A Football Compendium Peter J. Seddon, Cynthia McKinley, British Library, 1999 This bibliography is an entertaining and knowledgeable tribute to the beautiful game The second edition features over 2000 new entries including greatly increased coverage of football films and music making over 7000 references to books and other items in total The British Journal of Photography, 2005

Engineering Archie Simon Inglis, 2005 In the second book of the Played in Britain series stadium expert Simon Inglis recalls the life and work of Archibald Leitch the Scottish engineer whose designs were to football what Frank Matcham was to theatre Millions of spectators sat or stood in Leitch's structures built for such famous clubs as Arsenal Manchester United Everton Tottenham Chelsea Aston Villa and Glasgow Rangers But while his pedimented gables and criss cross steelwork balconies formed a recognisable and much admired style Leitch remained virtually unknown during his lifetime Moreover following the modernisation of stadiums brought on by the Hillsborough disaster only a handful of his buildings survive the listed stand and pavilion at Fulham's Craven Cottage in London being perhaps the best known

Masculinities on Clydeside Alison Chand,2016-07-08 Masculinities on Clydeside explores the experiences of civilian men on Clydeside during the war using oral history interviews as a means to explore subjectivity and arguing for continuous personal agency through major historical changes While men in reserved occupations are understood as extensively influenced by imagined discourses often resulting in feelings of guilt and emasculation their subjectivities were nonetheless ultimately rooted in their lived and immediate local vicinities and the people and places of their everyday lives This ultimate relevance of lived existence and the everyday also meant that while wartime relations between men and women were clearly shaped by a range of gender discourses and continually renegotiated gender boundaries were never fixed or truly separate The analysis looks at wider subjectivities encompassing national and political identities class consciousness religious subjectivities and social activities as well as examining women s experiences of working in reserved occupations in wartime and their interactions with civilian men
