Challenging Nuclear Pacifism in Japan Masae Yuasa, 2023-10-02 Is Japan abandoning its pacifism The Japanese government has claimed it is doubling its defense spending and has announced a plan to equip itself with the capability to counterattack enemy bases overseas a departure from the nation's postwar consensus Shedding new light on Japan's pacifism and Hiroshima's role in it Yuasa investigates the events of postwar Japan and how it catalyzed a range of challenges to public sentiment Japan's Constitution stipulates the renunciation of war and forbids using force to settle international disputes This radical shift has been led by Fumio Kishida the prime minister whose constituency is Hiroshima the atomic bombed city symbolizing Japan's postwar pacifism This book is about Hiroshima's local nuclear politics and popular consciousness about pacifism Based on published and unpublished local documents and participant observation it describes how postwar global and national power has formulated local politics and discusses the impact of local struggles on national and global politics The key concept is imaginary Institutionalized imaginary effectively channels people's suppressed desires and emotions into coordinated action in the society The current political crossroad of Hiroshima and Japan is interpreted as a terrain constructed over the last half century by three paradoxically coexisting and competing pacifist imaginaries namely constitutional anti nuclear and nuclear pacifism They were however significantly destabilized by the Fukushima nuclear disaster and a newly invented proactive
