Reframing Difference

Elaine Chan, Vicki Ross

Reframing Difference:

Reframing Difference Carrie Tarr, 2005-09-17 This is the first major study of two overlapping strands of contemporary French cinema: cinema beur films by young directors of Maghrebi immigrant origin and cinema de banlieue films set in France's disadvantaged outer city estates. Carrie Tarr's insightful account draws on a wide range of films from directors such as Mehdi Charef, Mathieu Kassowitz, and Djamel Bensalah. Foregrounding such issues as the quest for identity, the negotiation of space, and the recourse to memory and history, she argues that these films challenge and reframe the symbolic spaces of French culture, addressing issues of ethnicity and difference which are central to today's debates about what it means to be French.

Making a Difference in the Lives of Infants and Toddlers and Their Families John M. Love, 2002 Making a Difference in the Lives of Infants and Toddlers and Their Families: Local contributions to understanding the programs and their impacts John M. Love, Mathematica Policy Research, Inc, 2002 Early Head Start Research, Making a Difference in the Lives of Infants and Toddlers and Their Families... Final Report: June 2002, 2004 Bridging Differences: Understanding Cultural Interaction in Our Globalized World Newtona (Tina) Johnson, Shawn Simpson, 2019-01-04 This volume was first published by Interdisciplinary Press in 2016. Cultural interaction in our worlds today is essential to building 21st century bridges between communities. The experiences and lessons learned from the authors of the articles herein are shared with empathy and humility across many disciplines. The creation and re-creation of individual identities and group identities due to migrations throughout history is an ongoing story. Never does one cultural profile remain constant. On the contrary, as boundaries change, so do people and therefore cultures. Interculturalism is the one valid approach to understanding these changes but should be used with great sensitivity. And sensitivity is the overriding emotion emanating from the different studies in this volume: the search for one's identity when the latter has been lost or has become difficult to recognize; the attempts to erase identities so as to conform to national unity; the will to create new identities to fit in with new environments; the need to re-evaluate oneself so as to remain true to oneself. These endeavors are subtly described in this vibrant compendium of intercultural monographies.

The SAGE Handbook of Organizational Communication Linda L. Putnam, Dennis K. Mumby, 2013-11-04 Organizational communication as a field of study has grown tremendously over the past thirty years. This growth is characterized by the development and application of communication perspectives to research on complex organizations in rapidly changing environments. Completely re-conceptualized, The SAGE Handbook of Organizational Communication Third Edition is a landmark volume that weaves together the various threads of this interdisciplinary area of scholarship. This edition captures both the changing nature of the field with its explosion of theoretical perspectives and research agendas and the transformations that have occurred in organizational life with the emergence of new forms of work, globalization processes, and changing organizational forms. Exploring organizations as complex and dynamic, the Handbook brings a communication lens to bear on multiple organizing processes.

Re-hybridizing Transnational Domesticity and Femininity Stacey Weber-Fève, 2010-01-05

Re hybridizing Transnational Domesticity and Femininity examines the problems of voicing the personal when considering the role and place of women in the home Analyzing a collection of first person cinematic and literary narratives by Assia Djebar Annie Ernaux Simone de Beauvoir Raja Amari Coline Serreau Le la Sebbar and Yamina Benguigui Weber F_ve explores the transnational processes of identity formation gender performance and construction of culture and society Through a closer look at contemporary representations of French Algerian and Tunisian women on the page and on the screen this study discusses the ways in which homemaking nation and gender are intricately bound to one another and situated in personal history Working within as well as beyond so called national systems of visual and written representation these women artists challenge inherited and monolithic performances definitions and discourses of femininity In doing so they create re hybridized subjects that begin to recognize and embrace the differences within themselves The authors and filmmakers in this study through their female protagonists the protagonists homes and homemaking acts and the investigative lens of the interrogation of the personal are interested in exploring how the process of uncovering or articulating new and other identities and subjectivities ushers in new and re hybridized ways of seeing knowing and being female ReFocus: The Films of Rachid Bouchareb Michael Gott, 2020-09-21 ReFocus The Films of Rachid Bouchareb is the first book length study of the internationally recognized director s films Bouchareb was one of France s first filmmakers of North African descent and his career as a director and producer now spans over 35 years Remarkably varied in their themes formal elements and narrative settings Bouchareb s work has engaged with and reflected on a variety of crucial social political and historical issues from the role of colonial troops in the French army during the Second World War to terrorism in contemporary Europe This volume examines Bouchareb s films from an interdisciplinary perspective exploring key influences on his output and considering new theoretical approaches to his filmmaking Transforming Conflict through Communication in Personal, Family, and Working Relationships Peter M. Kellett, Thomas G. Matyók, 2016-11-15 A transformational approach to conflict argues that conflicts must be viewed as embedded within broader relational patterns and social and discursive structures Central to this book is the idea that the origins of transformation can be momentary situational and small scale or large scale and systemic The momentary involves shifts and meaningful changes in communication and related patterns that are created in communication between people Momentary transformative changes can radiate out into more systemic levels and systemic transformative changes can radiate inward to more personal levels This book engages this transformative framework by bringing together current scholarship that epitomizes and highlights the contribution of communication scholarship and communication centered approaches to conflict transformation in personal family and working relationships and organizational contexts The resulting volume presents an engaging mix of scholarly chapters think pieces and personal experiences from the field of practice and everyday life The book embraces a wide variety of theoretical and methodological approaches including narrative critical intersectional rhetorical and quantitative It makes a valuable additive contribution to the ongoing dialogue across and between disciplines on how to transform conflicts creatively sustainably and ethically

