Race Social Revolution

Algie Martin Simons, Charles H. Kerr

Race Social Revolution:

Revolutionaries to Race Leaders Cedric Johnson, The Black Power movement represented a key turning point in American politics Disenchanted by the hollow progress of federal desegregation during the 1960s many black citizens and leaders across the United States demanded meaningful self determination The popular movement they created was marked by a vigorous artistic renaissance militant political action and fierce ideological debate Exploring the major political and intellectual currents from the Black Power era to the present Cedric Johnson reveals how black political life gradually conformed to liberal democratic capitalism and how the movement s most radical aims the rejection of white aesthetic standards redefinition of black identity solidarity with the Third World and anticapitalist revolution were gradually eclipsed by more moderate aspirations Although Black Power activists transformed the face of American government Johnson contends that the evolution of the movement as a form of ethnic politics restricted the struggle for social justice to the world of formal politics Johnson offers a compelling and theoretically sophisticated critique of the rhetoric and strategies that emerged in this period Drawing on extensive archival research he reinterprets the place of key intellectual figures such as Harold Cruse and Amiri Baraka and influential organizations including the African Liberation Support Committee the National Black Political Assembly and the National Black Independent Political Party in postsegregation black politics while at the same time identifying the contradictions of Black Power radicalism itself Documenting the historical retreat from radical democratic struggle Revolutionaries to Race Leaders ultimately calls for the renewal of popular struggle and class conscious politics Cedric Johnson is assistant professor of political science at Hobart and William Smith Colleges

Global Race War Alexander D. Barder, 2021 Global Race War explores the racial foundations of global politics from the Haitian Revolution to the present Alexander D Barder traces the emergence of this global racial hierarchy from the early 19th century to the present to explain how a historical racial global order unraveled over the first half of the 20th century continued during the Cold War and reemerged during the Global War on Terror As Barder shows imperial racial and geopolitical orders intersected over time in ways that violently tore apart the imperial and sovereign state system and continue to haunt politics today

Race, Time, and Utopia William M. Paris, 2024 Racial injustice at its core is the domination of time Utopia has been one response to this domination The racially dominated are not free to define what counts as progress they are not free from the accumulation of past injustices and most importantly they are not free from the arbitrary organization of work in capitalist labor markets Racially unjust societies are forms of life where the justifications for how to organize time around life labor and leisure are out of the hands of the dominated In Race Time and Utopia William Paris provides a theoretical account of utopia as the critical analysis of the sources of time domination and the struggle to create emancipatory forms of life Rather than focusing on inclusion and equality before the law as found in liberal theories of racial injustice Paris analyses the neglected utopian tradition of justice in black political thought that insists justice can only be secured through the transformation of society as a whole This transformation is nothing less than the democratic transformation of how organize and narrate our shared time Bringing into conversation the work W E B Du Bois Martin Delany Marcus Garvey Frantz Fanon and James Boggs with the critical theory of Karl Marx Ernst Bloch Rahel Jaeggi and Rainer Forst Paris reconstructs a social theory and normative account of forms of life as the struggle over how time will be organized asking Can there be freedom without a new order of time

Race, Class, and Power Leo Kuper, 2017-07-05

Examining in detail the apparently inexorable polarization of society in such countries as Rwanda Algeria and South Africa the author questions whether current theories correctly explain the past or offer adequate guides for the future In their place he puts forward an alternative neo Durkheimian view of the possibility of non violent revolutionary change based on the development of such social and cultural continuities as already exist within each plural society But he warns that this is an age of passionate commitment to violence in which vicarious killers abound in search of a Vietnam of their own The aim of this groundbreaking and challenging book is to create theoretical perspectives in which to view the racial conflict of plural societies Written in the turbulent early 1970s the book demonstrates the inadequacy of then prevailing views such as Marxist interpretations of racial conflict as class struggle and the Fanon a priori rejection of non violent techniques of change which Kuper holds responsible for the acceptance of what he calls the platitudes of violence The book concludes with more personal sections focusing on the author's struggles with the then prevailing South African society critiques of that and censorship of his attempts to make these public In the light of subsequent changes in South Africa many decades later this book serves not only as an important work of political sociology but as a personal testament to the fight against racism in South Africa Leo Kuper was professor of sociology and director of the African Studies Center at the University of California Los Angeles A South African by birth he was one of the first writers on genocide as well as other aspects of African studies and urban sociology His major book Genocide Penguin 1981 remains in print The Leo Kuper Foundation is a non governmental organization dedicated to the eradication of genocide through research advice and education It was created in Washington DC in 1994 following the death of Leo Kuper with the aim of improving measures to prevent genocide The main area of work for the past five years has been in support of the creation of an International Criminal Court Troy Duster is director at the Institute for the History of the Production of Knowledge New York University

