Pynte, Ralph Radach, 2000-08-04 This book is divided into five sections dealing with various fundamental issues in current research attention information processing and eye movement control the role of phonology in reading syntax and discourse processing and computational models and simulations Control and measurement of eye movements form a prominent theme in the book A full understanding of the where and when of eye movement control is a prerequisite of any complete theory of reading since it is precisely at this point that perceptual and cognitive processes interact Amongst the hot topics included are the relation between parafoveal and foveal visual processing of linguistic information the role of phonology in fluent reading and the emergence of statistical tuning approaches to sentence parsing Also discussed in the book are three attempts to develop quantitative models of reading which represent a significant departure in theory building and a quantum step in the maturation of reading research Much of the work reported in the book was first presented at the 5th European Workshop on Language Comprehension organised in April 1998 which was held at the CNRS Luminy Campus near Marseilles All contributions summarise the state of the art in the relevant areas of reading research

Carry On, Teachers! Susan Ellsmore,2005 In the world of screen culture teachers are unfailingly represented as charismatic figures able to tackle the deprivations their students face and to form special relationships with them that none of their staff colleagues can But how realistic are such representations and more importantly what do real world teachers think about their reel world counterparts This book takes a closer look at the charismatic teacher as portrayed in films such as Blackboard Jungle To Sir With Love and Dead Poets Society and in television series such as Teachers It considers the eccentric resilient or romantic but always charismatic teacher in inner city schools private or public schools and contrasts them with the views of practising teachers Carry on Teachers will be essential to media and cultural studies courses but is designed as much for teachers and those coming into the profession
