Ralph Eubanks,2003-08-25 A account of coming of age in Mississippi during the civil rights era describes growing up outside a small racially divided town the role of the State Sovereignty Commission and the impact of forced integration and other events Poetry and Terror Peter Dale Scott,2018-08-15 A study at many levels of Scott s long poem Coming to Jakarta a book length response to a midlife crisis triggered in part by the author s initial inability to share his knowledge and horror about American involvement in the great Indonesian massacre of 1965 Interviews with Ng supply fuller information about the poem s discussions of a how this psychological trauma led to an explorations of violence in American society and then after a key recognition in the poet himself b the poem s look at east west relations through the lens of the yin yang spiritual secular doubleness of the human condition c how the process of writing the poem led to the recovery of memories too threatening at first to be retained by his normal presentational self and d the mystery of right action guided by the Bhagavad Gita and the maxim in the Gospel of Thomas that If you bring forth what is within you what you bring forth will save you Led by the interviews to greater self awareness Scott then analyses his poem as also an elegy not just for the dead in Indonesia but for the passing of the Sixties era when so many of us imagined that a Movement might achieve major changes for a better America Subsequent chapters develop how human doubleness can lead to an inner tension between the needs of politics and the needs of poetry and how some poetry can serve as a non violent higher politics contributing to the evolution of human culture and thus our second nature The book also reproduces a Scott prose essay inspired by the poem on the U S involvement in and support for the 1965 massacre It then discusses how this essay was translated into Indonesian and officially banned by the Indonesian dictatorship and how ultimately it and the poem helped inspire the ground breaking films of Josh Oppenheimer that have led to the first official discussions in Indonesia of what happened in 1965 Essays on Music, Politics and Resistance Helen

Lawlor, Adrian Scahill, 2025-08-11 This volume explores the relationship between music power and politics examining how music serves as a tool for empowerment resistance and alternative worldviews The essays highlight how music can help minority groups establish a voice fostering community and identity Drawing on recent fieldwork and ethnographic research the book features international perspectives from ethnomusicology and engages with contemporary discussions on music's role in shaping social and political realities By focusing on music's potential for empowerment and social justice the volume goes beyond viewing music merely as a form of protest offering a broader perspective on its transformative power for marginalized communities

Three Years in Mississippi James Meredith, 2019-02-01 On October 1 1962 James Meredith was the first African American student to enroll at the University of Mississippi Preceded by violent rioting resulting in two deaths and a lengthy court battle that made it all the way to the Supreme Court his admission was a pivotal moment in civil rights history Citing his divine responsibility to end white supremacy Meredith risked everything to attend Ole Miss In doing so he paved the way for integration across the country Originally published in 1966 more than ten years after the Supreme Court ended segregation in public schools in Brown v Board of Education Meredith describes his intense struggle to attend an all white university and break down long held race barriers in one of the most conservative states in the country This first person account offers a glimpse into a crucial point in civil rights history and the determination and courage of a man facing unfathomable odds Reprinted for the first time this volume features a new introduction by historian Aram Goudsouzian
