establishing the film's tone, mood, and visual style. He charts the national and international reception of the film, uncovering a work that deeply divided critics at a time of national crisis. He also reveals Le Jour se lève to be a key transitional work between European and American noir and compares it with the 1947 Hollywood remake. Highlighting its combination of the poetic and the realist, this book finally stresses how Le Jour se lève represents the very best of pre-war French studio filmmaking.

The French Screen Goddess Jonathan Driskell, 2015-03-26 Many years before Brigitte Bardot and Catherine Deneuve rose to fame, the French cinema produced a host of glamorous female stars designed to rival their Hollywood counterparts. Bathed in soft light, discussed adoringly in fan magazines, and shown wearing the latest fashions, these cinematic stars emerged in opposition to France's traditional stage-based stardom, while remaining true to the roles they played and the looks they sported, a distinctly French phenomenon. The French Screen Goddess examines how these stars influenced the narratives and look of their films, contributed to defining the period's new emancipated femininity, the modern woman, and related to the decade's politics, particularly the Popular Front of the mid-1930s. The book focuses on the three most important examples of this type of stardom: Annabella, Danielle Darrieux, and Michele Morgan, while also considering many other key stars such as Arletty, Viviane Romance, and Jean Gabin. Previously neglected films are considered, and true classics of French cinema are re-examined, with René Clair's Quatorze juillet, Julien Duvivier's La Bandera, and Marcel Carné's Le Quai des brumes and Hotel du Nord foremost among these.

China on Screen Christopher J. Berry, Mary Ann Farquhar, 2006-04-04 In China on Screen, Chris Berry and Mary Farquhar, leaders in the field of Chinese film studies, explore more than one hundred years of Chinese cinema and nation. Providing new perspectives on key movements, themes, and filmmakers, Berry and Farquhar analyze the films of a variety of directors and actors, including Chen Kaige, Zhang Yimou, Hou Hsiao Hsien, Bruce Lee, Jackie Chan, Maggie Cheung, Gong Li, Wong Kar-wai, and Ang Lee. They argue for the abandonment of national cinema as an analytic tool and propose cinema and the national as a more productive framework. With this approach, they show how movies from China, Hong Kong, Taiwan, and the Chinese diaspora construct and contest different ideas of Chinese nation as empire, republic, or ethnicity, and are complicated by gender, class, style, transnationalism, and more. Among the issues and themes covered are the tension between operatic and realist modes, male and female star images, transnational production and circulation of Chinese films, the image of the good foreigner, all related to different ways of imagining nation. Comprehensive and provocative, China on Screen is a crucial work of film analysis.

French Film Theory and Criticism, Volume 1 Richard Abel, 2020-12-08 These two volumes examine a significant but previously neglected moment in French cultural history: the emergence of French film theory and criticism. Before the essays of André Bazin, Richard Abel has devised an organizational scheme of six nearly symmetrical periods that serve to bite into the discursive flow of early French writing on the cinema. Each of the periods is discussed in a separate and extensive historical introduction, with convincing explications of the various concepts current at the time. In each instance, Abel goes on to provide a complementary anthology of selected texts in translation Amounting to a portable archive these anthologies make available a rich selection of nearly one hundred and fifty important texts most of them never before published in English European Film Noir Andrew Spicer,2019-01-04 European Film Noir is the first book to bring together specialist discussions of film noir in specific European national cinemas Written by leading scholars this groundbreaking study provides an authoritative understanding of an important aspect of European cinema and of film noir itself for too long considered as a solely American form The Introduction reviews the problems of defining film noir its key characteristics and discusses its significance to the development of European film the relationship of specific national films noirs to each other to American noir and to historical and social change Eight chapters then discuss film noir in France Germany Britain and Spain analysing both earlier developments and the evolution of neo noir through to the present A further chapter explores film noir in Italian cinema where its presence is not so well defined Each piece provides a critical overview of the most significant films in relation to their industrial and social contexts European Film Noir is an important contribution to the study of European cinema that will have a broad appeal to undergraduates cin astes film teachers and researchers New York Magazine ,1981-11-02 New York magazine was born in 1968 after a run as an insert of the New York Herald Tribune and quickly made a place for itself as the trusted resource for readers across the country With award winning writing and photography covering everything from politics and food to theater and fashion the magazine s consistent mission has been to reflect back to its audience the energy and excitement of the city itself while celebrating New York as both a place and an idea The Classic French Cinema, 1930-1960 C.
