Mozambique And The Construction Of The New African State:

Mozambique and the Construction of the New African State Chris Alden, 2001-07-19 An original study of the internationally inspired effort to rebuild this war torn African country It seeks to understand the role of the international community in constructing a new kind of African state in the aftermath of conflict and socialism At the heart of the book is the question of sustainability of the post conflict African state against the backdrop of the multiple legacies of war socialism and regional and international intervention upon an enervated Mozambican society Mozambique and the Construction of the New African State C. Alden, 2001-11-02 Mozambique and the Construction of the New African State analyzes the international inspired to rebuild this war torn country It seeks to understand the role of the international community in constructing a new kind of African state in the aftermath of conflict and socialism At the heart of the book is the question of sustainability of the post conflict African state against the backdrop of the multiple legacies of war socialism and regional and international intervention upon an enervated Mozambican society Mozambique and the Construction of the New African State Chris Alden, 2001 Contributions to the Study of Peacemaking United States Institute of Peace, 1991 The Reconstruction of Post-War Labour Markets in The Southern African Development Community Saint José Inaka, Christopher Changwe Nshimbi, Leon Mwamba Tshipaka, 2023-08-12 This book provides a comprehensive overview of post war labour market reconstructions in the context of a regional bloc whose member states have experienced conflict Focusing on the Southern African Development Community SADC region the book explores how major conflicts often expose shortcomings in affected countries particularly on their post war labour market reconstruction processes The authors discuss how countries in the SADC region in particular are equipped to navigate such processes This key question drives the overview of relationships between labour market issues and wars of liberation from colonial rule and apartheid rights to self determination and racial inequality and the need to succinctly explain how labour market issues shaped civil wars in some post independent SADC member states The book examines the role of the state in reconstruction processes of post war labour markets and the contribution of labour market institutions to these reconstructions It further analyses private sector participation in remaking labour markets and workers experiences in finding employment in labour markets under reconstruction The book provides specific insights from experiences in the Democratic Republic of the Congo DRC The UN's Role in Nation-Building: From the Congo to Iraq James Dobbins, Seth G. Jones, Keith Crane, Andrew Rathmell, Brett Steele, 2001-03-29 Reviews UN efforts to transform eight unstable countries into democratic peaceful and prosperous partners and compares those missions with U S nation building operations The UN provides the most suitable institutional framework for nation building missions that require fewer than 20 000 men one with a comparatively low cost structure a comparatively high success rate and the greatest degree of international legitimacy Contributions to the Study of Peacemaking , 1995 Youth and Post-conflict Reconstruction Stephanie Schwartz, 2010 In Youth and Post Conflict

Reconstruction Agents of Change Stephanie Schwartz goes beyond these highly publicized cases and examines the roles of the broader youth population in post conflict scenarios taking on the complex task of distinguishing between the legal and societal labels of child youth and adult

Geography and Economy in South Africa and its Neighbours Christian M. Rogerson, 2017-05-15 The dismantling of the apartheid regime in South Africa caused massive transformation in both geographical and economic terms not only in this country but also in the region as a whole As the post apartheid government enters its second term this captivating volume assesses its progress in unravelling the geography of apartheid both in South Africa itself and in its relationships with other countries in Southern Africa and Africa It also considers the ways in which South Africa now that it is no longer a pariah state has begun to position itself within the current global economy Examining South Africa's land and agriculture mining and minerals manufacturing tourism corporate finance the labour market and transport the volume discusses the challenges of balancing growth and redistribution the extent and nature of progress change and relationships within the regional and global economy A compelling investigation into the economics of South Africa's neighbouring states in relation to their natural resources colonialism and inter relationships with themselves and with South Africa leads to a focus on the region as a whole and its relations with the global economy

Empire's New Clothes Paul Passavant, Jodi Dean, 2004-08-02 The publication of Empire last year created a sensation that spread from academia to the media to cocktail party buzz A book that causes such a scholarly commotion comes along only once every decade or so wrote the New York Times as the book's radical vision of imperial power in the new millennium sparked both histrionic condemnation and serious academic engagement After September 11 this discussion of Empire's political and legal theories was closely linked with the struggle to redefine America's place in a changed world The book was read as a diagnosis of our era and a call for liberatory action while Michael Hardt was acclaimed as the next Jacques Derrida Framing the debate about this landmark work The Empire's New Clothes brings together leading scholars to make sense of Empire's new vocabulary and tackle its claims head on Does the author's vision accurately describe the power structure of today's world Do the processes of globalization today represent a fundamental break from the past Is the book really a communist manifesto for the new age Empire's New Clothes investigates these and other key issues giving academics students and lay readers a handle on a work that touches the most vital themes of current political social and economic life

A History of Postcolonial Lusophone Africa Patrick Chabal, David Birmingham, 2002-06-13 useful timely and important a good and informative book on the Lusophone countries Portuguese colonialism and postcolonial influences Phyllis Martin Indiana University This book produced by the obvious and distinguished corps of country specialists fills a real gap in both state level and regional broadly defined studies of contemporary Africa Norrie MacQueen University of Dundee Although the five Portuguese speaking countries in Africa that gained independence in 1974-75 Angola Mozambique Guinea Bissau Cape Verde and S o Tom e Pr ncipe differ from each other in many ways they share a history of Portuguese rule going back to the 15th century which has left a mark to this day Patrick Chabal and his co authors assess the nature of the Portuguese legacy using a twofold approach In Part I three analytical thematic chapters by Chabal examine what the five countries have in common and how they differ from the rest of Africa In Part II individual chapters by leading specialists each devoted to a specific country survey the histories of those countries since independence The book places the postcolonial experience of the Lusophone countries within the context of their precolonial and colonial past and compares and contrasts their experience with that of non Lusophone African states The result is a comprehensive readable and up to date text and reference work on the evolution of postcolonial Portuguese speaking Africa

The Dialectics of Inquiry Across the Historical Social Sciences David Baronov,2013-11-07 This book turns conventional global historical analysis on its head demonstrating first that local events cannot be derived logically or historically from large scale global historical structures and processes and second that it is these structures and processes that in fact emerge from our analysis of local events This is made evident via an analysis of three disparate events the New York City Draft Riots AIDS in Mozambique and a 2007 flood in central Uruguay In each case Baronov chronicles how expressions of human agency at the level of those caught up in each event give form and substance to various abstract global historical concepts such as slavery in the Americas global capitalist production and colonial postcolonial Africa Underlying this repositioning of the local and the ephemeral is an immanent phenomenological analysis that illustrates how mere transient events are the progenitors of otherwise abstract global historical concepts Traversing the intersections of human agency and structural determinism Baronov deftly retains the nuance and serendipity of everyday life while deploying this nuance and serendipity to further embellish our understanding of those enduring global historical structures and processes that shape large scale long term historical accounts of social and cultural change across the historical social sciences
