Stories of Mentoring Michelle F. Eble, 2008-10-01 Describes mentoring of teachers and scholars in the field of composition and rhetoric Navigating the Academic Career Victor N. Shaw, 2013-03-01 There is an urgent need to provide academic professionals with individual institutional and contextual accounts of their careers and career making endeavors An individual account makes academicians think about what they do and how they might do it better An institutional account makes academicians reflect upon the organizational environment in which they function and ponder what they might do to improve it A contextual account connects academicians and their work to knowledge the knowledge enterprise and the larger social structure so that they know and understand the impact they and their career making efforts have on themselves academia and general social processes This book examines academic careers and career making activities with respect to their main aspects milestones and general pathways In content it divides into four identifiable parts Part I focuses on professional preparation It examines education degree reeducation job search and job change Part II centers on organizational employment It investigates position research teaching service and tenure Part III revolves around professional networking It looks into publication conference presentation application for grants and awards and membership in academic associations Part IV rises above specific issues It explores general career pathways and overall scholarly identity

Mentoring and Academic Success for Women Faculty Members at Research Universities Jean Ann Waltman, 2001 Explores the mentoring experiences of female faculty members at research universities and describes the kinds of mentoring that appear most to support their career success Asks what women's personal experiences with mentoring have been what the characteristics of the mentoring relationships are and what influence academic discipline has on the mentoring needs of female faculty members at research universities Are We Good Citizens? Harvey J. Kaye, 2001 A critical and democratic perspective on American politics letters and higher education Drawing from public and personal experiences the author invites readers to think about their own level of social consciousness Topics include capitalism and class inequality and teaching and parenting Do Babies Matter? Mary Ann Mason, Nicholas H. Wolfinger, Marc Goulden, 2013-06-13 The new generation of scholars differs in many ways from its predecessor of just a few decades ago Academia once consisted largely of men in traditional single earner families Today men and women fill the doctoral student ranks in nearly equal numbers and most will experience both the benefits and challenges of living in dual income households This generation also has new expectations and values notably the desire for flexibility and balance between careers and other life goals However changes to the structure and culture of academia have not kept pace with young scholars desires for work family balance Do Babies Matter is the first comprehensive examination of the relationship between family formation and the academic careers of men and women The book begins with graduate students and postdoctoral fellows moves on to early and mid career years and ends with retirement Individual chapters examine graduate school how recent PhD recipients get into the academic game the tenure process and life after tenure The authors explore the family sacrifices women often have to make to get ahead in academia and consider how gender and family interact to affect promotion to full professor salaries and retirement Concrete strategies are suggested for transforming the university into a family friendly environment at every career stage The book draws on over a decade of research using unprecedented data resources including the Survey of Doctorate Recipients a nationally representative panel survey of PhDs in America and multiple surveys of faculty and graduate students at the ten campus University of California system Feminist Collections University of Wisconsin System.
