urban planning urban studies infrastructure studies and international cooperation alike In addition it will be of interest to those in the fields of urban sociology public policy urban geography and development studies This publication was supported by funds from the Publication Fund for Open Access Monographs of the Federal State of Brandenburg Germany and by the Faculty of Architecture Civil Engineering and Urban Planning of Brandenburg University of Technology Cottbus Senftenberg      A Political Space Warren

Magnusson,Karena Shaw,2002      Making a Place for Community Thad Williamson,David Imbroscio,Gar Alperovitz,2014-06-03 When pundits refer to the death of community they are speaking of a number of social ills which include but are not limited to the general increase in isolation and cynicism of our citizens widespread concerns about declining political participation and membership in civic organizations and periodic outbursts of small town violence Making a Place for Community argues that this death of community is being caused by contemporary policies that if not changed will continue to foster the decline of community Increased capital flow between nations is not at the root of the problem however increased capital flow within our nation is Small towns shouldn t have to hope for a prison to open nearby and downtown centers shouldn t sit empty as suburban sprawl encroaches but they do and it s a result of widely agreed upon public policies

Fin de Millénaire Budapest Judit Bodnar,2001 Fin de Millenaire Budapest combines historical narratives and ethnographic accounts with quantitative evidence to create a detailed picture of a city subjected to the forces of great local and global change In the privatizing of public space the decline of manufacturing the rapid growth of services and the opening of opportunities for entrepreneurs Bodnar captures global urban patterns with a distinct central European accent In particular she shows tensions between the liberating and fragmenting effects of the increasingly private use of urban space and some ways in which the new urban patterns both resemble and transcend cultural patterns from Budapest s socialist past BOOK JACKET      The British National Bibliography Arthur James Wells,2000
