Building for the Princeton University or the Joseph L. Rotman School of Management in Toronto The Disruptors Dennis R. Shelden, 2020-06-08 Technology driven disruption and entrepreneurial response have become profound drivers of change in modern culture. Wholly new organisations have rapidly emerged in many fields including retail, print media and transportation, often dramatically altering both the products and processes that define these industries. Architecture has until now been minimally impacted by this technologically driven upheaval. But there are many signs that this period of tranquillity is ending. Startups are proliferating, targeting diverse innovations from environmental performance to large scale 3D printing. Traditional architecture and engineering firms are creating incubators and spin offs to capitalise on their innovations. Large and innovative organisations from outside the professions are becoming interested in the built environment as the next platform for technological and economic disruption. These new directions for the discipline will potentially create radically new types of practice, new building typologies and new ways for both design professionals and societies to engage with the built environment. It is crucial that architectural discourse addresses these possibilities and begins to embrace technology driven entrepreneurship as a central theme for the future of architectural practice. Contributors: Sandeep Ahuja, Ben van Berkel, Phil Bernstein, Helen Castle, James Cramer and Scott Simpson, Craig Curtis, David Fano and Daniel Davis, Greg Lynn, Jessica Rosenkrantz and Jesse Louis Rosenberg, Brad Samuels, Marc Simmons, Jared Della Valle and Philip F. Yuan and Chao Yan. Featured architects: Archi Union, Ayre Chamberlain, Gaunt Bryden, Wood Gehry Partners, Front, Greg Lynn, FORM, Millar Howard, Workshop, Nervous System, SITU and UNStudio Almanac of Architecture & Design 2006 James P. Cramer, Jennifer Evans, Yankopoulus, 2005-11 Adaptive Architecture Wolfgang F. E. Preiser, Andrea E. Hardy, Jacob J. Wilhelm, 2017-09-01 The constant in architecture's evolution is change. Adaptive Architecture explores structures or environments that accommodate multiple functions at the same time, sequentially or at periodically recurring events. It demonstrates how changing technological, economic, ecological and social conditions have altered the playing field for architecture from the design of single purpose structures to the design of interacting systems of synergistically interdependent, distributed buildings. Including contributors from the US, UK, Japan, Australia, Germany and South Africa, the essays are woven into a five part framework which provides a broad and unique treatment of this important and timely issue.

The new 100 houses and 100 architects Robyn Beaver, 2007 This coffee table style book features 100 architect designed homes from around the world. Descriptive text, floor plans and photos describe each project. Exteriors and interiors are featured. Publisher Almanac of Architecture & Design, 2005 James P. Cramer, 2005 Danish Modern Andrew Hollingsworth, 2009-09 For serious furniture collectors, Danish is more than a pastry; it's an art form. Twentieth century Danish furniture design is simple and clean, mixes well with other design styles and has an inherent value and history beyond its beauty. In Modern Danish, Andrew Hollingsworth explores the history of Danish design from the earliest cabinetmakers' guilds in the 1770s through the impact of two world wars and its evolution into the twentieth century. The book includes photographic surveys of Danish Modern furniture in homes across the United States a market guide with tips facts and resources that includes discussions of veneer vs solid wood places to find Danish Modern furniture and a guide to caring for it and an extensive resource section Big Little Hotel Donna Kacmar,2023-03-28 This book showcases small hotels all located in the United States designed by architects who use light and materials in interesting and intentional ways The designs also deliberately connect to their local history context or land in many cases all three Both the architecture and the operations harmonize with the place whether that is a bustling city small town or natural area Many are new buildings but some are adaptive reuse projects or renovations of historic properties extending the connectivity of the place into the future A condensed history of lodging helps to place the many typologies and histories of hospitality in relationship to world events and includes the many factors that influence hotel development such as business practices technology and even politics Hotels are influenced by larger trends and innovations in hospitality such as the emergence of a variety of creative possibilities for future travel A final chapter includes speculation on travel trends and encourages us all to wander more intentionally BIG little house Donna Kacmar,2015-01-09 What are the challenges architects face when designing dwelling spaces of a limited size And what can these projects tell us about architecture and architectural principles in general In BIG little house award winning architect Donna Kacmar introduces twenty real life examples of small houses Each project is under 1 000 square feet 100 square meters in size and brought together the designs reveal an attitude towards materiality light enclosure and accommodation which is unique to minimal dwellings While part of a trend to address growing concerns about minimising consumption and lack of affordable housing the book demonstrates that small dwellings are not always simply the result of budget constraints but constitute a deliberate design strategy in their own right Highly illustrated and in full colour throughout each example is based on interviews with the original architect and accompanied by detailed floor plans This ground breaking beautifully designed text offers practical guidance to any professional architect or homeowner interested in small scale projects Memory and Architecture Eleni Bastéa,2004 An international study of cultural relationships with built environments Ghost Brian Mackay-Lyons,Peter Buchanan,2008-05-15 Architecture is a social art If the practice of architecture is the art of what you can make happen then I believe that you are only as good as your bullpenthe builders the engineers the artisans the colleagues the staffwho collaborate with you those who become possessed by the same urge to build by the same belief that we are working on something exceptional together Brian MacKay Lyons For two weeks each summer architect Brian MacKay Lyons uses his family farm on the east coast of Nova Scotia for a special event Among the stone ruins of a village almost four hundred years old he assembles a community of architects professors and students for a design build internship and educational initiative called Ghost Research Lab The two week project one week of design and one week of construction rests on the idea that architecture is not only about building but also about the landscape its history and the community Based on the apprenticeship environment of ancient guilds where architectural

Designing Our Way to a Better World Thomas Fisher, 2016-05-01 Envisioning what we need when it doesn t yet exist this Thomas Fisher tells us is what design does And if what we need now is a better world functioning schools working infrastructure thriving cities why not design one Fisher shows how the principles of design apply to services and systems that seem to evolve naturally systems whose failures sometimes seem as arbitrary and inevitable as the weather But the invisible systems we depend on for our daily lives in education politics economics and public health are designed every bit as much as the products we buy and the environments we inhabit and are just as susceptible to creative reimagining Designing Our Way to a Better World challenges the assumptions that have led to so much poor performance in the public and private realms that our schools cannot teach creativity that our governments cannot predict the disasters that befall us that our health system will protect us from pandemics that our politics will remain polarized that our economy cannot avoid inequality and that our industry cannot help but pollute the environment Targeting these assumptions Fisher's approach reveals the power of design to synthesize our knowledge about the world into greater wholes In doing so this book opens up possible futures and better futures than the unsustainable and inequitable one we now face Architecture INTL Nancy
