Secrets And Puzzles Silence And The Unsaid In Contemporary Italian Writing:

Secrets and Puzzles Nicoletta Simborowski, 2017 Secrets and Puzzles Nicoletta Simborowski, 2017-12-02 Four major Italian writers raised in the shadow of fascism Cesare Pavese Primo Levi Natalia Ginzburg and Francesca Sanvitale are the focus of this examination of the unsaid in modern Italian narrative Post war and free of official censorship these writers nonetheless show signs of constraint and omission in their work Are the gaps a form of concealment In this lucid and wide ranging study which embraces key areas of modern literary investigation Holocaust writing political guilt autobiography feminism and film theory the author addresses the question of self censorship and traces its course in contemporary Italian writing

Strategies of Silence Moy McCrory, Simon Heywood, 2021-02-25 This unique book takes silence as its central concept and questions the range of meanings and values which inform the idea as it impinges on the creative process and its content and contexts The thematic core of silence allows a consideration of silencing and silence as opposite ends of a spectrum one shutting down the other enabling and opening up As a multidisciplinary collection of essays derived from the teaching and implementation of Creative Writing at university level the contributors consider silence as strategic both through the need for silence and as something which compels resistance They explore how writing has employed images and tropes of silence in the past and used silence and gaps technically In considering marginalised and forgotten voices this book shows how writers bring their diverse range of backgrounds and experience to work with and against silence in Creative Writing Studies The first theoretical work on silence in Creative Writing this field shifting book is an essential read for both practitioners and students of Creative Writing at the higher education level

The Italian Literature of the Axis War Guido Bartolini, 2021-04-11 This book investigates the representation of the Axis War the wars of aggression that Fascist Italy fought in North Africa Greece the Soviet Union and the Balkans from 1940 to 1943 in three decades of Italian literature Building on an innovative and interdisciplinary methodology which combines memory studies historiography thematic criticism and narratology this book explores the main topoi themes and masterplots of an extensive corpus of novels and memoirs to assess the contribution of literature to the reshaping of Italian memory and identity after the end of Fascism By exploring the influence that public memory exercises on literary depictions and in return the contribution of literary texts to the formation and dissemination of a discourse about the past the book examines to what extent Italian literature helped readers form an ethical awareness of the crimes committed by members of their national community during World War II

It's Silence, Soundly John McGreal, 2016-04-21 It's Silence Soundly It's Nothing Seriously and It's Absence Presently continue The It Series published by Matador since The Book of It 2010 They constitute another stage in an artistic journey exploring the visual and audial dialectic of mark word and image that began over 25 years ago In their aesthetic form the books are a decentred trilogy united together in a new concept of The Bibliograph All three present this new aesthetic object which transcends the narrow limits of the academic bibliography The alphabetical works also share a tripartite structure and identical length The Bibliograph itself is characterised by its strategic place within each book as a whole as well as by the complex variations in meaning of the dominant motifs nothingness absence and silence which recur throughout the alphabetical entries that constitute the elements of each text It's Nothing Seriously for example addresses the amusing paradox that so much continues to be written today about nothing The aleatory character of the entries in the texts encourage the modern reader to reflect on each theme and to read them in a new way The reader is invited as well to examine their various intertextual relations across given conventional boundaries in the arts and sciences at several levels of physical psychical social reproduction

Disrupted Narratives Emma Bond, 2017-07-05 If Madame Bovary's death in Flaubert's 1857 novel marked the definitive end of the Romantic vision of literary disease then the advent of psychoanalysis less than half a century later heralded an entirely new set of implications for literature dealing with illness The theorization of a potential unconscious double capable of expressing the body and thus also the intimate damage caused by disease in turn suggested a capacity to subvert or destabilize the text exposing the main thread of the narrative to be unreliable or self-conscious Indeed the authors examined in this study Italo Svevo 1861-1928 Giorgio Pressburger 1937 and Giuliana Morandini 1938 all make use of individual infected or suppressed voices within their texts which unfold through illness to cast doubt on a more conventionally dominant narrative standpoint Applying the theories of Freud and more recent writings by Julia Kristeva Bond offers a new critical reading of the literary function of illness a function related to the very nature of narration itself

