Secret Spaces Of Childhood:

Secret Spaces of Childhood Elizabeth N. Goodenough, 2010-03-23 Whether it's real or imaginary every child has a secret space and this remarkable book explores them all. For some it's a treehouse or a hidden spot beneath a bush; for others it's a private psychic refuge, a favorite book, or a dollhouse that becomes a stage for a young imagination. As the more than four dozen pieces collected here reveal, such spaces play a key role in a child's development and retain a symbolic power that resonates throughout our adult lives. No reader will put this book down without experiencing a rush of familiar memories and new insights into that bygone world. Poet Diane Ackerman evokes that parallel universe behind the eyes which no one shared or dare discover. Paul Brodeur recalls the fort where he and his brother defended Cape Cod against invaders in World War II. Nobelist Wole Soyinka offers a poignant verse portrait of Africa's lost children, and Paul West remembers youthful encounters with his eccentric neighbors Edith and Osbert Sitwell. Elsewhere Robert Coles summons up memories of his first years as a doctor, and a wise young patient who taught him a lesson he has never forgotten, and Mary Galbraith shows how childhood loss is transformed into art in Ludwig Bemelmans's classic Madeline. And these are just a few of the gems in a treasury that includes Anne Frank, the controversial photographs of Sally Mann, and the crudely eloquent drawings of young South African refugees, clinical case studies, and profoundly personal imagery. A perceptive, thought-provoking work for general readers. Secret Spaces of Childhood opens a wonderful window on the world of the young. Elizabeth Goodenough is Lecturer in Comparative Literature, the Residential College, University of Michigan.

Wild Things Sidney I. Dobrin, Kenneth B. Kidd, 2004

Liminal Spaces in Children's and Young Adult Literature Mark I. West, 2024-03-12

Scholars in the field of children's literature studies began taking an interest in the concept of liminal spaces around the turn of the 21st century. For the first time, Liminal Spaces in Children's and Young Adult Literature: Stories from the In Between brings together in one volume a collection of original essays on this topic by leading children's literature scholars. The contributors in this collection take a wide variety of approaches to their explorations of liminal spaces in children's and young adult literature. Some discuss how children's books portray the liminal nature of physical spaces, such as the children's room in a library. Others deal with more abstract portrayals, such as the imaginary space where Max goes to escape the reality of his bedroom in Maurice Sendak's Where the Wild Things Are. All of the contributors, however, provide keen insights into how liminal spaces figure in children's and young adult literature.

Containing Childhood Danielle Russell, 2022-11-29 Contributions by Miranda A Green Barteet Kathleen Kellett Andrew McInnes Joyce McPherson Rebecca Mills Cristina Rivera Wendy Rountree Danielle Russell Anah Jayne Samuelson Sonya Sawyer Fritz Andrew Trevarrow and Richardine Woodall Home School Nature The spaces

children occupy both physically and imaginatively are never neutral. Instead, they carry social, cultural, and political histories that impose or attempt to impose behavioral expectations. Moreover, the spaces identified with childhood reflect and reveal adult expectations of where children belong. The essays in Containing Childhood: Space and Identity in Children's Literature explore the multifaceted and dynamic nature of space as well as the relationship between space and identity in children's literature. Contributors to the volume address such questions as: What is the nature of that relationship? What happens to the spaces associated with childhood over time? How do children conceptualize and lay claim to their own spaces? The book features essays on popular and lesser-known children's fiction from North America and Great Britain, including works like The Hate U Give, His Dark Materials, The Giver quartet, and Shadowshaper. Adopting a multidisciplinary approach in their analysis, contributors draw upon varied scholarly areas such as philosophy, race, class, and gender studies, among others. Without reducing the issues to any singular theory or perspective, each piece provides insight into specific treatments of space in specific periods of time, thereby affording scholars a greater appreciation of the diverse spatial patterns in children's literature.
