Bookshop Huw Osborne, 2016-03-09 The trade in books has always been and remains an ambiguous commercial activity associated as it is with literature and the exchange of ideas This collection is concerned with the cultural and economic roles of independent bookstores and it considers how eight shops founded during the modernist era provided distinctive spaces of literary production that exceeded and yet never escaped their commercial functions As the contributors show these booksellers were essential institutional players in literary networks When the eight shops examined first opened their doors their relevance to literary and commercial life was taken for granted In our current context of box stores online shopping and ebooks we no longer encounter the book as we did as recently as twenty years ago By contributing to our understanding of bookshops as unique social spaces on the thresholds of commerce and culture this volume helps to lay the groundwork for comprehending how our relationship to books and literature has been and will be affected by the physical changes to the reading experience taking place in the twenty first century Suzy's City Promenades Bernard Poisson and Suzy, Annie Coburn Vincens, 2007-06 Paris Your initial thoughts might be romance delicious food haute couture But the most definite thought is Someday I'm going to see Paris That day has finally arrived You've packed your bags and with passport in hand you're heading to Paris After you ride to the top of the Eiffel after you walk beneath the Arc de Triomphe the time has come to see the real Paris Suzy in Paris will not only show you unique places but she will tell you the stories of love and betrayal of victory and defeat Inside the guide are 7 unique promenades Select the ones that fit your interests Each promenade is between 2 to 2 1/2 hours long You are in control Linger as long as you wish at each stop Let Suzy give you a taste of the real Paris <http://www.suzyscitypromenades.com>
