Lydian Houses And Architectural Terracottas:

Lydian Houses and Architectural Terracottas Andrew Ramage, 1978 Lydian Architectural Terracottas Eric Hostetter, 1994 Lydian Painted Pottery Abroad R. Gül Gürtekin-Demir, 2021-10-15 This book is the first major study of Lydian material culture at Gordion and also the first published monograph on Lydian painted pottery from any site excavation Richly illustrated it provides a comprehensive definition and analysis of Lydian ceramics based on stylistic archaeological and textual evidence while thoroughly documenting the material's stratigraphic contexts The book situates the ceramic corpus within its broader Anatolian cultural context and offers insights into the impact of Lydian cultural interfaces at Gordion The Lydian pottery found at Gordion was largely produced at centers other than Sardis the Lydian royal capital although Sardian imports are also well attested and began to influence Gordion's material culture as early as the 7th century BCE if not before Following the demise of the Lydian kingdom a more limited repertoire of Lydian ceramics demonstrably continued in use at Gordion into the Achaemenid Persian period in the late 6th and 5th centuries BCE The material was excavated by Professor Rodney Young's team between 1950 and 1973 and is fully presented here for the first time Ongoing research in the decades following Young's excavations has led to a more refined understanding of Gordion's archaeological contexts and chronology and consequently we are now able to view the Lydian ceramic corpus within a more secure stratigraphic framework than would have been the case if the material had been published shortly after the excavations The Archaeology of Anatolia, Volume IV Sharon R. Steadman, Gregory McMahon, 2021-12-13 This fourth volume in the Archaeology of Anatolia series offers reports on the most recent discoveries from across the Anatolian peninsula Periods covered span the Epipalaeolithic to the Medieval Age and sites and regions range from the western Anatolian coast to Van and on to the southeast The breadth and depth of work reported within these pages testifies to the contributors' dedication and love of their work even during a global pandemic period The volume includes reviews of recent work at on going excavations and data retrieved from the last several years of survey projects In addition a State of the Field section offers up to the moment data on specialized fields in Anatolian archaeology Etruria and Anatolia Elizabeth P. Baughan, Lisa C. Pieraccini, 2023-03-09 Striking similarities in Etruscan and Anatolian material culture reveal various forms of contact and exchange between these regions on opposite sides of the Mediterranean This is the first comprehensive investigation of these connections approaching both cultures as agents of artistic exchange rather than as side characters in a Greek focused narrative It synthesizes a wide range of material evidence from c 800-300 BCE from tomb architecture and furniture to painted vases terracotta reliefs and magic amulets By identifying shared practices common visual language and movements of objects and artisans from both east to west and west to east it illuminates many varied threads of the interconnected ancient Mediterranean fabric Rather than trying to account for the similarities with any one overarching theory this volume presents multiple simultaneous modes and implications of connectivity while also recognizing the distinct proceedings of the Sixth International Congress on Black Sea Antiquities Constan a 2017 is dedicated to the 90th birthday of Prof Sir John Boardman President of the Congress since its inception The central theme returns to that considered 20 years earlier the importance of the Pontic Region for the Graeco Roman World Aspects of Empire in Achaemenid Sardis Elspeth R. M. Dussinberre, 2003-04-10 Elspeth R M Dussinberre proposes a fresh approach to understanding the Achaemenid Empire based on her study of the regional capital Sardis This study uses archaeological artistic and textual sources to demonstrate that the two hundred year Persian presence in this city had a profound impact on local social structures revealing the region s successful absorption both ideological and physical into the Persian Empire During this period Sardis was a centre of burgeoning creativity and vitality where a polyethnic elite devised a fresh culture inspired by Iranian Greek and local Lydian traditions that drew on and legitimated imperial ideology The non elite absorbed and adapted multiple aspects of this culture to create a wholly different profile of what it meant to be Sardian As well as successfully bringing together information on the Achaemenids this book is also an excellent contribution to empire studies Mugarnas Oleg