Speaking With One Voice Chantal Benoit-Barné, Thomas Martine, 2021-09-23 This book explores the dynamics and challenges that underlie the ability of organizations to speak with one voice Contributions by experienced and emerging scholars shed light on the nature and regulation of the communication processes whereby the many and diverse voices of a collective can unite act and speak as a distinct entity thus contributing to its organizing By focusing on communicational events whether in the context of for profit and non profit organizations political protests or social movements chapters guide the reader through the diverse manifestations and concrete ways of dealing with the imperative for organizations of all kinds to speak with one voice In doing so the book creates bridges between different perspectives with regard to the notion of voice and its significance for the study of organizing between fields of study and between theory and empirical research aimed at investigating organizing beyond the boundaries of the formal organization Offering a thorough and comprehensive investigation of the dynamics between multivocality and univocality in the organizing of various collectives this book will be an important resource for scholars and students of organizational communication management studies media studies and rhetorical studies Organizational Communication Dennis K. Mumby, 2012-08-02 Organizational Communication A Critical Perspective introduces students to the field of organizational communication historically conceptually and pragmatically from a perspective grounded in critical theory and research Author Dennis K Mumby explores how the history of organizational communication theory and research is one that embodies and attempts to resolve the fundamental tensions and contradictions between the individual and the organization By taking a critical perspective to the history theories and research of organizational communication this text seeks to address the following how do we provide ourselves with the analytic and practical tools that will enable us to be more informed and critical consumers of and participants in organizational processes Put more broadly how do we learn to be better informed citizens who can participate effectively in and be advocates of organizational democracy This textbook squarely addresses this problem In keeping with this theme this text goes at great pains to explore the link between theory and practice Mumby shows how management theory and research is of vital importance to our understanding of daily struggles for control over work and organizing processes The critical perspective throughout helps students understand how over the course of the last 100 years corporations have sought more and more sophisticated methods of constructing our identities in ways that are commensurate with organizational world views and goals Features unique to this text include the combination of the following issues A thematic critical perspective on organizational communication with analysis of traditional and contemporary approaches to organizational communication Integrated discussion of ethics and technology A full chapter on gender and organizational communication A full chapter devoted to issues of organizational democracy Smudging Composition Lines of Identity and Teacher Knowledge Elaine Chan, Vicki Ross, 2023-12-08 The dilemmas and tensions uncovered directly from the perspective of teachers and teacher educators develop narrative inquiry as a methodological approach to examining teacher knowledge in cross cultural teaching providing invaluable findings for teachers teacher educators and educational researchers internationally The Handbook of Communication Ethics Amit Pinchevski, Patrice M. Buzzanell, Jason Hannan, 2024-12-02 The second edition of this handbook offers a thoroughly updated overview of the different approaches and perspectives in communication ethics today Extending the path paved by its predecessor this handbook includes new issues and concerns that have emerged in the interim from environmentalism to artificial intelligence from disability studies to fake news It also features a new structure comprised of three sections representing a wide array of communication ethics traditions contexts and debates Rather than focusing exclusively on a subset of ethics such as interpersonal communication rhetoric or journalism as do other handbooks of ethics in communication this collection provides a valuable resource for those who seek a broader basis on which to study communication ethics This handbook is a must read for faculty graduate students and advanced undergraduate students in all areas of communication studies as well as in neighboring disciplines such as rhetoric media studies sociology political science cultural studies and science and technology studies

Encountering Difference: New Perspectives on Genre, Travel and Gender Gigi Adair, Lenka Filipova, 2020-03-03

This edited collection poses crucial questions about the relationship between gender and genre in travel writing asking how gender shapes formal and thematic approaches to the various generic forms employed to represent and recreate travel While the question of the genre of travel writing has often been debated is it a genre a hybrid genre a sub genre of autobiography and recent years have been much attention to travel writing and gender these have rarely been combined This book sheds light on how the gendered nature of writing and reading about travel affect the genre choices and strategies of writers as well as the way in which travel writing is received It reconsiders traditional and frequently studied forms of travel writing both European and non European In addition it pursues questions about the connections between travel writing and other genres such as the novel and films minor forms including journalism and blogging and new sub genres such as the new nature writing focusing in particular on the political ramifications of genre in travel writing The collection is international in focus with discussions of works by authors from Europe Asia Australia and both North and South America consequently it will be of great interest to scholars and historians in those regions
