Second Language Proficiency Assessment Current Issues Language In Education 70:

Researching Pedagogic Tasks Martin Bygate, Peter Skehan, Merrill Swain, 2013-12-02 Researching Pedagogic Tasks brings together a series of empirical studies into the use of pedagogical tasks for second language learning with a view to better understanding the structure of tasks their impact on students and their use by teachers The volume starts with an introduction to the background and key issues in the topic area and is then organised into three sections the first section focuses on the language and learning of students on tasks the second on the use of tasks in the language classroom the third on the use of tasks for language testing Each section begins with a succinct section introduction and the volume concludes with an afterword relating the theme of the volume to issues in curriculum development The chapters include both experimental and qualitative approaches to the topic some providing original accounts of specific studies others offering overviews of linked series of studies Applied Language Learning, 2017 The Routledge Handbook of Language Program Development and Administration Alan V. Brown, Cori Crane, Beatrice C. Dupuy, Estela Ene, 2025-06-30 Second language program development and administration is a long standing area within the larger field of applied linguistics In many ways it is the quintessential applied linguistics field as it crosses disciplinary boundaries while balancing the rigors of scholarly inquiry with the demands of practical application without losing sight of concrete learner outcomes The Routledge Handbook of Language Program Development and Administration provides a scholarly rigorous yet practically relevant treatment of issues implicated in program development and administration with 52 chapters written by leading scholars in the field Authors not only address the theoretical underpinnings of their respective topics but also provide actionable evidence based recommendations concerning eminently practical matters In this way the volume provides both novice and experienced language program administrators with important guidance on how to think about the work that they do and how best to go about it while also validating language program administration as a scholarly area of inquiry The Routledge Handbook of Language Program Development and Administration is essential reading for practicing second language program administrators at the post secondary level in service and pre service second language instructors graduate students in applied linguistics and even upper level undergraduate education students considering second language teaching as a future career Second Language Attrition in Japanese Contexts Lynne Hansen, 1999 This volume introduces the study of language attrition the forgetting of language In this first collection devoted to second language attrition the contributors focus on contexts of loss where Japanese is either the attriting language or the replacing language Bringing together research to substantiate previous hypotheses in the field this book offers new theoretical and practical insights for those interested in language change Applied Language Learning, 1991 Resources in Education, 1998 Modelling and Assessing Second Language Acquisition Kenneth Hyldenstam, Manfred Pienemann, 1985 This book forms an invaluable reference work for all teachers of second languages and researchers in the field of L2 acquisition It discusses the contribution that modern research into L2 acquisition makes to the curriculum development process It also provides the reader with arguments for and against the various approaches to teaching Language Planning in Primary Schools in Asia Richard Baldauf, Robert Kaplan, Knonko Kamwangamalu, Pauline Bryant, 2013-09-13 In foreign language education decisions must be taken on what languages to teach who will teach them in which schools i e all only urban only rural in which grades the number of hours a week and the cost involved This book explores the answers to these questions across a number of Asian polities It illustrates why some of the efforts undertaken are successful and why some are not why despite significant investments of time and resources some students do not seem to acquire the languages being taught and why some teachers responsible for instruction in the designated foreign languages have problems achieving fluency in the designated language or have other language teaching difficulties It suggests some strategies various polities might attempt to achieve their stated language learning objectives This book was originally published as a special issue of Current Issues in Language Planning
