Modernity And Tradition Contemporary Architecture In Pakistan:

Modernity and Tradition Kamil Khan Mumtaz, 1999 The book explores some of the central issues in the current discourse on transitional cultures in a world increasingly dominated by technological innovations and rapidly changing values Critiquing modernity as a Euro centric ideology which has little relevance or meaning in the context of cultures with different experiences of history sensitivities and belief systems the book presents the traditional perspective rooted in perennial wisdom as an alternative framework Here not only do art and architecture have a positive and constructive role and function but human endeavour generally can find a purpose and direction

Islamabad and the Politics of International Development in Pakistan Markus Daechsel, 2015-03-19 This book offers a transnational history of Pakistan's development in the 1950s and 1960s and the creation of the capital city Islamabad

Urban Architecture and Local Spaces in Pakistan Suneela Ahmed, 2022-10-27 This book is set in Karachi Pakistan and investigates the possibility of achieving localness through identifying urban process and their impact on built form addressing how locals associate with the urban spaces and how they value it Thus the investigation using the local terminology maqamiyat goes beyond the physicality of space and develops a framework that helps to understand the social ethnic economic ecological and other the non physical aspects of space which are of value to the locals The aim is to investigate the possibility of achieving localness through identifying urban design elements that can be incorporated into the process of designing new built forms that acknowledges what is valued by the locals instead of superimposing imported designs negating the contextual realities both physical and social For this purpose the book includes three case studies from Karachi The book questions the aspiration of many cities in the South Asian context to imitate the built forms of Western cities increasingly Singapore and Shanghai which are viewed as modern and represents future The book will make a theoretical contribution to the existing literature on postcolonial urbanism and explore space from a local vantage point for understanding how to look inwards for aspiration

Cities and Islamisms Bülent Batuman, 2020-12-21 This book sheds light on a particular facet of the link between politics and Islam through the analysis of the relationship between Islamism and the built environment The relationship between Islam and politics has always been controversial yet it has possibly never been as controversial as it is at the time of writing This new edited volume sets out to explore the interactions between Islamisms and the built environment through issues such as spatial negotiations between nation and Islam in the definition of national identity everyday spaces and the making of Islamic milieus the role of Islam in the making and or remaking of state ideology via architecture and urban planning the influence of globalization and transnational links on the spatial manifestations of Islamism and transnational architectural exchanges through global Islam It expands on these issues through case studies analysing the role of the built environment and the urban realm as major media in the making of Islamist politics The case studies incorporate manifestations in Muslim dominated countries including those where Islam has been at the heart of state ideology Pakistan and Brunei those with influential grassroots Islamist networks pre revolutionary Iran and Indonesia those that identify with Islam through global exchanges United Arab Emirates Kazakhstan and Turkey and countries where Islam is an increasingly significant reference utilized by political actors Algeria and Lebanon This book will appeal to students and scholars of architecture urban studies and cultural studies as well as those interested in the social and political aspects of the built environment

Cities in South Asia Crispin Bates, Minoru Mio, 2015-05-22 Globalisation has long historical roots in South Asia but economic liberalisation has led to uniquely rapid urban growth in South Asia during the past decade This book brings together a multidisciplinary collection of chapters on contemporary and historical themes explaining this recent explosive growth and transformations on going in the cities of this region The essays in this volume attempt to shed light on the historical roots of these cities and the traditions that are increasingly placed under strain by modernity as well as exploring the lived experience of a new generation of city dwellers and their indelible impact on those who live at the city's margins The book discusses that previously cities such as Mumbai grew by accumulating a vast hinterland of slum dwellers who depressed wages and supplied cheap labour to the city's industrial economy However it goes on to show that the new growth of cities such as Bangalore Hyderabad and Madras in south India or Delhi and Calcutta in the north of India is more capital intensive export driven and oriented towards the information technology and service sectors The book explains that these cities have attracted a new elite of young educated workers with money to spend and an outlook on life that is often a complex mix of modern ideas and conservative tradition It goes on to cover topics such as the politics of town planning consumer culture and the struggles among multiple identities in the city By tracing the genealogies of cities it gives a useful insight into the historical conditioning that determines how cities negotiate new changes and influences There will soon be more mega cities in South Asia than anywhere else in the world and this book provides an in depth analysis of this growth It will be of interest to students and scholars of South Asian History Politics and Anthropology as well as those working in the fields of urbanisation and globalisation

The Politics of Making Mark Swenarton, Igea Troiani, Helena Webster, 2013-04-15 A unique collection of contemporary writings this book explores the politics involved in the making and experiencing of architecture and cities from a cross cultural and global perspective Taking a broad view of the word politics the essays address a range of questions including What is the relationship between politics and the making of space What role has theory played in reinforcing or resisting political power What are the political difficulties associated with working relationships Do the products of our making construct our identity or liberate us A timely volume focusing on an interdisciplinary debate on the politics of making this is valuable reading for all students professionals and academics interested or working in architectural theory

Colonial and Post-colonial Governance of Islam Marcel Maussen, Veit-Michael Bader, Annelies Moors, 2011 Colonial and post colonial governance of Islam is een heldere weergave van de kansen en belemmeringen voor de islam vanuit een bestuurlijke benadering met speciale aandacht voor de voortdurende strijd rond de codificatie van islamitisch onderwijs religieuze autoriteit wetgeving en praktijk De auteurs
