Secret From The Deep:

Legal Secrets Kim Lane Scheppelle, 1988 Does the seller of a house have to tell the buyer that the water is turned off twelve hours a day Does the buyer of a great quantity of tobacco have to inform the seller that the military blockade of the local port which had depressed tobacco sales and lowered prices is about to end Courts say yes in the first case no in the second How can we understand the difference in judgments And what does it say about whether the psychiatrist should disclose to his patient's girlfriend that the patient wants to kill her Kim Lane Scheppelle answers the question Which secrets are legal secrets and what makes them so She challenges the economic theory of law which argues that judges decide cases in ways that maximize efficiency and she shows that judges use equality as an important principle in their decisions In the course of thinking about secrets Scheppelle also explores broader questions about judicial reasoning how judges find meaning in legal texts and how they infuse every fact summary with the values of their legal culture Finally the specific insights about secrecy are shown to be consistent with a general moral theory of law that indicates what the content of law should be if the law is to be legitimate a theory that sees legal justification as the opportunity to attract consent This is more than a book about secrets It is also a book about the limits of an economic view of law Ultimately it is a work in constructive legal theory one that draws on moral philosophy sociology economics and political theory to develop a new view of legal interpretation and legal morality

Memorial ed William Cullen Bryant, 1880 The Video Source Book David J. WEINER, 1990 Hijacking of the American Presidency Assad R. Wright, 2016-09-29

In the stunning novel Hijacking of the American Presidency, a disaffected faction of a major evangelical religious group seeks to put its own man in the White House, allowing it the ability to launch a preemptive nuclear strike on nations believed to be the future enemy of America. To accomplish this, they are willing to assassinate political figures, including the sitting president. Disillusioned and fed up with what they consider the Twiddle Dum Twiddle Dee syndrome of Washington politics, which has led to a never-ending dysfunctionality and the erosion of America's ethical and moral foundation, this ultra-conservative splinter group has picked the perfect candidate for the White House. The group is prepared to subvert the Constitution of the United States and assassinate anyone in its way to achieve its divine mandate. In a plot that includes the manipulation of the nation's leading scientists in nano technology, the subversives plan to deliver time-delayed poisons to those in opposition. Faced with such an unprecedented threat, the religious unit of the Department of Homeland Security Anti-Terrorism Task Force has been called on to thwart the plot.
