Historical Dictionary of Eritrea Dan Connell, 2019-07-15 In 1991 Eritrea won a 30 year war for independence from Ethiopia and in 1993 it was recognized as Africa's newest nation after more than a century of conquest and occupation by a succession of external powers that included the Ottomans Egypt Italy Great Britain and Ethiopia Each had left its mark while fostering a deep distrust of outsiders and a fierce commitment to Eritrea's separate political identity Eritrea and Ethiopia slipped into a chronic state of no peace no war that kept the entire Horn of Africa off balance for nearly two decades the standoff ended in 2018 when a newly installed Ethiopian prime minister reached out to Eritrea and set in motion a rapid fire series of talks among the states of the African Horn that broke down long standing barriers and raised hopes for a new era of regional peace and cooperation This third edition of Historical Dictionary of Eritrea contains a chronology an introduction appendixes and an extensive bibliography The dictionary section has over 600 cross referenced entries on important personalities politics economy foreign relations religion and culture This book is an excellent resource for students researchers and anyone wanting to know more about Eritrea African Refugees Toyin Falola, Olajumoke

Johnathan Bascom, 2001-09-01 Refugee flight settlement and repatriation are not static self contained or singular events Instead they are three stages of an ongoing process made and mirrored in the lives of real people For that reason there is an evident need for historical and longitudinal studies of refugee populations that rise above description and trace the process of social transformation during the full circle of flight resettlement and return home This book probes the economic forces and social processes responsible for shaping the everyday existence for refugees as they move through exile The

The Big Gamble Milena Belloni, 2019-12-17. A free, open access ebook is available upon publication. Learn more at www.luminosoa.org. Tens of thousands of Eritreans make perilous voyages across Africa and the Mediterranean Sea every year. Why do they risk their lives to reach European countries where so many more hardships await them? By visiting family homes in Eritrea and living with refugees in camps and urban peripheries across Ethiopia, Sudan and Italy, Milena Belloni untangles the reasons behind one of the most under-researched refugee populations today. Balancing encounters with refugees and their families, smugglers and visa officers, The Big Gamble contributes to ongoing debates about blurred boundaries between forced and voluntary migration, the complications of transnational marriages, the social matrix of smuggling and the role of family expectations, emotions and values in migrants' choices of destinations.

In Search of Cool Ground Tim Allen, 1996. Concentrates attention on crucial issues which have been largely ignored and must become key aspects of assistance programs in war-torn areas of the Horn of Africa.

The Global Governed? Kate Pincock, Alexander Betts, Evan Easton-Calabria, 2020-03-26. Examines refugees as important and neglected providers of protection and assistance.

Rights in Exile Guglielmo Verdirame, Barbara E. Harrell-Bond, 2005. Of the estimated 12 million refugees in the world, more than 7 million have been confined to camps, effectively warehoused in some cases for 10 years or more. Holding refugees in camps was anathema to the founders of the refugee protection regime. Today, with most refugees encamped in the less developed parts of the world, the humanitarian apparatus has been transformed into a custodial regime for innocent people. Based on rich ethnographic data, Rights in Exile exposes the gap between human rights norms and the mandates of international organisations on the one hand and the reality on the ground on the other. It will be of wide interest to social scientists and to human rights and international law scholars. Policy makers, donor governments and humanitarian organizations, especially those adopting a rights-based approach, will also find it an invaluable resource. But it is the refugees themselves who could benefit the most if these actors absorb its lessons and apply them. Guglielmo Verdirame is a Lecturer in Law at the University of Cambridge and a Fellow of Corpus Christi College. He is also the author of a forthcoming book on the accountability of the United Nations. Barbara Harrell-Bond is the Founding Director of the Refugee Studies Centre, University of

Oxford has after retirement been Visiting Professor at Makerere University and at the American University in Cairo In 1996 she received the Distinguished Service Award of the American Anthropological Association She is the author of Imposing Aid Oxford 1986 Human Rights and Refugees in Africa Kesete Belay,1993 Insurgent Fragmentation in the Horn of Africa Michael Woldemariam,2018-02-15 This extended treatment of insurgent fragmentation provides an innovative new theory tested through analysis of the Horn of Africa s civil wars Children of the Crisis Annika Lems,Kathrin Oester,Sabine Strasser,2021-09-30 Every year thousands of young people on the run from war and persecution or escaping poverty and chronic instability make their way to Europe without their parents Embarking on long and often dangerous journeys they have either become separated from their families on the way or set out on their own In recent years the number of unaccompanied minors arriving in Europe has risen drastically It has led to a major shift in perception in European countries initiating a wealth of policies and infrastructures targeted specifically at unaccompanied child refugees This book investigates the emergence of the unaccompanied child refugee as a crisis figure It shows how the sense of exceptionality attached to this figure translates into ambiguous and at times extremely contradictory social practices that have far reaching effects on the lives of refugee youth By bringing together ethnographically driven research on unaccompanied minors in some of the core arrival and transit countries in or into Europe it shows the divergent ways ideas on childhood deservingness and vulnerability are interpreted lived and grappled with on the ground By laying the focus on young people s own experiences and perspectives it establishes a deeper understanding of the ways unaccompanied asylum seekers live and make sense of shifting social terrains The chapters in this book were originally published as a special issue of the Journal of Ethnic and Migration Studies
