Looking At Ourselves:

Looking at Ourselves and Others, 1998 Looking at Ourselves and Others contains lesson plans activities and readings that help students understand components of their own culture and leads them to appreciate and understand differences between their culture and that of others Home page

Race Experts Linda Kim, 2018-08-01 In Race Experts Linda Kim examines the complicated and ambivalent role played by sculptor Malvina Hoffman in The Races of Mankind series created for the Chicago Field Museum in 1930 Although Hoffman had training in fine arts and was a protégé of Auguste Rodin and Ivan Mestrovic she had no background in anthropology or museum exhibits She was nonetheless commissioned by the Field Museum to make a series of life size sculptures for the museum's new racial exhibition which became the largest exhibit on race ever installed in a museum and one of the largest sculptural commissions ever undertaken by a single artist Hoffman's Races of Mankind exhibit was realized as a series of 104 bronzes of racial types from around the world a unique visual mediation between anthropological expertise and everyday ideas about race in interwar America Kim explores how the artist brought scientific understandings of race and the everyday racial attitudes of museum visitors together in powerful and productive friction The exhibition compelled the artist to incorporate not only the expertise of racial science and her own artistic training but also the popular ideas about race that ordinary Americans brought to the museum Kim situates the Races of Mankind exhibit at the juncture of these different forms of racial expertise and examines how the sculptures represented the messy resolutions between them Race Experts is a compelling story of ideological contradiction and accommodation within the racial practices of American museums artists and audiences

Just Look At Yourself, Symbols and Power in the Theatre of the Oppressed Ronaldo Morelos, 1999 The Politics of War Memory and Commemoration T.G. Ashplant, Graham Dawson, Michael Roper, 2013-01-11 International in scope presents a range of case studies from a diverse range of national contexts War memory and commemoration has had an increasingly high profile in public and academic debates in recent years

Commemorating War Timothy G. Ashplant, Graham Dawson, Michael Roper, War memory and commemoration have had increasingly high profiles in public and academic debates in recent years This volume examines some of the social changes that have led to this development among them the passing of the two world wars from survivor into cultural memory Focusing on the politics of war memory and commemoration the book illuminates the struggle to install particular memories at the center of a cultural world and offers an extensive argument about how the politics of commemoration practices should be understood Commemorating War analyzes a range of forms of remembrance from public commemorations orchestrated by nation states to personal testimonies of war survivors and from cultural memories of war represented in films plays and novels to investigations of wartime atrocities in courts of human rights It presents a wide range of international case studies encompassing lesser known national histories and wars beyond the well trodden terrain of Vietnam and the two world wars in Europe Emerging from this book is an important critique of both state centered approaches to war memory and those that regard commemoration primarily as a human response to loss and grief Offering a wealth of empirical research material this book will be important for cultural and oral historians sociologists researchers in international relations and human rights and anybody with an interest in the cultural construction of memory in contemporary society Timothy G Ashplant is a member of the Research Center for Literature and Cultural History at Liverpool John Moores University He has published on psychoanalysis and history and the life writings of working class men and women in Britain Graham Dawson teaches cultural and historical studies at the University of Brighton His publications include Soldier Heroes British Adventure Empire and the Imagining of Masculinities and Trauma and Life Stories with Kim Lacy Rogers and Selma Leydesdorff Michael Roper works as a social and cultural historian in the Department of Sociology at the University of Essex His previous publications include Manful Assertions Masculinities in Britain since 1800 with John Tosh and Masculinity and the British Organization Man since 1945

Talking to Ourselves Andrés Neuman, 2014-04-08 A searing family drama from one of Latin America's most original voices One trip Two love stories Three voices Lito is ten years old and is almost sure he can change the weather when he concentrates very hard His father Mario anxious to create a memory that will last for his son's lifetime takes him on a road trip in a truck called Pedro But Lito doesn't know that this might be their last trip Mario is gravely ill Together father and son embark on a journey takes them through strange geographies that seem to meld the different parts of the Spanish speaking world In the meantime Lito's mother Elena restlessly seeks support in books and soon undertakes an adventure of her own that will challenge her moral limits Each narrative of father son and mother embodies one of the different ways that we talk to ourselves through speech through thought and through writing While neither of them dares to tell the complete truth to the other two their individual voices nonetheless form a poignant conversation Sooner or later we all face loss Andr's Neuman movingly narrates the ways the lives of those who survive loss are transformed how that experience changes our ideas about time memory and our own bodies and how the acts of reading and of sex can serve as powerful modes of resistance Talking to Ourselves presents a tender yet unsentimental portrait of the workings of love and family a reflection both on grief and on the consolation of words Neuman the author of the award winning Traveler of the Century displays his characteristic warmth bittersweet humor and wide ranging intellect giving us the rich textured and strikingly different voices and experiences of three singular characters while presenting above all a profound tribute to those who have ever had to care for a loved one

Visual Culture and the Holocaust Barbie Zelizer, 2001-01-01 A book that looks at both the traditional and the unconventional ways in which the holocaust has been visually represented The purpose of this volume is to enhance our understanding of the visual representation of the Holocaust in films television photographs art and museum installations and cultural artifacts and to examine the ways in which these have shaped our consciousness The areas covered include the Eichman Trial as covered on American television the impact of Schindler's List the Jewish Museum in Berlin the Israeli Heritage Museums Women and

Holocaust Photography Internet Holocaust sites and tattoos and shrunken heads the bodies of the dead and of the survivors

Quantum Information and Consciousness Danko D. Georgiev, 2017-12-06 I loved the book This book is not just interesting it is exciting I have probably read every significant book in the field and this is the strongest and most convincing one yet It is also one of the most comprehensive in its explanations I shall most certainly recommend the book to colleagues Richard G Petty MD a very good introduction to the basic theory of quantum systems Dr Georgiev's book aptly prepares the reader to confront whatever might be in store later from the Foreword by Prof James F Glazebrook Eastern Illinois University This book addresses the fascinating cross disciplinary field of quantum information theory applied to the study of brain function It offers a self study guide to probe the problems of consciousness including a concise but rigorous introduction to classical and quantum information theory theoretical neuroscience and philosophy of the mind It aims to address long standing problems related to consciousness within the framework of modern theoretical physics in a comprehensible manner that elucidates the nature of the mind body relationship The reader also gains an overview of methods for constructing and testing quantum informational theories of consciousness

The Gift of Being Yourself David G. Benner, 2015-09-24 In the expanded edition of this profound exploration of Christian identity David G Benner illuminates the spirituality of self discovery He exposes the false selves that you may hide behind and calls you to discover the true self that emerges from your uniqueness in Christ Deepen your experience of God through discovering the gift of being yourself
