Laboring in the Shadow of Empire Celeste Vaughan Curington, 2024-09-13 Laboring in the Shadow of Empire Race Gender and Care Work in Portugal examines the everyday lives of an African descendant care service workforce that labors in an ostensibly anti racial Europe and against the backdrop of the Portuguese colonial empire While much of the literature on global care work has focused on Asian and Latine migrant care workers there is comparatively less research that explicitly examines African care workers and their migration histories to Europe Sociologist Celeste Vaughan Curington focuses on Portugal a European setting with comparatively liberal policies around family settlement and naturalization for migrants In this setting rapid urbanization in the late twentieth century along with a national push to reconcile work and family has shaped the growth of paid home care and cleaning service industries Many researchers focus on informal work settings where immigrant rights are restricted and many workers are undocumented or without permanent residence status Curington instead examines workers who have accessed citizenship or permanent residence status and also explores African women s experiences laboring in care and service industries in the formal market revealing how deeply colonial and intersectional logics of a racialized and international division of reproductive labor in Portugal render these women hyper invisible and hyper visible as appropriate workers in Lisbon

The Long Shadow of the Border Ida Marie Savio Vammen, Signe Cold-Ravnkilde, Hans Lucht, 2023-06-19 This book delves beyond the spectacular images of African migrants struggling to scale border fences or cross the Mediterranean in unseaworthy rubber dinghies by unpacking the policies and emerging practices that shape contemporary border governance in the expanding EU African borderlands For decades Africa has been the scene of a wide range of European interventions aimed at restraining irregularised migration to Europe creating an accelerated moment of control and confinement Today the externalisation of Europe's borders into Africa encompasses agreements on the return of migrants securitised border operations and projects under the EU's Emergency Trust Fund for Africa At a time when safe and legal mobility is limited and the human social and political conditions of African migrants are severely challenged this book emphasises how European efforts are both assisted but also resisted by local actors with agendas of their own Based on ethnographic fieldwork the different contributions vividly portray how African lives continue to be shaped by Europe's desire to contain and govern human mobility and how dominant spatial geopolitics are contested on various levels This book will be of particular value to students and researchers interested in African studies International Politics Border Governance Anthropology Human Geography and Global Studies The chapters in this book were originally published as a special issue of Geopolitics In the Shadow of Greatness Michael Menager, 2020-09-01 In this unusual biography Michael Menager coaxes from the shadows of history ve women who devoted themselves to the greatness of a genius in their lives At times the book reads like a love story at other times an adventure but throughout their five lives intertwine to tell one story of selfless devotion and a greatness that doesn't crave recognition This book covers the lives and works of Maria Nhys wife of Aldous Huxley Fran oise Gilot mistress of Pablo Picasso V ra Nabokov wife of Vladimir Nabokov Helen Dukas secretary to Albert Einstein and Isabel Burton wife and partner of Sir Richard Burton

The Liberal Heartland Jon K. Lauck, Catherine McNicol Stock, 2025-04-29 Over the last two decades the political narrative of the liberal coasts and the conservative heartland has become something of a truism leading many Democrats to write off much of the Midwest as a Republican stronghold Today's polarized divide between rural and urban voters makes it easy to forget that things have not always been this way The Liberal Heartland is a powerful reminder that the American Midwest has a progressive legacy that rivals the coasts Across twenty chapters The Liberal Heartland traces the political history of this region from the post New Deal period to the rise of the New Right and Donald Trump's right wing populism The contributors explore the way liberals and progressives across the Midwest fought for expanding environmental protection engaged in community activism developed a queer labor coalition before Stonewall struggled for women's rights and representation in the Great Plains states opposed the death penalty and mobilized for Indigenous self determination among other topics In addition to well known leaders like Harry Truman and George McGovern the book highlights lesser known figures such as Lydia Cady Langer Mary Jean Collins Richard Hatcher Jim Jontz and Paul Wellstone A companion to the 2020 volume The Conservative Heartland The Liberal Heartland explores the history of the Midwest from a less acknowledged perspective recounting often forgotten stories that demonstrate the importance of the Midwest for New Deal liberalism and various forms of left wing politics This is a long overdue book that represents a fresh look at the American heartland

