Doomsday or Deterrence? Ferenc Fehér,Agnes Heller,2018-10-24 Doomsday or Deterrence argues against the majority of premises and conclusions of the antinuclear argument as existed in 1986 when this study was first published Fehér and Heller's study claims that social changes are important to curb technology trends that lean toward the construction of nuclear weapons as well as using the West as its own value that needs to be defended and emphasising the importance of understanding the true feelings behind the antinuclear argument This title will be of interest to students of politics and international relations Ideology and the New Social Movements Alan Scott,2023-02-03 First published in 1990 Ideology and the New Social Movements provides an incisive and much needed assessment of debates concerning the nature and motivation of social movements and collective action In particular Alan Scott focuses upon the competing theoretical explanations of the rise and character of the new social movements in North America and Europe After introducing the major themes in the debate about new social movements the book reviews mainstream theories both functionalist and neo Marxist then moves on to a discussion of sociological economic and political writings Specific examples most notably the rise of the West German Greens are used to assess the value of the different approaches Alan Scott argues that theories of long term change such as the transition to the post industrial society give insufficient attention to the political and organizational aspects of social movements and exaggerate the differences between older class based movements and new politics He concludes by arguing that the idea of social closure that can accommodate questions of allegiance and identity and control of resources has considerable explanatory power and can encompass the cultural and political aspects of social movements This book will be of interest to students of sociology political science and urban studies      Social Movements in an Organizational Society Mayer N.
