The Spatial Politics of the Sculptural Euyoung Hong,2016-10-04 Space is a formative factor in the production of sculpture Phenomenological thought interprets sculptural work in relation to the immersive experience of the viewer situating it within its environment But what possibilities lie beyond this unitary position What is the political potential of a sculptural object How can its spatial relations and movements be reconfigured beyond its immediate environment Spatial Politics of the Sculptural investigates the concept of space and its role in the production of the sculptural form from a multidimensional perspective Engaging with the work of Krauss Fried Merleau-Ponty Deleuze and Guattari and using case studies of urban development in Paris New York and Seoul it reinterprets and dislocates the sculptural form in terms of the political dynamism of space proposing a new methodology for reading producing and expanding sculptural practice Drawing on David Harvey's theory of capital it scrutinizes the idea of the spatial in the process of urbanization It examines the interrelationship between capital flow and accumulation and explores the production and destruction of space in relation to the creation of three dimensional works of art In doing so it expands the idea of the sculptural object in relation to the urban environment

Cities Beyond Borders Nicolas Kenny,Rebecca Madgin,2016-05-23 Drawing on a body of research covering primarily Europe and the Americas but stretching also to Asia and Africa from the mid eighteenth century to the present this book explores the methodological and heuristic implications of studying cities in relation to one another Moving fluidly between comparative and transnational methods as well as across regional and national lines the contributors to this volume demonstrate the necessity of this broader view in assessing not just the fundamentals of urban life the way cities are occupied and organised on a daily basis but also the urban mindscape the way cities are imagined and represented In doing so the volume provides valuable insights into the advantages and limitations of using multiple cities to form historical inquiries

The Buddha-Christ as the Lord of the True Self Fritz Buri,1997 This translation of a 1982 volume published in Bern Paul Haupt Verlag by a Swiss theologian with a longstanding interest in dialogue between Buddhism and Christianity features an examination of the Kyoto school of Japanese philosophers who attempted to engage with both Christianity and secular Wes

Black, White, and in Color Hortense J. Spillers,2003-04-28 Black White and in Color offers a long awaited collection of major essays by Hortense Spillers one of the most influential and inspiring black critics of the past twenty years Spanning her work from the early 1980s in which she pioneered a broadly poststructuralist approach to African American literature and extending through her turn to cultural studies in the 1990s these essays display her passionate commitment to reading as a fundamentally political act one pivotal to rewriting the humanist project Spillers is best known for her race centered revision of psychoanalytic theory and for her subtle account of the relationships between race and gender She has also given literary criticism some of its most powerful readings of individual authors represented here in seminal essays on Ralph Ellison Gwendolyn Brooks and William Faulkner Ultimately the essays collected in Black White and in Color all share Spillers s signature style heady eclectic and astonishingly productive of new ideas Anyone interested in African American culture and literature will want to read them