Phrygian Rock-Cut Shrines Susanne Berndt-Ersöz, 2006-11-01 This volume explores the Iron Age Phrygian rock cut monuments in Anatolia and defines their role in religion Among other features this book questions the traditional view of the Mother goddess Kybele being the only Phrygian deity A detailed analysis based on the monuments provides new interpretations and aspects of Phrygian religion the Mother goddess was not alone but rather accompanied by a Superior male god For the first time all known Phrygian rock cut monuments are brought together in this useful corpus with plenty of illustrations It is a unique and significant contribution to the study of Phrygian religion and spatial conceptualization and is useful for those interested in Anatolian culture and archaeology and classical religion and archaeology Structural Studies, Repairs and Maintenance of Heritage Architecture XII C. A. Brebbia, 2011 Architectural heritage is now recognised to be of great importance to the historical identity of a region town or nation In order to take care of that heritage we need to look beyond borders and share experiences and knowledge regarding heritage preservation This book contains papers covering the latest advances in this field presented at the twelfth and latest in a series of now biennial conferences that began in 1989 The series is recognised as the most important conference on the topic It covers such topics as Heritage architecture and historical aspects Regional architecture Preservation of archaeological sites Maritime heritage Heritage masonry buildings Adobe restorations Wooden structures Structural issues and restoration Seismic vulnerability and vibrations Assessment retrofitting and reuse of heritage buildings Surveying and monitoring Material characterisation and problems Simulation and modelling New techniques and materials Non destructive techniques Experimental validation and verification Performance and maintenance Environmental damage Social and economic aspects and Guidelines codes and regulations Deliciae Fictiles V. Networks and Workshops Patricia Lulof, Ilaria Manzini, Carlo Rescigno, 2019-09-16 Temples are the most prestigious buildings in the urban landscape of ancient Italy emerging within a network of centres of the then known Mediterranean world Notwithstanding the fragmentary condition of the buildings remains these monuments and especially their richly decorated roofs are crucial sources of information on the constitution of political social and craft identities acting as agents in displaying the meaning of images The subject of this volume is thematic and includes material from the Eastern Mediterranean including Greece and Turkey Contributors discuss the network between patron elites and specialized craft communities that were responsible for the sophisticated terracotta decoration of temples in Italy between 600 and 100 BC focusing on the mobility of craft people and craft traditions and techniques asking how images iconographies practices and materials can be used to explain the organization of ancient production distribution and consumption Special attention has been given to relations with the Eastern Mediterranean Greece and Anatolia Investigating craft communities workshop organizations and networks has never been thoroughly undertaken for this period and region nor for this exceptionally rich category of materials or for the craftspeople producing the architectural terracottas Papers in this volume aim to improve our understanding of roof production and construction in this period to reveal relationships between main production centres and to study the possible influences of immigrant craftspeople

Valuing the Past in the Greco-Roman World Christoph Pieper, James Ker, 2014-05-28 The classical tradition is no invention of modernity Already in ancient Greece and Rome the privileging of the ancient played a role in social and cultural discourses of every period A collaboration between scholars in diverse areas of classical studies this volume addresses literary and material evidence for ancient notions of valuing or devaluing the deep past from approximately the fifth century BCE until the second century CE It examines how specific communities used notions of antiquity to define themselves or others which models from the past proved most desirable what literary or exegetic modes they employed and how temporal systems for ascribing value intersected with the organization of space the production of narrative or the application of aesthetic criteria

Military Leaders and Sacred Space in Classical Greek Warfare Sonya Nevin, 2016-11-10 The ancient Greeks attributed great importance to the sacred during war and campaigning as demonstrated from their earliest texts Among the first four lines of the Iliad for example is a declaration that Apollo began the feud between Achilles and Agamemnon and sent a plague upon the Greek army because its leader Agamemnon had mistreated Apollo's priest In this first in depth study of the attitude of military commanders towards holy ground Sonya Nevin addresses the customs and conduct of these leaders in relation to sanctuaries precincts shrines temples and sacral objects Focusing on a variety of Greek kings and captains the author shows how military leaders were expected to react to the sacred sites of their foes She further explores how they were likely to respond and how their responses shaped the way such generals were viewed by their communities by their troops by their enemies and also by those like Herodotus Thucydides and Xenophon who were writing their lives This is a groundbreaking study of the significance of the sacred in warfare and the wider culture of antiquity

The Bath-Gymnasium Complex at Sardis Fikret K. Yegül, 1986 The Bath Gymnasium at Sardis is the most important known example of a complex that combines the gymnasium a Greek institution with the Roman bath a unique architectural and cultural embodiment comparable in size and organization to the great Imperial thermae of Rome The restoration by the Harvard Cornell Expedition of the Marble Court or Imperial cult hall provides a rare opportunity to appreciate firsthand the scale and elegance of the major Imperial monuments In this fully illustrated volume Fikret Yeg l describes the complex from the palaestra of the east through the richly decorated Marble Court to the vast swimming pool lofty halls and hot baths including analysis of the excavation evidence for structural systems roofing vaulting and decoration and the significance of building inscriptions The author traces the building history from its completion in the second century through five centuries of renovation and redecoration Mehmet Bolgil a practicing architect who was in charge of the restoration at Sardis contributes a clear description of the reconstruction process
