Abou-Saleh, Cornelius L. E. Katona, Anand Kumar, 2011-07-28 The renowned Principles and Practice of Geriatric Psychiatry now in its third edition addresses the social and biological concepts of geriatric mental health from an international perspective Featuring contributions by distinguished authors from around the world the book offers a distinctive angle on issues in this continually developing discipline Principles and Practice of Geriatric Psychiatry provides a comprehensive review of geriatric psychiatry spanning both psychiatric and non psychiatric disorders scientific advances in service development specific clinical dilemmas New chapters on genetics of aging somatoform disorders epidemiology of substance abuse somatoform disorders care of the dying patient Continuing the practice of earlier editions the major sections of the book address aging diagnosis and assessment and clinical conditions incorporating an engaging discussion on substance abuse and schizophrenic disorders Shorter sections include the presentation of mental illness in elderly people from different cultures one of the most popular sections in previous editions Learning and behavioural studies as well as models of geriatric psychiatry practice are covered extensively This book provides a detailed overview of the entire range of mental illness in old age presented within an accessible format Principles and Practice of Geriatric Psychiatry is an essential read for psychiatrists geriatricians neurologists and psychologists It is of particular use for instructors of general psychiatry programs and their residents Long-term Care After Olmstead United States Senate, Special Committee on Aging (senate), United States Congress, 2020-03-11 Long term care after Olmstead aging and disability groups seek common ground hearing before the Special Committee on Aging United States Senate One Hundred Seventh Congress first session Washington DC September 24 2001 Disability and Community Living Policies Arie Rimmerman, 2017-07-14 This book provides a comprehensive analysis of the roots of institutionalization deinstitutionalization legislation and policies of the twentieth century and twenty first century efforts to promote community living policies domestically and internationally particularly through the role of the United Nations Convention on the Rights of Persons with Disabilities UNCRPD a landmark treaty adopted on 13 December 2006 Rimmerman shows that deinstitutionalization and community living cannot be examined only in terms of the number of institutions closed but also through the substantial change in values legislation and policies supporting personalization as well as the social participation of people with disabilities The book includes a significant exploration of United States legislation and important Supreme Court decisions compared with European policies toward community living Finally it discusses the importance of Articles 12 and 19 of the convention and demonstrates the case of Israel that has used the convention as a road map for proposing a new community living policy

Long-Term Care U. S. Government Accountability Office (,2013-06 In the Olmstead case the Supreme Court decided that states were violating title II of the Americans with Disabilities Act of 1990 ADA if they provided care to disabled people in institutional settings when they could be appropriately served in a home or community based setting Considerable attention has focused on the decision s implications for Medicaid the dominant public program supporting long term care institutional home and community based services Although Medicaid spending for home and community based service is growing these are largely optional benefits that states may or may not choose to offer and states vary widely in the degree to which they cover them The implications of the Olmstead decision in terms of the scope and the nature of states obligation to provide home and community based long term care services are still unfolding Although the Supreme Court ruled that providing care in institutional settings may violate the ADA it also recognized that there are limits to what states can do given the available resources and the obligation to provide a range of services for disabled people The decision left many open questions for states and lower courts to resolve State programs also may be influenced over time as dozens of lawsuits and hundreds of formal complaints seeking access to appropriate services are resolved on Aging, 2004 Pratt's Long-Term Care: Managing Across the Continuum Steven Chies, 2020-10-01 Covering the full spectrum of long term care Pratt's Long Term Care Managing Across the Continuum Fifth Edition is an ideal introduction to management in this dynamic industry Concise yet complete it begins with a look at recent changes in long term care and health care reform before examining the various long term care providers and their interaction with competition payment systems quality and ethical issues It moves on to explore managing in the long term care system looking at administration leadership culture change technology and community relations and concludes with a look at future trends and managing continuing change The Fifth Edition is a comprehensive revision reflecting new Federal Requirements of Participation from CMS for skilled nursing facilities and changes the Medicare fee for service payment system PDPM It also addresses the Affordable Care Act and its impact on long term care as well as the growth of technology in care and more Commission on Long-Term Care Report to the Congress, September 30, 2013 Commission on Long-Term Care, 2013-10-23 The Commission on Long Term Care was established under Section 643 of American Taxpayer Relief Act of 2012 P L 112 240 signed into law January 2 2013 The Commission was established with 15 members Three members each were appointed by the President of the United States the majority leader of the Senate the minority leader of the Senate the Speaker of the House of Representatives and the minority leader of the House of Representatives The Commission elected Dr Bruce Chernof as its Chair and Dr Mark Warshawsky as its Vice Chair The statute directed the Commission to develop a plan for the establishment implementation and financing of a comprehensive coordinated and high quality system that ensures the availability of long term services and supports for individuals in need of such services and supports including elderly individuals individuals with substantial cognitive or functional limitations other individuals who require assistance to perform activities of daily living and individuals desiring to plan for future long term care needs The statute further directed the Commission within 6 months of the appointment of Commissioners by September 12 2013 to vote on a comprehensive and detailed report based on the long term care plan described above that contains any recommendations or proposals for legislative or administrative action as the Commission deems appropriate including proposed legislative language to carry out the recommendations or proposals Ethics, Law, and Aging Review, Volume 11 Marshall B. Kapp, 2005-09-01 We are now engaged in a movement that de-emphasizes the reliance on institutional forms of long term care for disabled persons needing ongoing daily living assistance and converges on the use of non institutional service providers and residential settings In this latest edition of Ethics Law and Aging Review Kapp and ten expert contributors help us examine the forces and potential for changing the long term care industry both positively and negatively and address this paradigm shift from the impersonal public psychiatric institutions of the 1960s and 1970s to the present day assisted living environments that have been fueled by economic social political and legal forces Most importantly this volume identifies obstacles to change and enlighten service providers advocates and key policy makers to the pitfalls that can largely interfere with positive outcomes as a result of long term care deinstitutionalization Topics explored include Community based alternatives for older adults with serious mental illness Failing consumer directed alternatives to nursing homes Ethics of Medicare privatization