Wandering Women Laura Di Bianco, 2022-12-06 Wandering Women Urban Ecologies of Italian Feminist Filmmaking explores the work of contemporary Italian women directors from feminist and ecological perspectives. Mostly relegated to the margins of the cultural scene and concerned with women's marginality, the compelling films Wandering Women sheds light on tell stories of displacement and liminality that unfold through the act of walking in the city. The unusual emptiness of the cities that the nomadic female protagonists traverse highlights the absence of and their wish for life-sustaining communities. Laura Di Bianco contends that women's urban filmmaking while articulating a claim for belonging and asserting cinematic and social agency brings into view landscapes of the Anthropocene where urban decay and the erasure of nature intersect with human alienation. Though a minor cinema, it is also a powerful movement of resistance against the dominant male narratives about the world we inhabit. Based on interviews with directors, Wandering Women deepens the understanding of contemporary Italian cinema while enriching the field of feminist ecocritical literature. Subject Guide to Books in Print

, 2001 MeXicana Encounters Rosa Linda Fregoso, 2003-12-04 Table of contents In the Shadow of Chedis and Minarets Andrea Witbooi, 2024-11-15 Born in South Africa in 1956, Andrea Witbooi grows up between two opposing laws: the rule of apartheid with its enforced racial segregation and discrimination, and the law of God to love your neighbour as yourself. Through the life and ministry of her father, she witnesses how the love of Jesus overcomes hatred and brings hope, healing, and transformation to youngsters living in perilous conditions in Johannesburg's townships. This awakens a deep yearning to also invest her life for God's purposes. But where and how? Following God's prompting, her adventurous journey leads her to the Kingdom of Thailand. She studies the Thai language and grapples with everyday life ruled by unfamiliar cultural norms embedded in a Buddhist worldview. Then another move takes her to the Muslim-dominated South of Thailand. Together with her growing family, she makes her home in provincial towns and villages where the pillars of Islam determine the religious, behavioural, and dietary rules of the local communities. As a Christian foreigner, she experiences both friendship and hostility, trust and suspicion, acceptance and rejection. This biographical narrative reflects how God's comforting nearness, help, and protection carried Andrea Witbooi through times of upheaval and feelings of uprootedness, loneliness, and confusion. Her story also opens a window into the daily lives and struggles of Thai and Malay individuals and families whom she grew to love deeply. Distant Alliances Regina Cortina, Nelly P. Stomquist, 2019-01-04 In this ground-breaking study, Regina Cortina and Nelly Stromquist examine how the alliances of international agencies, national governments, and nongovernmental organizations have strengthened public support for educating girls and women in Latin America. Bringing a timely and readable account of the strategies pursued, the authors show how the strength of the women's movement has influenced the education of women and girls and thus has helped to reduce poverty and strengthen the citizenship of women in developing countries. The book's overview of recent initiatives, along with its illuminating case studies of developing nations, offers the reader a window into educational reform and the realities of social change in Latin America. The Authority of Female Speech in Indian Goddess Traditions Anway Mukhopadhyay, 2020-08-27 Contemporary debates on mansplaining foreground the authority enjoyed by male speech and highlight the way it projects listening as the responsibility of the dominated and speech as the privilege of the dominant What mansplaining denies systematically is the right of women to speak and be heard as much as men This book excavates numerous instances of the authority of female speech from Indian goddess traditions and relates them to the contemporary gender debates especially to the issues of mansplaining and womansplaining These traditions present a paradigm of female speech that compels its male audience to reframe the configurations of masculinity This tradition of authoritative female speech forms a continuum even though there are many points of disjuncture as well as conjuncture between the Vedic Upanishadic puranic and tantric figurations of the Goddess as an authoritative speaker The book underlines the Goddess's role as the spiritual mentor of her devotee exemplified in the Devi Gita and re-situates the female gurus in Hinduism within the traditions that find in Devi's speech ultimate spiritual authority Moreover it explores whether the figure of Devi as Womansplainer can encourage a more dialogic structure of gender relations in today's world where female voices are still often undervalued Under the Shadow of

Napoleon Michael Bonura, 2012-05-07 The way an army thinks about and understands warfare has a tremendous impact on its organization training and operations The central ideas of that understanding form a nation's way of warfare that influences decisions on and off the battlefield From the disasters of the War of 1812 Winfield Scott ensured that America adopted a series of ideas formed in the crucible of the Wars of the French Revolution and epitomized by Napoleon Reflecting American cultural changes these French ideas dominated American warfare on the battlefields of the Mexican American War the American Civil War the Spanish American War and World War I America remained committed to these ideas until cultural pressures and the successes of German Blitzkrieg from 1939-1940 led George C Marshall to orchestrate the adoption of a different understanding of warfare Michael A Bonura examines concrete battlefield tactics army regulations and theoretical works on war as they were presented in American army education manuals professional journals and the popular press to demonstrate that as a cultural construction warfare and ways of warfare can be transnational and influence other nations
