Saints and Their Cults Stephen Wilson, 1985 This is a paperback edition of a collection of ten papers by different authors on the cult of saints first published in hard covers in 1983 Six have been translated from French including a pioneering study by Robert Hertz one of Durkheim's most eminent pupils The editor provides a wide ranging general and historical introduction and a 100 page annotated bibliography covering material on the subject in all disciplines and in four main languages

Saints and Their Cults Stephen Wilson, 2008-11-01 Saints and Their Cults: Studies in Religious Sociology, Folklore and History Stephen Wilson, 1983 Saints and their cults, 1933 A Companion to Middle English Hagiography Sarah Salih, 2006 The saints were the superheroes and the celebrities of medieval England bridging the gap between heaven and earth the living and the dead A vast body of literature evolved during the middle ages to ensure that everyone from kings to peasants knew the stories of the lives deaths and afterlives of the saints However despite its popularity and ubiquity the genre of the Saint's Life has until recently been little studied This collection introduces the canon of Middle English hagiography places it in the context of the cults of saints analyses key themes within hagiographic narrative including gender power violence and history and finally shows how hagiographic themes survived the Reformation Overall it offers both information for those coming to the genre for the first time and points forward to new trends in research Dr SARAH SALIH is a Lecturer in English at the University of East Anglia Contributors SAMANTHA RICHES MARY BETH LONG CLAIRE M WATERS ROBERT MILLS ANKE BERNAU KATHERINE J LEWIS MATTHEW WOODCOCK The Medieval Chronicle IV, 2006-01-01 There are several reasons why the chronicle is particularly suited as the topic of a yearbook In the first place there is its ubiquity all over Europe and throughout the Middle Ages chronicles were written both in Latin and in the vernacular and not only in Europe but also in the countries neighbouring on it like those of the Arabic world Secondly all chronicles raise such questions as by whom for whom or for what purpose were they written how do they reconstruct the past what determined the choice of verse or prose or what kind of literary influences are discernable in them Finally many chronicles have been beautifully illuminated and the relation between text and image leads to a wholly different set of questions The yearbook The Medieval Chronicle aims to provide a representative survey of the on going research in the field of chronicle studies illustrated by examples from specific chronicles from a wide variety of countries periods and cultural backgrounds The Medieval Chronicle is published in cooperation with the Medieval Chronicle Society

Sufism and Saint Veneration in Contemporary Bangladesh Hans Harder, 2011-03-04 Focusing on the Majibhandari movement in Chittagong south eastern Bangladesh which claims the status of the only Sufi order originated in Bengal and which has gained immense popularity in recent years this book provides a comprehensive picture of an important aspect of contemporary Bengali Islam in the South Asian context Expertise in South Asian languages and literatures is combined with ethnographic field work and theoretical formulations from a range of disciplines including cultural anthropology Islamic studies and religious studies Analysing the Majibhandaris tradition of Bengali spiritual songs one of the largest popular song traditions in Bengal the book presents an in depth study of Bengali Sufi theology hagiography and Majibhandari esoteric songs as well as a discussion of what Bengali Islam is It is a useful contribution to South Asia Studies as well as Islamic Studies Writing and Holiness Derek Krueger,2013-04-03 Drawing on comparative literature ritual and performance studies and the history of asceticism Derek Krueger explores how early Christian writers came to view writing as salvific as worship through the production of art Exploring the emergence of new and distinctly Christian ideas about authorship in late antiquity Writing and Holiness probes saints lives and hymns produced in the Greek East to reveal how the ascetic call to imitate Christ s humility rendered artistic and literary creativity problematic In claiming authority and power hagiographers appeared to violate the saintly practices that they sought to promote Christian writers meditated within their texts on these tensions and ultimately developed a new set of answers to the question What is an author Each of the texts examined here used writing as a technique for the representation of holiness Some are narrative representations of saints that facilitate veneration others are collections of accounts of miracles composed to publicize a shrine Rather than viewing an author s piety as a barrier to historical inquiry Krueger argues that consideration of writing as a form of piety opens windows onto new modes of practice He interprets Christian authors as participants in the religious system they described as devotees monastics and faithful emulators of the saints and he shows how their literary practice integrated authorship into other Christian practices such as asceticism devotion pilgrimage liturgy and sacrifice In considering the distinctly literary contributions to the formation of Christian piety in late antiquity Writing and Holiness uncovers Christian literary theories with implications for both Eastern and Western medieval literatures Emotion in Motion Mike Robinson,David Picard,2016-05-06 What happens when tourists scream with fear shout with anger and frustration weep with joy and delight or even faint in the face of revealed beauty How can certain sites affect some tourists so deeply that they require hospitalisation and psychiatric treatment What are the inner contours of tourist experience and how does it relate to specific emotional cultures What are the consequences of the emotional cultures of tourists upon destinations How are differences in emotional culture mobilized and played out in the transnational contact zones of international tourism While many books have engaged with the structural frames of tourist practice and experience this is the first to deal with the emotional dimensions of tourism travel and contact and the ways in which they can transform tourists destinations and travel cultures through emotional engagements The book brings together an international array of scholars from anthropology psychiatry history cultural geography and critical tourism studies to explore how the movement to and through the realms of exotic people wild natures subliminal art spirit worlds metropolitan cities and sexualised others variably provoke emotions peak experiences travel syndromes and inner dialogues The authors show how tourism challenges us to engage with concepts of self other time nature sex the body and death Through a set of ethnographic and historic cases they demonstrate that such engagements usually have little to do with the actual destination but rather are deeply anchored in personal memories repressed fears and desires and the collective imaginaries of our societies Religion in the History of the Medieval West John Van Engen, 2023-05-31 These ten essays by John Van Engen situate religion in the history of medieval Western Europe as an unavoidable presence in everyday life as a conceptual framework for social and political life as a force integral to its historical dynamics Four of the essays are bibliographical and retrospective in nature reviewing the field broadly but also pointing toward a more dialectical approach to understanding the interaction of religion and society in the European middle ages Other studies deal with large topics usually subsumed under the abstract term Christianization They grapple with learned sources as well as those associated with popular religion and show what can be gained from an imaginative use of all that lawyers and theologians said about religion in their society The essays finally look for the quality and dynamic of change even inventiveness released by religious action and conviction in medieval European society
