this book examines the way in which modernist writers challenged narrative conventions of time in ways that both illuminate and foreshadow current scholarship on queer temporality In her analyses of contemporary novelists and critics Michael Cunningham Jeanette Winterson Angela Carter and Eve Sedgwick Haffey also shows that these modernist temporalities have been reconfigured by contemporary authors to develop new approaches to futurity Shell Shock P. Collaborations with the Past Diana E. Henderson,2018-09-05 Like the artists studied here we pick and choose our Shakespeares and through that labor another story emerges Frozen in time on the page or screen some of those collaborations continue to speak but denuded of their immediate moment and surroundings we are left to supplement the traces In recovering that past the present takes on greater clarity and contrast But the proof must be in the telling A writer lifts a pen Enter the multiple forces political and economic psychological formal and technical that serendipitously transform imagination into memory Let the collaborative play begin from the Introduction Focusing on key writers actors theater directors and filmmakers who have kept Shakespeare at the center of their endeavors over the past two hundred years Collaborations with the Past illuminates not only the playwright's work but also the choices and responsibilities involved in re-creating culture and the ingenuity and peril of the artistic process By concentrating on rich yet problematic instances of Shakespeare's reanimation in such quintessentially modern forms as the novel and film from Sir Walter Scott's Kenilworth to Kenneth Branagh's Henry V Diana E Henderson sketches a complex history of the pleasures and difficulties that ensue when Shakespeare and modern artists collaborate Working with texts across the entire range of Shakespeare's career Henderson demonstrates through detailed analyses of novels including Jane Eyre and Mrs Dalloway as well as filmed, televised, and staged performances that art even in the newest media cannot avoid collaborating with the past Only by studying that collaborative process can we comprehend Shakespeare and Anglo-American culture

Political Economy and the Novel Sarah Comyn, 2018-10-04 Political Economy and the Novel A Literary History of Homo Economicus provides a transhistorical account of homo economicus economic man demonstrating this figure's significance to economic theory and the Anglo-American novel over a 250-year period Beginning with Adam Smith's seminal texts Theory of Moral Sentiments and The Wealth of Nations and Henry Fielding's A History of Tom Jones this book combines the methodologies of new historicism and new economic criticism to investigate the evolution of the homo economicus model as it traverses through Ricardian economics and Jane Austen's Sanditon J S Mill and Charles Dickens' engagement with mid-Victorian dualities Keynesianism and Mrs Dalloway's exploration of post-war consumer impulses the moralistic discourses of Friedrich von Hayek and Ayn Rand's Atlas Shrugged and finally the virtual crises of the twenty-first century financial market and Don DeLillo's Cosmopolis Through its sustained comparative analysis of literary and economic discourses this book transforms our understanding of the genre of the novel and offers critical new understandings of literary value cultural capital and the moral foundations of political economy

Modernism, History and the First World War Trudi Tate, 1998-05-15 Reframing difference is the first major study of two overlapping strands of contemporary French cinema cinema beur films by young directors of Maghrebi immigrant origin and cinema de banlieue films set in France's disadvantaged outer city estates Carrie Tarr's insightful account draws on a wide range of films from directors such as Mehdi Charef Mathieu Kassovitz and Djamel Bensalah Her analyses compare the work of male and female majority and minority film makers and emphasise the significance of authorship in the representation of gender and ethnicity Foregrounding such issues as the quest for identity the negotiation of space and the recourse to memory and history she argues that these films challenge and reframe the symbolic spaces of French culture addressing issues of ethnicity and difference which are central to today's debates about what it means to be French This timely book is essential reading for anyone interested in the relationship between cinema and citizenship in a multicultural society
