Postmodern Cartographies The Geographical Imagination In Contemporary American Culture:

Postmodern Cartographies Brian Jarvis,1998 brilliantly original brings cultural and post colonial theory to bear on a wide range of authors with great skill and sensitivity Terry Eagleton Conceptualising the Global in the Wake of the Postmodern Joel Evans,2019-03-28 Identifies a return to figurations of the totality in contemporary literature theory and culture The A to Z of Postmodernist Literature and Theater Fran Mason,2009-07-23 Postmodernist literature embraces a wide range of forms and perspectives including texts that are primarily self reflexive texts that use pastiche burlesque parody intertextuality and hybrid forms to create textual realities that either run in opposition to or in parallel with an external reality fabrications that develop both of these strategies texts that ironize their relationship to reality works that use the aspects already noted to more fully engage with political or cultural realities texts that deal with history as a fiction and texts that elude categorization even within the variety already explored For example in fiction a postmodernist novel might tell a story about a writer struggling with writing only perhaps to find that he is a character in a book by another writer struggling to write a book The A to Z of Postmodernist Literature and Theater examines the different areas of postmodernist literature and the variety of forms that have been produced This is accomplished through a chronology an introductory essay a bibliography and several hundred cross referenced dictionary entries on individual postmodernist writers the important postmodernist aesthetic practices significant texts produced throughout the history of postmodernist writing and important movements and ideas that have created a variety of literary approaches within the form By placing these concerns within the historical philosophical and cultural contexts of postmodernism this reference explores the frameworks within which postmodernist literature of the late twentieth and early twenty first century operates Contemporary American Fiction Kenneth Millard,2000 Millard leads the interpretation of post 1970 fiction by addressing particular authors and themes Surveillance, Architecture and Control Susan Flynn,Antonia Mackay,2019-01-21 This edited collection examines the culture of surveillance as it is expressed in the built environment Expanding on discussions from previous collections Spaces of Surveillance States and Selves 2017 and Surveillance Race Culture 2018 this book seeks to explore instances of surveillance within and around specific architectural entities both historical and fictitious buildings with specific social purposes and those existing in fiction film photography performance and art Providing new readings of and expanding on Foucault s work on the panopticon these essays examine the role of surveillance via disparate fields of enquiry such as the humanities social sciences technological studies design and environmental disciplines Surveillance Architecture and Control seeks to engender new debates about the nature of the surveilled environment through detailed analyses of architectural structures and spaces examining how cultural geographical and built space buttress and produce power relations The various essays address the ongoing fascination with contemporary notions of surveillance and control Chinese Ecocinema Sheldon H. Lu, Jiayan Mi,2009-12-01 This anthology is a book length study of China s ecosystem through the lens of cinema

Proposing ecocinema as a new critical framework the volume collectively investigates a wide range of urgent topics in today's world

Southscapes Thadious M. Davis, 2011-11-21 In this innovative approach to southern literary cultures Thadious Davis analyzes how black southern writers use their spatial location to articulate the vexed connections between society and environment particularly under segregation and its legacies Basing her analysis on texts by Ernest Gaines Richard Wright Alice Walker Natasha Trethewey Olympia Vernon Brenda Marie Osbey Sybil Kein and others Davis reveals how these writers reconstitute racial exclusion as creative black space rather than a site of trauma and resistance Utilizing the social and political separation epitomized by segregation to forge a spatial and racial vantage point Davis argues allows these writers to imagine and represent their own subject matter and aesthetic concerns Focusing particularly on Louisiana and Mississippi Davis deploys new geographical discourses of space to expand analyses of black writers relationship to the South and to consider the informing aspects of spatial narratives on their literary production She argues that African American writers not only are central to the production of southern literature and new southern studies but also are crucial to understanding the shift from modernism to postmodernism in southern letters A paradigm shifting work Southscapes restores African American writers to their rightful place in the regional imagination while calling for a more inclusive conception of region

Thomas Pynchon Simon Malpas, Andrew Taylor, 2015-08-01 Now available in paperback this is a comprehensive study of the most influential figure in postwar American literature Over a writing career spanning more than fifty years Thomas Pynchon has been at the forefront of America's engagement with postmodern literary possibilities In chapters that address the full range of Pynchon's career from his earliest short stories and first novel V to his most recent work this book offers highly accessible and detailed readings of a writer whose work is indispensable to understanding how the American novel has met the challenges of postmodernity The authors discuss Pynchon's relationship to literary history his engagement with discourses of science and utopianism his interrogation of imperialism and his preoccupation with the paranoid sensibility Invaluable to Pynchon scholars and to everyone working in the field of contemporary American fiction this study explores how Pynchon's complex narratives work both as exuberant examples of formal experimentation and as serious interventions in the political health of the nation
