Second Language Practice:

Principles and Practice in Second Language Acquisition Stephen D. Krashen, 1982 The present volume examines the relationship between second language practice and what is known about the process of second language acquisition summarising the current state of second language acquisition theory drawing general conclusions about its application to methods and materials and describing what characteristics effective materials should have The author concludes that a solution to language teaching lies not so much in expensive equipment exotic new methods or sophisticated language analysis but rather in the full utilisation of the most important resources native speakers of the language in real communication

Reading in a Second Language William Grabe, 2009 Abstract

Revisiting the Assessment of Second Language Abilities: From Theory to Practice Sahbi Hidri, 2018-01-12 This book presents an overview of revisiting the assessment of language abilities It also showcases how the measurement of such constructs can result in negative or positive washback and how outcomes might be conducive to repercussions that decide on the future of many stakeholders The 23 chapters were selected among tens of chapters received from different contexts that addressed the issue of revisiting the assessment of language abilities such as Tunisia Ukraine Algeria Russia KSA Sudan Egypt Canada Kurdistan UK USA Iran Turkey etc These contexts have highlighted the necessity to revisit the different constructs which should be assessed with a clear and straightforward foundation on students learning objectives and their actual language ability To do so most of the chapters present hands on use of relevant statistical tests that might serve in revisiting the construct definition both theoretically and operationally Perhaps the sole and intricate question that the authors of these contributions ask is what it means to revisit the assessment of the construct of individualized language ability and how In addition the book accentuates the momentousness and significance of reflecting on test fairness and validation as the mainspring and backbone for democratization of assessment This book appeals to a broad readership such as English Language Teaching ELT practitioners language teachers students testing organizations policy makers test designers writers of test specifications testing experts researchers program evaluators especially in the Middle East and North Africa MENA as well as other international contexts

Examining Listening Ardeshtir Geranpayeh, Lynda B. Taylor, 2013-03-27 This volume examines the nature of second language listening proficiency and how it can be assessed The book highlights the need for test developers to provide a clear explication of the ability constructs which underpin the tests they offer in the public domain This is increasingly necessary if claims about the validity of test score interpretation and use are to be supported both logically and with empirical evidence It operationalises a comprehensive test validation framework which adopts a socio cognitive perspective The framework embraces six core components examining and then analysing Cambridge ESOL listening tasks from the following perspectives Test Taker Cognitive Validity Context Validity Scoring Validity Criterion related Validity and Consequential Validity

Proceedings of the Eleventh International Conference on Languages and Arts (ICLA 2022) Havid Ardi, M. Affandi Arianto, Muhammad Adek, Dini Faisal, Uswatul Hakim, 2023-11-24 This is an open access book Industrial Revolution 4.0 is a global acceleration era in creating a masterpiece to accelerate economic achievement in a country This era is a challenge for all of us particularly in the field of language literature arts and education In order to respond this challenge creative industry should take and play important role to bring benefit for our country For this purpose the 11th International Conference on Language and Arts ICLA 11 invites researchers teachers lecturers and students to come as presenters or participants This year theme is Current Issues in Collaborative Learning and Digital Technology in Languages and Arts Resources in Education, 2000-04 The Role of Pedagogical Translation in Second Language Acquisition Vanessa Leonardi, 2010 Translation can help improve foreign language teaching and learning this study shows how In an increasingly globalised world and in an increasingly multilingual Europe translation plays an important role Significant signs of a new revival of translation in language teaching have become visible as shown by recent literature on applied linguistics This book contributes to this movement embracing both a theoretical and an empirical purpose by integrating viewpoints from Applied Linguistics Translation Studies and Second Language Acquisition In an attempt to show how the use of translation in foreign language classes can help enhance and further improve reading writing speaking and listening skills this work calls for a re evaluation and a rehabilitation of the translation activities in the foreign language classes Forum, 1995 A

Transdisciplinary Approach to International Teaching Assistants Stephen Daniel Looney, Shereen Bhalla, 2019-09-26 North American universities depend on international teaching assistants ITAs as a substantial part of the teaching labor force which has led to the idea of an ITA problem a deficiency model which is framed as a divergence between ITAs linguistic competence and undergraduates and their parents expectations This outdated positioning of ITAs as deficient diminishes the invaluable role they play within the academy This book argues instead for an approach to ITA which recognizes them as multilingual skilled migrant professionals who participate in and are discursively constructed through various participant frameworks modalities and activities The chapters in this volume offer state of the art research into ITA using a variety of methods and approaches and as such constitute a transdisciplinary perspective which argues for the importance of dialogue between research and practice

The Teaching and Acquisition of South Asian Languages Vijay Gambhir, 1995 The first book to apply the latest methodological analysis to the languages of South Asia The Teaching and Acquisition of South Asian Languages provides a much needed examination of learners and their learning patterns language materials and their delivery classroom environments and learning conditions beyond the classroom The contributors accredited researchers and experienced teachers test important universal learning hypotheses on less commonly taught languages and find that those circumstances have significant implications for theory and practice The book brings into focus a variety of issues related to linguistic theory second language acquisition research non verbal communication discourse appropriateness learner variation and strategies for developing speaking listening and reading skills It is also a valuable addition to the general body of knowledge in the field of adult language acquisition A carefully prepared index and an extensive bibliography covering both the South Asian field and general literature enhance the book s usefulness as a reference guide

Parallel Text Processing Jean Véronis, 2013-03-14 | This book evolved from the ARCADE evaluation exercise that started in 1995 The project s goal is to evaluate alignment systems for parallel texts i e texts accompanied by their translation Thirteen teams from various places around the world have participated so far and for the first time some ten to fifteen years after the first alignment techniques were designed the community has been able to get a clear picture of the behaviour of alignment systems Several chapters in this book describe the details of competing systems and the last chapter is devoted to the description of the evaluation protocol and results The remaining chapters were especially commissioned from researchers who have been major figures in the field in recent years in an attempt to address a wide range of topics that describe the state of the art in parallel text processing and use As I recalled in the introduction the Rosetta stone won eternal fame as the prototype of parallel texts but such texts are probably almost as old as the invention of writing Nowadays parallel texts are electronic and they are becoming an increasingly important resource for building the natural language processing tools needed in the multilingual information society that is currently emerging at an incredible speed Applications are numerous and they are expanding every day multilingual lexicography and terminology machine and human translation cross language
