Hampton's Magazine, 1910 Interracial Encounters Julia H. Lee, 2011-10 2013 Honorable Mention Asian American Studies Association's prize in Literary Studies Part of the American Literatures Initiative Series Why do black characters appear so frequently in Asian American literary works and Asian characters appear in African American literary works in the early twentieth century Interracial Encounters attempts to answer this rather straightforward literary question arguing that scenes depicting Black Asian interactions relationships and conflicts capture the constitution of African American and Asian American identities as each group struggled to negotiate the racially exclusionary nature of American identity In this nuanced study Julia H Lee argues that the diversity and ambiguity that characterize these textual moments radically undermine the popular notion that the history of Afro Asian relations can be reduced to a monolithic media friendly narrative whether of cooperation or antagonism Drawing on works by Charles Chesnutt Wu Tingfang Edith and Winnifred Eaton Nella Larsen W E B Du Bois and YOUNGHILL Kang Interracial Encounters foregrounds how these reciprocal representations emerged from the nation's pervasive pairing of the figure of the Negro and the Asiatic in oppositional overlapping or analogous relationships within a wide variety of popular scientific legal and cultural discourses Historicizing these interracial encounters within a national and global context highlights how multiple racial groups shaped the narrative of race and national identity in the early twentieth century as well as how early twentieth century American literature emerged from that multiracial political context

Intransitive Encounter Nan Da, 2018-12-25 Why should the earliest literary encounters between China and the United States and their critical interpretation matter now How can they help us describe cultural exchanges in which nothing substantial is exchanged at least not in ways that can easily be tracked All sorts of literary meetings took place between China and the United States in the nineteenth and early twentieth centuries involving an unlikely array of figures including canonical Americans such as Washington Irving Ralph Waldo Emerson and Henry Wadsworth Longfellow Chinese writers Qiu Jin and Dong Xun and Asian American writers like Yung Wing and Edith Eaton Yet present day interpretations of these interactions often read too much into their significance or mistake their nature missing their particularities or limits in the quest to find evidence of cosmopolitanism or transnational hybridity In Intransitive Encounter Nan Z Da carefully re creates these transpacific interactions plying literary and social theory to highlight their various expressions of indifference toward synthesis interpollination and convergence Da proposes that interpretation trained on such recessive moments and minimal adjustments can light a path for Sino U S relations going forward offering neither a geopolitical showdown nor a celebration of hybridity but the possibility of self contained cross cultural encounters that do not have to confess to the fact of their having taken place Intransitive Encounter is an unconventional and theoretically rich reflection on how we ought to interpret global interactions and imaginings that do not fit the patterns proclaimed by contemporary literary studies

California Dreams and American Contradictions Monique McDade, 2023-03 California Dreams and American Contradictions establishes a genealogy of western American women writers publishing between 1870 and 1965 to argue that both white women and women of color regionalized dominant national literary trends to negotiate the contradictions between an American liberal individualism and American equality Monique McDade analyzes works by Mar a Amparo Ruiz de Burton Helen Hunt Jackson Sui Sin Far and a previously unstudied African American writer Eva Rutland to trace an archive of western American women writers who made visible what dominant genres subsumed under images of American progress and westward expansion Read together these writers provide new entry points into the political debates that have plagued the United States since the nation s founding and that set the precedent for westward expansion Their romances regional sketches memoirs and journalism point to the inherently antagonistic relationship between a Rooseveltian rugged individualism that encouraged an Anglo male dominated West and the progressive equality and opportunity the West seemingly promised disenfranchised citizens The writers included in California Dreams and American Contradictions challenged literature s role in creating regional division conformist communities that support nationally sponsored images of gendered ethnic and immigrant others and liberal histories validated through a strategic vocabulary rooted in freedom equality and progress
