that comfortable home To remedy this he formed the idea of journeying about his house from room to room to write a history of the world without leaving home The bathroom provides the occasion for a history of hygiene the bedroom sex death and sleep the kitchen nutrition and the spice trade and so on as Bryson shows how each has figured in the evolution of private life Whatever happens in the world he demonstrates ends up in our house in the paint and the pipes and the pillows and every item of furniture Bill Bryson has one of the liveliest most inquisitive minds on the planet and he is a master at turning the seemingly isolated or mundane fact into an occasion for the most diverting exposition imaginable His wit and sheer prose fluency make At Home one of the most entertaining books ever written about private life

The Real Mrs Beeton Sheila Hardy, Delia Smith, 2011-10-31 Eliza Acton is the forgotten hero of our culinary past A debt of gratitude to her is what Delia Smith Elizabeth David and Mrs Beeton have in common She was the original and best the first cook to write recipes in a clear modern format one of the few Victorian ladies whose legacy has lasted well into the twenty-first century and whose recipes are still used in thousands of kitchens today In this absorbing first biography Sheila Hardy creates a richly painted narrative of how a young woman produced the first cookery book for general use and changed history She provides a rich background to Eliza's success not only as the little known mother of modern cookery but as a poet and a campaigner for healthy eating. She introduced us to curry chorizo and gluten free diets 150 years before they became fashionable. She knew Charles Dickens and her family life was possibly an inspiration for several of his plots. She had a fascinating career and this brilliantly researched biography is a must for anyone interested in food and cookery or simply as an insight into the life of a modern lady who was years ahead of her time. Victorian London Liza Picard, 2014-01-28 To Londoners the years 1840 to 1870 were years of dramatic change and achievement. As suburbs expanded and roads multiplied London was ripped apart to build railway lines and stations and life saving sewers. The Thames was contained by embankments and traffic congestion was eased by the first underground railway in the world. A start was made on providing housing for the deserving poor. There were significant advances in medicine and the Ragged Schools are perhaps the least known of Victorian achievements in those last decades before universal state education. In 1851 the Great Exhibition managed to astonish almost everyone attracting exhibitors and visitors from all over the world. But there was also appalling poverty and exploitation exposed by Henry Mayhew and others. For the laboring classes pay was pitifully low, the hours long and job security nonexistent. Liza Picard shows us the physical reality of daily life in Victorian London. She takes us into schools and prisons, churches and cemeteries. Many practical innovations of the time: flushing lavatories, underground railways, umbrellas, letter boxes, driving on the left, point the way forward. But this was also, at least until the 1850s, a city of cholera outbreaks, transportation to Australia, public executions and the workhouse where children could be sold by their parents for as little as 12 pence and street peddlers sold sparrows for a penny, tied by the leg for children to play with. Cruelty and hypocrisy flourished alongside invention, industry and philanthropy. Livingstone and Stanley Beeton, Ronald Smith, 1872 Voices of Victorian England John A. Wagner, 2014-02-25 The Victorian age was a period of transition as Britain industrialized and society underwent profound changes. Here contemporary voices provide students with an up close look at this pivotal time. Voices of Victorian England illuminates the character, personalities and events of the era through excerpts from primary documents produced between 1837 and 1901. By allowing Queen Victoria's contemporaries to speak for themselves, this work brings the achievements and conflicts that occurred during the queen's long reign alive for high school and college students as well as the general public. Excerpts represent literary giants such as Charles Dickens, George Eliot, Rudyard Kipling and Anthony Trollope. The book covers the worlds of politics, religion, economics and science and addresses subjects such as women's issues and the royal family. Documents include letters, poems, speeches, polemics, reviews, novels, official reports and self help guides as well as descriptive narratives of people and events from England, Scotland, Ireland and where pertinent America and continental Europe. Spelling has been modernized and unfamiliar terms defined and questions and commentary provide background and context for each document. In addition, the book offers tools that will help readers effectively evaluate a document's meaning and importance. Food: Expressions and Impressions Don Sanderson, Mira Crouch, 2019-01-04 This volume was first published by Inter Disciplinary Press in 2013 Food is a multidimensional construct which is largely taken for granted in lands of plenty but where for a large proportion of the world s inhabitants is part of a daily struggle for survival The global food economy is larger than the arms and fuel economies combined and larger than many national economies Multidisciplinary explorations of the dimensions of food shed light on the complexity enormity and dialectic dynamism that shape economies cultures and societies at the macro level and individual needs rituals beliefs and practices at the micro level Exploring literary economic cultural political historical dimensions of food along with notions of food s place in creating identity and change this volume represents a small incursion into the much larger landscape that is food The Athenaeum ,1889
