Modernization Without Revolution Lebanon's Experience:

Modernization Without Revolution Elie Adib Salem, 1973 Monograph on modernization and social change in Lebanon with particular reference to the political aspects thereof examines the country's unique political system and the role of the various ethnic groups and elites etc discusses the relationship of the bureaucracy to the political power structure describes planning for modernization and considers alternative courses for the future References and statistical tables

Democratisation and Power-Sharing in Stormy Weather Tamirace Fakhoury Mühlbacher, 2009-11-14 Is democracy possible only in homogeneous societies Does heterogeneity preclude a stable democracy Throughout history ethnic linguistic or religious homogeneity whether by circumstance coercion or choice has seemingly been conducive to democracy In France democracy was established after the imposition of religious uniformity and the revocation of the Edict of Nantes The United States pulled in immigrants who renounced their original affiliations to forge a new identity in a newly born state Still defying assumptions democracies have emerged in heterogeneous states such as the Swiss Confederation the Successor States of the Holy Roman Empire and later those carved out of the previous colonial empires One common feature is the failure of often violent attempts to enforce homogeneity or the lack of any such attempt in the first place In the course of time these divided societies have learned to live in diversity to pacify their differences and to find a path towards peace or at least accommodation In sum they went beyond forms of separating powers to sharing power Whether defined by ethnicity language religion or even ideology communities agreed to a pact on participating in a joint government based on proportional or even equal representation It is noteworthy that political systems based on power sharing were long marginal in mainstream political science which laid an emphasis on democratic transitions in homogeneous societies and on socio economic or cultural prerequisites that facilitate the rise of democracy

The Economies of the Arab World Yusuf Sayigh, 2014-10-30 This book a comprehensive study of twelve of the economies of key countries of the Arab world has three main objectives to record the developmental achievements and failings of each country to examine the main issues arising in the drive for development and to assess the future outlook for development for each country Most of the countries studied only gained independence from their colonial masters in recent decades and the process of economic development has necessarily been accompanied by political development First published in 1978

Middle East Christianity Stephan Stetter, Mitra Moussa Nabo, 2020-01-31 Drawing from theories of world society and from historical sociological theories the book studies the past present and future of Middle East Christianity It focuses on the interplay between local practices and post colonial entanglements in global modernity The chapters of this book engage inspired by these theories key empirical dynamics that affect Middle East Christianity This includes a historical overview on the history of Christians in the region the relationship between Islam and Christianity as well as case studies on the Maronites in Lebanon Egypt's Copts the role of Protestant missionaries in the 19th century processes of individualization amongst Middle East Christians as well as papal diplomacy in the region      The Middle East (Routledge Revivals) W. B. Fisher, 2013-09-13 In this comprehensive study first published in 1950 Professor Fisher examines all the principal elements physical and human that influence environment development and ways of life in the Middle East An analysis of the physical basis of the region is followed by detailed treatment of the complex human and social aspects a concluding section brings together on a regional basis the elements discussed in the first two parts With first hand experience within the Middle East Fisher presents a detailed and fascinating study based on surveys and investigations he personally carried out Including wide ranging geographical historical sociological and political perspectives this title provides essential background to anyone with an interest in Middle Eastern affairs      Religion and

Fertility Joseph Chamie, 1981-04-30 This work is a critical investigation into the relationship between religious affiliation on the one hand and fertility family size preferences and family planning behaviour on the other Dr Chamie works from a set of unique data the 1971 Fertility and Family Planning Survey in Lebanon This survey is not only a national study of Lebanese fertility but also a large scale survey 2 800 people offering the opportunity to study Arab Christian Muslim differentials Lebanon s demographic situation has far greater scientific and practical importance than might be supposed from its relatively small population From observing the important religious communities at different stages of social and economic development Dr Chamie has thus been able to analyse the interacting effects of religion and socio economic development on reproductive behaviour      Administration and Development in the Arab World Jamil Jreisat, Zaki R. Ghosheh, 2016-03-22 This book first published in 1986 examines the literature on administration human resources and development in the Arab world It emphasizes contemporary societies and their internal dynamics the least known and most critical aspects of Arabic studies

Local Politics And Development In The Middle East Louis J. Cantori, 2019-02-26 Although development at the local level is a primary goal of most assistance schemes most development agencies and banks know little of politics at the local level in developing countries As a result assistance programs generally lack relevance to indigenous populations and are at the community level viewed as being controlled from the outside The authors of this book concentrate on how local politics influence development in the Middle East with the intent of encouraging more appropriate and thus more effective assistance programs They discuss general policy issues and the nature of center periphery relations in Middle East countries and delve into specific problems encountered in Egypt Jordan Lebanon Syria Iraq Turkey Tunisia and North Yemen showing how information about local political schemes can aid administrators of development programs in providing assistance that is acceptable and accepted at the local level The case studies provide a broad base for planning encompassing capitalist state capitalist and socialist systems in both rural and urban settings      The Making Of Modern Lebanon Helena

Cobban, 2019-09-10 This book provides a vivid and readable account of Lebanon s development since its first emergence in 1585 unravelling the intricacies of the sectarian religious groups and the special kinds of communities which have sunk 900 year old roots in the remote fastnesses of the Mount Lebanon interior      Trade and Investment in the Middle East Rodney

