Shadow Of The Hunter Stories Of Eskimo Life:

Shadow of the Hunter Richard K. Nelson, 1980-01-01 A collection of stories based upon the author's experiences in an Eskimo village of the Tareogmiut or people of the sea The Shadow of the Hunter Richard K. Nelson, 1983 Shadow of the Hunter Richard K. Nelson, 1983-04-15 Follows a group of Eskimo hunters and their families through the cycle of an arctic year and looks at the different realms of the Eskimo world Critical Norths Sarah Jaquette Ray, Kevin

Maier, 2017-05-15 For millennia the North has held a powerful sway in Western culture Long seen through contradictions empty of life yet full of promise populated by indigenous communities yet ripe for conquest pristine yet marked by a long human history it has moved to the foreground of contemporary life as the most dramatic stage for the reality of climate change This book brings together scholars from a range of disciplines to ask key questions about the North and how we've conceived it and how conceiving of it in those terms has caused us to fail the region's human and nonhuman life Engaging questions of space place indigeneity identity nature the environment justice narrative history and more it offers a crucial starting point for an essential rethinking of both the idea and the reality of the North Historical Dictionary of the Inuit Pamela R. Stern, 2013-09-26 The Inuit do not represent a very large population only 160 000 or so spread over a very large portion of the Arctic region and located in four different countries Although they are a people there are many variations from one group to the next and any study of them must consider both similarities and differences The Historical Dictionary of the Inuit introduces us to the Inuit as they actually are and not as they have been traditionally pictured and some would still like to see them looking after their traditional chores and engaged in time honored practices but rather as a modern people trying to shape their worlds in their own interest This second edition includes an updated chronology as well as an introduction to provide a broader view of who the Inuit are where they live and what they do But it is the dictionary section that is most interesting with many new informative entries on persons places events and institutions shedding light not only on the culture but also on the society economy and politics For those seeking further information there is a considerably expanded bibliography This book is an excellent access point for students researchers and anyone wanting to know more about the Inuit

The Meat Paradox Rob Percival, 2022-03-01 From a vital new voice in food ethics comes a smart nuanced investigation into the current meat debate Our future diet will be shaped by diverse forces It will be shaped by novel technologies by geopolitical tensions and the evolution of cultural preferences by shocks to the status quo pandemics and economic strife the escalation of the climate and ecological crises and by how we choose to respond It will also be shaped by our emotions It will be shaped by the meat paradox Should we eat animals was until recently a question reserved for moral philosophers and an ethically minded minority but it is now posed on restaurant menus and supermarket shelves on social media and morning television The recent surge in popularity for veganism in the UK Europe and North America has created a rupture in the rites and rituals of meat challenging the cultural narratives that sustain our omnivory In The Meat Paradox Rob Percival an expert in the politics of meat searches for the evolutionary origins of the meat paradox asking when our relationship with meat first became emotionally and ethically complicated Every society must eat and meat provides an important source of nutrients But every society is moved by its empathy We must all find a way of balancing competing and contradictory imperatives This new book is essential reading for anyone interested in the origins of our empathy the psychology of our dietary choices and anyone who has wondered whether they should or shouldn't eat meat

For Love of the World Sherman Paul, 1992 Along with poets philosophers and deep ecologists nature writers who may be something of all three address the world alienation of Western civilization By example as well as with words they teach us to turn from the self to the world from ego to ecos In these deeply felt meditative essays Sherman Paul contemplates the cosmological homecoming of nature writers who show us how to reenter the world participate in it and recover respect for it In For Love of the World Sherman Paul considers Thoreau John Muir and Aldo Leopold major writers in the American tradition of nature writing Henry Beston and Loren Eiseley writers not yet so canonical and Richard Nelson and Barry Lopez our estimable contemporaries Paul's meditative mode follows the practice of naturalists who enter the field come into the open and relate their immediate experiences In the most primary and direct way his essays belong to our moment in history when nothing is more essential than our reattachment to earthly existence They will reawaken our love of the world the necessary eros of ecos and our wonder at and gratitude for being Subsistence Whaling James M. Savelle, Nobuhiro Kishigami, Gregory G. Monks, 2025-06-28 This book examines the past history and contemporary status of subsistence whaling The papers derive from a symposium Aboriginal Whaling and Identity in the 21st Century held at the Eleventh Conference on Hunting and Gathering Societies in Vienna Austria in September 2015 Whales especially large baleen whales are the largest animals targeted by many societies prehistoric or modern and major facets of subsistence social structure and ideology are still deeply embedded in past and current whaling lifeways Yet there is probably no other environmental political issue that has attracted as much attention in the late 20th and early 21st century as whaling practices and policies Accordingly the papers address two major themes 1 the extent and characteristics of major prehistoric and early historic whaling activities and 2 case studies amongst modern whaling societies and how these societies are impacted by current political and economic realities and by the anti whaling movement

Cold Comfort Graham W. Rowley, 1996-06-11 Rowley documents an era of arctic exploration of which little has been written and which is fast passing from living memory He captures the traditional way of life in the North before the dramatic changes of the last half century A member of the last expedition in the Canadian North to depend on traditional techniques Rowley recounts how they lived as the Inuit did and travelled by dogsled over unexplored land He describes the isolation the extraordinary vicissitudes of travel in a sometimes savage environment and the generosity and kindness of the Inuit Apart from completing the map of Baffin Island's coastline and finding new islands Rowley excavated the first pure Dorset site near Igloolik establishing the Dorset culture beyond doubt The carvings and artifacts found there illustrations of which are included in this book remain among the best and most beautiful that have been recovered Based on his own diary and the diaries of other members of the expedition Rowley's captivating story presents the perceptions of a young man faced with a completely alien yet fascinating environment and culture A true and often exciting tale of discovery Cold Comfort will appeal to a wide audience as well as to those concerned with the Arctic in general It is an invaluable source for those who specialize in the archaeology anthropology geography and history of northern Canada

Northern Experience and the Myths of Canadian Culture Renée Hulan, 2002 In Northern Experience and the Myths of Canadian Culture Renée Hulan disputes the notion that the north is a source of distinct collective identity for Canadians Through a synthesis of critical historical and theoretical approaches to northern subjects in literary studies she challenges the epistemology used to support this idea By investigating mutually dependent categories of identity in literature that depicts northern peoples and places Hulan provides a descriptive account of representative genres in which the north figures as a central theme including autobiography adventure narrative ethnography fiction poetry and travel writing She considers each of these diverse genres in terms of the way it explains the cultural identity of a nation formed from the settlement of immigrant peoples on the lands of dispossessed indigenous peoples Reading against the background of contemporary ethnographic literary and cultural theory Hulan maintains that the collective Canadian identity idealized in many works representing the north does not occur naturally but is artificially constructed in terms of characteristics inflected by historically contingent ideas of gender and race such as self sufficiency independence and endurance and that these characteristics are evoked to justify the nationhood of the Canadian state Native People, Native Lands Bruce Alden Cox,1988 The changing roles of native women devices for assimilation the re birth of the Metis these are among the issues examined in this collection of provocative essays which explore the link between aboriginal culture and economic patterns Handbook of North American Indians: Arctic William C. Sturtevant,1984 Encyclopedic summary of prehistory history cultures and political and social aspects of native peoples Contemporary Cultural Anthropology Michael C.
