Shared Idioms, Sacred Symbols, and the Articulation of Identities in South Asia Kelly Pemberton,Michael Nijhawan,2009-01-13 How do text performance and rhetoric

simultaneously reflect and challenge notions of distinct community and religious identities This volume examines evidence of shared idioms of sanctity within a larger framework of religious nationalism literary productions and communalism in South Asia Contributors to this volume are particularly interested in how alternative forms of belonging and religious imaginations in South Asia are articulated in the light of normative authoritative and exclusive claims upon the representation of identities Building upon new and extensive historiographical and ethnographical data the book challenges clear cut categorizations of group identity and points to the complex historical and contemporary relationships between different groups organizations in part by investigating the discursive formations that are often subsumed under binary distinctions of dominant subaltern Hindu Muslim or orthodox heterodox In this respect the book offers a theoretical contribution beyond South Asia Studies by highlighting a need for a new interdisciplinary effort in rethinking notions of identity ethnicity and religion South Asia's Cold War Rajesh M. Basrur,2008-04-28 This book is a ground breaking analysis of the India Pakistan nuclear confrontation as a form of cold war that is a hostile relationship between nuclear rivals Drawing on nuclear rivalries between similar pairs United States Soviet Union United States China Soviet Union China and United States North Korea the work examines the rise process and potential end of the cold war between India and Pakistan It identifies the three factors driving the India Pakistan rivalry ideational factors stemming from partition oppositional roles created by the distribution of power in South Asia and the particular kind of relationship created by nuclear weapons The volume assesses why India and Pakistan continue in non crisis times to think about power and military force in outmoded ways embedded in pre nuclear times and draws lessons applicable to them as well as to other contemporary nuclear powers and states that might be engaged in future cold wars Routledge Handbook of the International Relations of South Asia Sumit Ganguly, Frank

O'Donnell,2022-10-28 This handbook offers a comprehensive overview of the international relations of South Asia South Asia as a region is increasingly assuming greater significance in global politics for a host of compelling reasons This volume offers the most comprehensive collection of perspectives on the international politics of South Asia and it covers an extensive range of issues spanning from inter state wars to migration in the region Each contribution provides a careful discussion of the four major theoretical approaches to the study of international politics Realism Constructivism Liberalism and Critical Theory In turn the chapters discuss the relevance of each approach to the issue area addressed in the book The volume offers coverage of the key issues under four thematic sections Theoretical Approaches to the Study of the International Relations of South Asia Traditional and Emerging Security Issues in South Asia The International Relations of South Asia Cross cutting Regional Issues Further every effort has been made in the chapters to discuss the origins evolution and future direction of each issue This book will be of much interest to students of South Asian politics human security regional security and International Relations in general War and Nationalism in South Asia Marcus Franke,2009-01-21 This book presents and analyses the oldest sub national war of postcolonial South Asia between the Indian state and the Nagas of Northeast India It offers a serious and thorough political history on the Naga region over three periods pre colonial colonial and post colonial Drawing on a wealth of primary sources and comparative and theoretical literature Marcus Franke demonstrates that agency and identity formation are an on going process that neither started nor ended with colonialism Although the interaction of the local population with colonialism produced a Naga national lite it was the emergence of the Indian political class with access to superior means of nation and state building that was able to undertake the modern Indo Naga war This war firmly made the Nagas into a nation and that set them onto the road to independence War and Nationalism in South Asia fundamentally revises our understanding of the existing histories of the Nagas by exposing them to be influenced by colonial or post colonial narratives of domination Furthermore by placing the region into the longue dur e of state formation with its involved technique of imperial rule the book presents a new approach to the study of nationalism and war in South Asia in general This book will be of interest to students and scholars of politics history anthropology and South Asian studies

Decolonization in South Asia Sekhar Bandyopadhyay, 2009-06-03 This book explores the meanings and complexities of India s experience of transition from colonial to the post colonial period It focuses on the first five years from independence on 15th August 1947 to the first general election in January 1952 in the politics of West Bengal the new Indian province that was created as a result of the Partition The author a specialist on the history of modern India discusses what freedom actually meant to various individuals communities and political parties how they responded to it how they extended its meaning and how in their anxiety to confront the realities of free India they began to invent new enemies of their newly acquired freedom By emphasising the representations of popular mentality rather than the institutional changes brought in by the process of decolonization he draws attention to other concerns and anxieties that were related to the problems of coming to terms with the newly achieved freedom and the responsibility of devising independent rules of governance that would suit the historic needs of a pluralist nation Decolonization in South Asia analyses the transitional politics of West Bengal in light of recent developments in postcolonial theory on nationalism treating the nation as a space for contestation rather than a natural breeding ground for homogeneity in the complex political scenario of post independence India It will appeal to academics interested in political science sociology social anthropology and cultural and Asian studies The Politics of Nuclear Weapons in South Asia Dr Bhumitra Chakma, 2013-04-28 An important and critical re evaluation of South Asia s post tests nuclear politics in contrast to other books this volume emphasises the political dimension of South Asia s nuclear weapons explains how the bombs are used as politico strategic assets rather than pure battlefield weapons and how India and Pakistan utilise them for politico strategic purposes in an extremely complex and competitive South Asian strategic landscape Written by a group of perceptive observers of South Asia this volume evaluates the current state of Indo Pakistani nuclear deterrents the challenges that the two countries confront in building their nuclear forces the post test nuclear doctrines of the two strategic rivals the implications of Indo Pakistani politics for regional cooperation the role of two systemic actors USA and China in the region's nuclear politics and the critical issues of confidence building and nuclear arms control

The Politics of Nuclear Weapons in South Asia Bhumitra Chakma, 2016-02-24

An important and critical re-evaluation of South Asia's post-tests nuclear politics in contrast to other books, this volume emphasises the political dimension of South Asia's nuclear weapons, explains how the bombs are used as politico-strategic assets rather than pure battlefield weapons, and how India and Pakistan utilise them for politico-strategic purposes in an extremely complex and competitive South Asian strategic landscape. Written by a group of perceptive observers of South Asia, this volume evaluates the current state of Indo-Pakistani nuclear deterrents, the challenges that the two countries confront in building their nuclear forces, the post-test nuclear doctrines of the two strategic rivals, the implications of Indo-Pakistani politics for regional cooperation, the role of two systemic actors USA and China in the region's nuclear politics, and the critical issues of confidence building and nuclear arms control.