Wilson,1977-06-17      Rethinking the Economics of War Cynthia J. Arnson,I. William Zartman,2005-10-12 This collection of essays questions the adequacy of explaining today s internal armed conflicts purely in terms of economic factors and re establishes the importance of identity and grievances in creating and sustaining such wars Countries studied include Lebanon Angola Colombia and Afghanistan      Language Policy and National Unity William R. Beer,James Jacob,1985-06 The central focus of each chapter is language policy and how it accomplishes or fails to accomplish the task of maintaining national unity in the face of linguistic diversity Included among the nations considered are examples of postcolonial cultures as well as nations that have sheltered linguistic minorities within their borders throughout their history countries fragmented into tribal groups and those divided by a plethora of local dialects      Banking on the State Hicham Safieddine,2019-07-02 In 1943 Lebanon gained its formal political independence from France only after two more decades did the country finally establish a national central bank Inaugurated on April 1 1964 the Banque du Liban BDL was billed by Lebanese authorities as the nation s primary symbol of economic sovereignty and as the last step towards full independence In the local press it was described as a means of projecting state power and enhancing national pride Yet the history of its founding stretching from its Ottoman origins in mid nineteenth century up until the mid twentieth tells a different more complex story Banking on the State reveals how the financial foundations of Lebanon were shaped by the history of the standardization of economic practices and financial regimes within the decolonizing world The system of central banking that emerged was the product of a complex interaction of war economic policies international financial regimes post colonial state building global currents of technocratic knowledge and private business interests It served rather than challenged the interests of an oligarchy of local bankers As Hicham Safieddine shows the set of arrangements that governed the central bank thus was dictated by dynamics of political power and financial profit more than market forces national interest or economic sovereignty      Palestine in the Arab Dilemma (RLE Israel and Palestine) Walid W. Kazziha,2015-05-22 For a long time the understanding of the Palestinian question has been dominated by the views offered by the Arab governments on the Israeli establishment But any close examination of the policies of the Arab regimes would reveal that they have done very little to alleviate the plight of the Palestinians Since the defeat of the Arab regime in June 1967 an increasing number of Arab scholars and intellectuals have been seriously and independently involved in reassessing the political and social conditions of their societies This book first published in 1979 is part of that more general attempt to discover the deep rooted causes of defeat and the general state of socio economic underdevelopment of the Arab region The central theme of the four essays in this study pertains to the fluctuating relationship between the Arab regimes and the Palestinian Resistance Movement It is within this context that the first essay examines the various factors which shaped the relationship at different intervals The second then goes on to present a case study of how the contradictions between the Arab regimes and the Resistance Movement operate in a crisis situation and reach the level of an armed confrontation The third essay examines the prospects for peace and war in the region in the light of the political conditions given before Sadat's visit to Israel And finally the fourth essay is concerned with Sadat's peace initiative and its consequences on the relations between Egypt and the Palestinian Resistance Movement

Linkage Politics and Coercive Diplomacy Paul H. B. Godwin, Lewis B. Ware, 1976 The French Language and National Identity (1930-1975) David C. Gordon, 2015-07-01 No detailed description available for The French Language and National Identity 1930-1975

The World Bank and Governance Diane L. Stone, Christopher Wright, 2006-09-27 This timely book offers the first critical examination of World Bank policy reforms and initiatives during the past decade The World Bank is viewed as one of the most powerful international organizations of our time The authors critically analyze the influence of the institution's policy and engagement during the past decade in a variety of issue areas including human rights domestic reform and the environment The World Bank and Governance delves into the bowels of the World Bank exploring its organizational structure professional culture and bureaucratic procedures illustrating how these shape its engagement with an increasingly complex diverse and challenging operational environment The book includes chapters on two under researched divisions of the World Bank the International Finance Corporation and the Multilateral Investment Guarantee Agency Several illuminating country studies are also included analyzing the World Bank's activities in Argentina Bolivia Lebanon Hungary and Vietnam This volume will be of great interest to students and scholars of international relations development politics and economics

The Politics of Dispossession Edward W. Said, 1995-05-30 Author of the groundbreaking The Question of Palestine Edward Said has been America's most outspoken advocate for Palestinian self determination As these collected essays amply prove he is also our most intelligent and bracingly heretical writer on affairs involving not only Palestinians but also the Arab and Muslim worlds and their tortuous relations with the West Solidly imbued with historical context and geopolitical conjecture fresh unpredictable personal and incorruptible writing Boston Globe In The Politics of Dispossession Said traces his people's struggle for statehood through twenty five years of exile from the PLO's bloody 1970 exile from Jordan through the debacle of the Gulf War and the ambiguous 1994 peace accord with Israel As frank as he is about his personal involvement in that struggle Said is equally unsparing in his demolition of Arab icons and American shibboleths Stylish impassioned and informed by a magisterial knowledge of history and literature The Politics of Dispossession is a masterly synthesis of scholarship and polemic that has the power to redefine the debate over the Middle East

Background Notes, Lebanon, 1990

Non-Western Identity Byron G. Adams, Fons J. R. van de Vijver, 2022-02-02 Identity is a construct strongly rooted and still predominantly studied in Western or WEIRD Western educated industrialized rich and democratic contexts e.g. North American and Western European Only recently has there been more of a conscious effort to study identity in non-Western or non-WEIRD contexts This edited volume investigates identity from primarily a non-Western perspective by studying non-Western contexts and non-Western minority or immigrant groups living in Western contexts The contributions examine different aspects of identity e.g. personal identity social identity online identity as either independent or interrelated constructs b consider the associations of these constructs with aspects of intergroup relations acculturative processes and or psychological well being c document the advancement in research on identity in underrepresented groups contexts and regions such as Africa Asia Eastern Europe the Middle East and South America and d evaluate different approaches to the study of identity and the implications thereof This book is intended for cultural or cross cultural academics practitioners educators social workers postgraduate students undergraduate students and scholars interested in studying identity It provides insight into how identity in non Western groups and contexts may both be informed by and may inform Western theoretical perspectives