Race, Culture, and Identity Shireen K. Lewis, 2006-03-10

In this groundbreaking book Shireen Lewis gives a comprehensive analysis of the literary and theoretical discourse on race culture and identity by Francophone and Caribbean writers beginning in the early part of the twentieth century and continuing into the dawn of the new millennium Examining the works of Patrick Chamoiseau Raphaël Confiant Aimé Césaire Léopold Senghor Léon Damas and Paulette Nardal Lewis traces a move away from the preoccupation with African origins and racial and cultural purity toward concerns of hybridity and fragmentation in the New World or Diasporic space In addition to exploring how this shift parallels the larger debate around modernism and postmodernism Lewis makes a significant contribution by arguing for the inclusion of Martinican intellectual Paulette Nardal and other women into the canon as significant contributors to the birth of modern black Francophone literature

Race in the Jury Box Hiroshi Fukurai, Richard Krooth, 2012-02-01 Race in the Jury Box focuses on the racially unrepresentative jury as one of the remaining barriers to racial equality and a recurring source of controversy in American life Because members of minority groups remain underrepresented on juries various communities have tried race conscious jury selection termed affirmative jury selection The authors argue that affirmative jury selection can insure fairness verdict legitimization and public confidence in the justice system This book offers a critical analysis and systematic examination of possible applications of race based jury selection examining the public perception of these measures and their constitutionality The authors make use of court cases their own experiences as jury consultants and jury research as well as statistical surveys and analysis The work concludes with the presentation of four strategies for affirmative jury selection

Social Theory: Volume II Roberta Garner, Black Hawk Hancock, 2014-05-29 The organization of this popular social theory reader which pairs classical articles with contemporary theoretical and empirical studies highlights the historical flow of social theory and demonstrates how disagreements and confrontations shape theory over time Written in clear down to earth language the introductions to each selection link theorists to one another illustrating how theoretical traditions are not rigidly separate but are always in conversation addressing and challenging each other Volume II From Modern To Contemporary Theory uses key transitional theorists to illustrate how contemporary theory emerged from the past New chapters on race on culture and on media as well as a significantly reworked gender chapter deepen coverage As well new contextual and biographical materials surround each reading and each chapter includes a study guide with key terms and innovative discussion questions and classroom exercises The result is a volume of readings that offers instructors flexibility in how they approach teaching and students an affordable and accessible introduction to the most important contemporary social theorists

Radicals, Revolutionaries, and Society R. G. Williams, 2025-04-17 This book is a study of radicals revolutionaries and society Specifically it tries to look at the historical social and political struggles of radicals in modern politics since the emergence of modern politics after the French Revolution of 1789 While the book is a political study the main focus is that of a socialist study as a Socialist argument for the vital political role of radicals and revolutionaries in creating modern society The main focus of the book is on how radicals and revolutionaries usually change modern society for the better through their struggle for democracy freedom and socialism

Race, Racisms, and Social Revolution Atlantis Books, Hollywood, Capital, Race and Space, Volume II Richard Saull, 2023-06-12 In this second volume of Capital Race and Space Richard Saull offers an international historical sociology of the Western far right from the end of World War II to its contemporary manifestations in Trumpism and Brexit Focusing on its international causal dimensions Saull draws on the theory of uneven and combined development to provide a distinct and original explanation of the evolution and mutations of the post fascist far right Despite the transformed geopolitical context of capitalist development after 1945 with decolonization and the end inter imperial rivalry the far right continued to be intimately connected to the consolidation of the anti communist liberal order Thereafter the far right also formed an important if contradictory element within the neoliberal historical bloc that emerged in the 1980s and has been the main ideo political beneficiary of the 2007 8 neoliberal crisis Volumes I and II of Capital Race and Space were shortlisted for the 2024 BISA IPEG book prize for best book published in the field of IPE in 2023 and subsequently recognised by the IPEG Book Prize Committee as Highly Commended The shortlisted books represent the very best of IPE scholarship cutting across disciplinary boundaries and addressing timely topics
