Spies in the Congo Susan Williams, 2016-08-09 In the 1940s the brightest minds of the United States and Nazi Germany raced to West Africa with a single mission to secure the essential ingredient of the atomic bomb and to make sure nobody saw them doing it Albert Einstein told President Franklin D Roosevelt in 1939 that the world s only supply of uniquely high quality uranium ore the key ingredient for bomb could be found in the Katanga province of the Belgian Congo at the Shinkolobwe Mine Once the US Manhattan Project was committed to developing atomic weapons for the war against Germany and Japan the rush to procure this uranium became a top priority one deemed vital to the welfare of the United States But covertly exporting it from Africa posed a major risk the ore had to travel via a spy infested Angolan port or 1 500 miles by rail through the Congo and then be shipped by boats or Pan Am Clippers to safety in the United States It could be poached or smuggled at any point on the orders of Nazi Germany To combat that threat the US Office of Strategic Services sent in a team of intrepid spies led by Wilbur Owings Dock Hogue to be America's eyes and ears and to protect its most precious and destructive cargo Packed with newly discovered details from American and British archives this is the gripping true story of the unsung heroism of a handful of good men and one woman in colonial Africa who risked their lives in the fight against fascism and helped deny Hitler his atomic bomb
