Second Thoughts About Barths Models:

Second Thoughts about Barth's Models Robert Paine, 1970 Factory Women in Taiwan Lydia Kung, 1994 An important study of Taiwan's first generation of working women documenting their and their families' views of their employment and the effects that wage earning has on the status and lives of these women The Philippine Temptation Epifanio San Juan, 1996 In this incisive and polemical book E. San Juan Jr, the leading authority on Philippines U.S. literary studies, goes beyond fashionable postcolonial theory to bring to our attention the complex history of Philippines U.S. literary interactions. In sharp contrast to other works on the subject, the author presents Filipino literary production within the context of a long and sustained tradition of anti-imperialist insurgency and foregrounds the strong presence of oppositional writing in the Philippines. After establishing the historical context of U.S. intervention and Filipino resistance, San Juan examines the work of two very significant writers. The first, Carlos Bulosan, a journalist and union activist, became in the author's words, a tribune of the people. Bulosan's writings, which combine critique and prophecy, do not allow us to forget the atrocities inflicted on the Filipino people. The other, Jos Garcia Villa, lapsed into premature obscurity on account of the complexity of his writings about the Filipino predicament. Read through San Juan's eyes, these writers are revealed as multifaceted thinkers and activists, not stereotypical ethnic artists. San Juan goes beyond literary studies and contemporary debates about nationalism and politics to point the way to a new direction in radical transformative writing. He uncovers hidden agendas in many previous accounts of U.S. Philippine relations, and this book exemplifies how best to combine activist scholarship with historically grounded cultural commentary. Author note: E. San Juan Jr is Fellow of the Center for the Humanities and Visiting Professor of English, Wesleyan University, and Director of the Philippines Cultural Studies Center. He was recently chair of the Department of Comparative American Cultures, Washington University, and Professor of Ethnic Studies at Bowling Green State University, Ohio. He received the 1999 Centennial Award for Literature from the Philippines Cultural Center. His most recent books are Beyond Postcolonial Theory: From Exile to Diaspora, After Postcolonialism and Racism and Cultural Studies. Symbolising Boundaries Anthony Paul Cohen, 1986 Anthropology and Politics Joan Vincent, 2022-08-16 In considering how anthropologists have chosen to look at and write about politics, Joan Vincent contends that the anthropological study of politics is itself a historical process. Intended not only as a representation but also as a reinterpretation, her study arises from questioning accepted views and unexamined assumptions. This wide-ranging cross-disciplinary work is a critical review of the anthropological study of politics in the English-speaking world from 1879 to the present, a counterpoint of text and context that describes for each of three eras both what anthropologists have said about politics and the national and international events that have shaped their interests and concerns. It is also an account of how intellectual, social, and political conditions influenced the discipline by conditioning both anthropological inquiry and the avenues of research supported by universities and governments. Finally, it is a study of the politics of anthropology itself.

San Juan Jr., 1995-03-30 In Part One the author examines what is at stake in the complex relations between theory and practice in exchanges involving Paul de Man Mikhail Bakhtin Georg Lukács Bertolt Brecht Walter Benjamin Antonio Gramsci and others In Part Two San Juan focuses on the materialist aesthetics of Louis Althusser and Pierre Macherey examining their resonance in a Hemingway novel and in the poetry of Hugh MacDiarmid In Part Three the author conducts an appraisal of James Baldwin's worldview the textualization of the Asian diaspora in the United States and the interface between postmodern themes and postcolonial sensibilities The ultimate project of the author is to envision the emergence of a new field called world cultural studies from a radical Third World perspective The transition from Western hegemony to the transformative oppositional inquiry of Others epitomizes the itinerary of San Juan's exploration of the discipline once called litterae humaniores but now reconceived as the praxis of critical transgressions Social Identity Richard Jenkins, 2004-08-02 Without social identity there is no human world Without frameworks of similarity and difference people would be unable to relate to each other in a consistent and meaningful fashion In the second edition of this highly successful text Richard Jenkins develops his argument that identity is both individual and collective and should therefore be considered within one analytic framework Using the work of major social theorists such as Mead Goffman and Barthes to explore the experience of identity in everyday life Jenkins considers a range of different issues including embodiment categorization and boundaries the institutionalizing of identities identity and modernity and the significance of identity in modernity Fredrik Barth Thomas Hylland Eriksen, 2015-04-20 Fredrik Barth is one of the towering figures of twentieth

Reckoning Millard Schumaker, 2006-01-01 Sharing without Reckoning is the first full scale treatment of the ancient and persistent distinction between perfect and imperfect rights and duties It examines the use of the distinction in jurisprudential philosophical and religious material from Classical times until the present proposes a connection between imperfect right and the norms of reciprocity as that complex set of ideas has been developed in anthropology and sociology and argues that contemporary understanding of the nature of morality and of moral reasoning would be well served by the reintroduction of this traditional doctrine This enlightening study includes a notable chapter reassessing the role of imperfect obligation in the thought of Immanuel Kant portraying a kinder and gentler Kant Concluding by elaborating ways in which concepts such as love justice and the boundary between law and morality might be reconstructed taking the fact of imperfect right seriously this work will serve as a key reference for scholars interested in the complex question of perfect and imperfect rights and duties