Race and Narrative in Italian Women's Writing Since Unification Melissa Coburn, 2013-07-29 Race as Narrative in Italian Women's Writing Since Unification explores racist ideas and critiques of racism in four long narratives by female authors Grazia Deledda Matilde Serao Natalia Ginzburg and Gabriella Ghermandi who wrote in Italy after national unification Starting from the premise that race is a political and socio-historical construction Melissa Coburn makes the argument that race is also a narrative construction This is true in that many narratives have contributed to the historical construction of the idea of race it is also true in that the concept of race metaphorically reflects certain formal qualities of narration Coburn demonstrates that at least four sets of qualities are common among narratives and central to the development of race discourse intertextuality the processes of characterization plot and tropes the tension between the projections of individual group and universal identities and the processes of identification and otherness These four sets of qualities become organizing principles of the four sequential chapters paralleling a sequential focus on the four different narrative authors The juxtaposition of these close contextualized readings demonstrates salient continuities and discontinuities within race discourse over the period examined revealing subtleties in the historical record overlooked by previous studies

Natalia Ginzburg's Global Legacies Stilian Milkova Rousseva, Saskia Elizabeth Ziolkowski, 2024-06-18 Offering comparative and interdisciplinary approaches to Natalia Ginzburg this volume situates Ginzburg's works within major critical discourses to articulate innovative readings and mobilize further lines of inquiry The first section World Literature and World Making uses translation practices world literature and transnational studies to theorize the growing popularity of Ginzburg The second section Female Bodies Voices and Gazes draws on gender and queer studies speech act theory intersectional feminism and media studies to begin to address gaps in Ginzburg scholarship The last section Identity Topography and Forms approaches Ginzburg through the lenses of trauma studies topography novel and essay studies and Jewish identity Natalia Ginzburg's Global Legacies both makes available in English important Italian research and builds on significant international discourses In bridging Italian and Anglophone scholarship the volume engages students and scholars of Comparative and Italian literature world literature and women's writing as well as general readers of Ginzburg

Authorial Echoes Catherine O'Rawe, 2005 Pirandello is known for his plays but his narrative production hasn't enjoyed the same degree of attention This study represents a reassessment of this output including the realist novels the historical novel I vecchi e i giovani and the autobiographical Suo marito

Arduous Tasks Lina N Insana, 2009-05-22 One of twentieth century Italy's greatest thinkers Primo Levi 1919-1987 started reflecting on the Holocaust almost immediately after his return home from the year he survived in Auschwitz Levi's powerful Holocaust testimonials reveal his preoccupation with processes of translation in the form of both embedded and book length renderings of texts relevant to Holocaust survival In Arduous Tasks Lina N Insana demonstrates how translation functions as a metaphor for the transmission of Holocaust testimony and broadens the parameters of survivor testimony The first book to study Levi and translation Arduous Tasks overcomes the conventional views of the separation between his own personal memoirs and his translations by stressing the centrality of translation in Levi's entire corpus Examining not only the testimonial nature of his work Insana also discusses the transgressive and performative aspects of transmission in his writings Arduous Tasks is a superb and innovative study on the importance of translation not only to Levi but also to Holocaust studies in general

Mobility, Agency, Kinship Lea Espinoza Garrido, Carolin Gebauer, Julia Wewior, 2024-08-22 This volume offers new perspectives on the ways in which migrants use storytelling practices and kinship formations in order to navigate and modify spaces of sovereignty and thus to re-write narratives portraying them as helpless and passive victims It provides one of the first investigations that assembles multidisciplinary contributions to look beyond individual acts of migrant agency and toward the entanglements of individual and collective agency formations of kinship structures and feelings expressions and representations of community and multiple belonging's The contributions explore the interplay between agency kinship and migration from various fields including sociology psychology philosophy border studies gender and queer studies postcolonial studies ecocriticism film and media studies and literary and cultural studies with a special focus on interdisciplinary narrative theory They address real and imagined assertions of migrant agency and kinship formations draw on empirical research interviews and accounts of lived experiences and analyze the role of narrative media and technologies in artistic literary and cinematic representations of migrant agency and kinship By probing migrant identity discourses in different cultural and medial contexts the contributions examine how narratives negotiate and challenge the unequal distribution of mobility resources and vulnerability that preconfigures many migrant lives they also discuss narrative devices storytelling techniques and other representational strategies that migrants employ as well as technologies that they draw on to lay powerful claims on space and citizenship and to eschew established scripts of victimhood As such the volume addresses and embraces the tensions between vulnerability and agency that come to the fore when we try to understand the different ways in which migrants shape and are shaped by their trans local material economic affective social cultural and political realities
