Bad Lieutenants Andrew Mertha, 2025-05-15 Bad Lieutenants is a riveting account of how the Khmer Rouge remained a force to be reckoned with even after the fall of Democratic Kampuchea and of the men behind the movement's strange durability. In 1979 the Vietnamese army seized Phnom Penh, toppling Pol Pot's notoriously brutal regime. Yet the Khmer Rouge did not disintegrate. Instead the movement continued to rule over swathes of Cambodia for almost another two decades even as it failed to become a legitimate governing organization. Andrew Mertha argues that the Khmer Rouge's successes and failures were both driven by a refusal to dilute its revolutionary vision. Rather than take the moderate tack required for viable governance, it pivoted between only two political strategies: united front and class struggle. Through the stories of three key leaders: Ieng Sary, Son Sen, and Ta Mok, Mertha tracks the movement's shifting from one strategy to the other until its dissolution in the 1990s. Vividly written and deeply researched, Bad Lieutenants reveals the powerful grip political ideology can have over the survival of insurgent movements.

Eternal Shadows or Shadow Makers Fr. Steve Peterson OSJ, 2012-07 Everything in our solar system casts a shadow. The Earth, the moon, and the planets cast a shadow. The only thing that does not cast a shadow is the sun. The sun shines its light on one half of the planets while the other half is in the shade of its own shadow. All living and non-living things expose only half of themselves to the light of the sun. Their other half remains in its shadow. Plants and animals are born with a shadow, live with a shadow, and must die with a shadow. Man is born with a shadow; however, he does not have to live and die with a shadow like the rest of the living creatures. He can choose to stay confined within the shadows of earthly things or go beyond the shadows to become something like the sun. But this quest takes a little something extra that most ordinary men seem to look for or even believe is possible to achieve. Early on in childhood, Fr. Peterson wanted to fly. Little did he know that his innocent desire to fly was an extraordinary, shadowless thing called prayer. A real and very extraordinary ear heard his plea. So God's heart, the only one in nature who produces no shadow, was moved to help show him how to go beyond the shadows of worldly things, frightful things, and even deadly things.

Paul's Story: A Son's Struggle with Adoption, Schizophrenia and the Mental Health System Mardie Townsend, 2023-09-15 Mental illness. Who wants to read about that? Despite one in four people experiencing mental ill health in their lifetime, it is not a popular topic for conversation. Perhaps this book will change that. Combining amusing anecdotes, insights from research, and heart-rending personal reflections, this book recounts the triumphs, traumas, and tragedies of the life of Paul, adopted child, loved son, and brother, schizophrenia sufferer, and of his family. Excerpts from Paul's own journals and reflections from his family highlight the ups and downs of Paul's life. These include his struggle with having been relinquished for adoption, his difficulty accepting the diagnosis of schizophrenia, and the inconsistent and patchwork approach to support for people with mental ill health, and underline the tragic waste of human possibility resulting from inadequate mental health care. An absorbing, poignant, and powerful read, this chronicling of Paul's life and experiences and its impact on his family is incredibly

Immaterial but profound shadows lurk everywhere in literature and the visual arts signifying everything from the treachery of appearances to the unfathomable power of God From Plato to Picasso from Rembrandt to Welles and Warhol from Lord of the Rings to the latest video game shadows act as central players in the drama of Western culture Yet because they work silently artistic shadows often slip unnoticed past audiences and critics Conceived as an accessible introduction to this elusive phenomenon Grasping Shadows is the first book that offers a general theory of how all shadows function in texts and visual media Arguing that shadow images take shape within a common cultural field where visual and verbal meanings overlap William Sharpe ranges widely among classic and modern works revealing the key motifs that link apparently disparate works such as those by Fra Angelico and James Joyce Clementina Hawarden and Kara Walker Charles Dickens and Kumi Yamashita Showing how real world shadows have shaped the meanings of shadow imagery Grasping Shadows guides the reader through the techniques used by writers and artists to represent shadows from the Renaissance onward The last chapter traces how shadows impact the art of the modern city from Renoir and Zola to film noir and projection systems that capture the shadows of passers by on streets around the globe Extending his analysis to contemporary street art popular songs billboards and shadow theatre Sharpe demonstrates a practical way to grasp the dark side that looms all around us
