Modernising Super-exploitation Tessa Marcus,1989

The Agrarian Question in South Africa Henry Bernstein,2014-01-21 This is the first collection of its kind It presents a critical political economy of the agrarian question in post apartheid South Africa informed by the results of research undertaken since the transition from apartheid started in 1990 The articles by well known South African British and American scholars cover a variety of topical theoretical empirical and policy issues firmly rooted in an historical perspective

The Decline of the South African Economy Stuart Jones,2002-01-01 South Africa s leading economists adopt within this volume a sectoral approach in their analysis of the drastic changes that have occurred within the South African economy since 1970 The book illustrates how despite its sophisticated infrastructure the South African economy has shared in the economic decline resulting from misguided economic policies that has been the experience of Sub Saharan Africa The contributors argue that the failure of manufacturing to maintain the country s economic growth once the output of the gold mines began to decline is central to an understanding of events and outcomes in the economy Government policy towards manufacturing has played a major part in the decline of the South African economy but this has however tended to be overlooked as a result of the turbulence generated by the political events unfolding in South Africa

Distortions to Agricultural Incentives in Africa Kym Anderson,William A. Masters,2009-03-13 The vast majority of the world s poorest households depend on farming for their livelihoods During the 1960s and 1970s most developing countries imposed pro urban and anti agricultural policies while many high income countries restricted agricultural imports and subsidized their farmers Both sets of policies inhibited economic growth and poverty alleviation in developing countries Although progress has been made over the past two decades to reduce those policy biases many trade and welfare reducing price distortions remain between agriculture and other sectors and within the agricultural sector of both rich and poor countries Comprehensive empirical studies of the disarray in world agricultural markets appeared approximately 20 years ago Since then the Organisation for Economic Co operation and Development has provided estimates each year of market distortions in high income countries but there have been no comparable estimates for the world s developing countries This volume is the third in a series other volumes cover Asia Europe s transition economies and Latin America and the Caribbean that not only fills that void for recent years but extends the estimates in a consistent and comparable way back in time and provides analytical narratives for scores of countries that shed light on the evolving nature and extent of policy interventions over the past half century Distortions to Agricultural Incentives in Africa provides an overview of the evolution of distortions to agricultural incentives caused by price and trade policies in the Arab Republic of Egypt plus 20 countries that account for about of 90 percent of Sub Saharan Africa s population farm households agricultural output and overall GDP Sectoral trade and exchange rate policies in the region have changed greatly since the 1950s and there have been substantial reforms since the 1980s Nonetheless numerous price distortions in this region remain others have been added in recent years and there has also been some backsliding such as in Zimbabwe The new empirical indicators in these country studies provide a strong evidence based foundation for assessing the successes and failures of the past and for evaluating policy options for the years ahead South Africa, Past, Present and Future Tony Binns, Alan Lester, Etienne Nel, 2014-09-25 This is the first book to combine a discussion of post apartheid development initiatives with an extended historical analysis of South Africa's dynamic race class gender and ethnic identities Bringing together the research of an historical geographer and two development geographers the book enables us to locate the post apartheid transition in a broad historical and spatial perspective Within this perspective the limitations as well as the achievements of South Africa's current transformation are highlighted

African Nurse Pioneers in KwaZulu/Natal - 1920-2000 Mazo Sybil T. Buthelezi, 2004 This book is about seven African nurse pioneers in KwaZulu Natal from 1920 to 2000 The author captures the early nursing activities of the 1920s to 1970 and then moves to nurses that entered the health services in the 1950s The author also presents two nurses that worked outside South Africa i.e. did their pioneering nursing in Saudi Arabia and the United States of America The author does not scoop nursing out of its context but creates a narrative that resonates in lived experiences in a world dominated by the

Africanization of poverty the feminization of poverty globalization racism and xenophobia The Agrarian Question in Southern Africa and "accumulation from Below" M. Neocosmos, 1993 Restructuring in Commercial Agriculture in South Africa Tessa Marcus, 1986 Environment and Sustainable Development in Eastern and Southern Africa Abdel Ghaffar M. Ahmed, Wilfred Mlay, 2016-07-27 This book sheds light on the sources of environmental concerns in Africa It shows that not all environmental issues command the same priority interest and thus emphasis must be laid on those that are of pressing concern to the continent as a whole and to the Eastern and Southern African regions in particular The case studies address this topic in detail

Chiefs of the Plantation Lincoln Addison, 2019-08-15 South African agriculture is characterized by growing labour unrest evinced in recent years by high profile strikes but little is known about the sources and forms of day to day struggle In Chiefs of the Plantation Lincoln Addison examines how labour conflict is fuelled by changing management practices and how workers respond and resist across spatial sexual and spiritual domains Depicting in rich ethnographic detail daily life on a plantation Addison describes how agriculture has been restructured in the post apartheid era through a delegation of authority from white landowners to black intermediaries He explains that while this labour regime enables the profitability of plantations it gives rise to a fragile moral economy in which perceptions of what is tolerable and what is exploitation frequently clash In this environment transactional sex and Christian worship emerge as important terrains of gendered and spiritual contestation where women and low ranking workers remain resilient in the face of unequal power relations Meanwhile plantations project an appearance of benevolent paternalism particularly in the narratives and self identity of white landowners This book reveals how in the everyday life of the community both the plantation and the compound where the workers live serve as central grounds for the negotiation of labour relations A groundbreaking study that uncovers how migrant plantation workers challenge their exploitation Chiefs of the Plantation is a rare glimpse into the often hidden world of labour struggle on contemporary plantations No More Tears Richard Levin, Daniel Weiner, 1997 This text demonstrates why incorporating extensive knowledge that exists in poor rural areas into development of land and reform policies is essential for truly democratic social and economic transformation The Women And International Development Annual, Volume 4 Rita S Gallin, Anne E Ferguson, Janice Harper, 2019-08-29 This annual series published in co operation with the Women in International Development Program at Michigan State University uses a multidisciplinary approach to explore women s experiences across a wide range of geographical areas economic sectors and societal institutions The articles presented in each volume synthesize a growing body of literature on key issues suggest priorities for research and propose changes in development policy and programming Each volume is divided into three major sections In the first contributors distill and interpret research in review articles in the second a trend report they provide original analysis of existing data sets and in the final section they analyze a specific research concern from varying perspectives Wine's Evolving Globalization Kym Anderson, Vicente Pinilla, 2018-02-22 This book uses empirically based analytical narratives to shed light on the development of national wine markets throughout the world Making a Living Elizabeth Francis, 2019-05-20 Livelihoods in rural Africa are changing in response to disappearing job prospects falling agricultural output and collapsing infrastructure This book explains why the responses to these challenges are so different in different parts of Africa Making a Living uses case studies from commercial farming regions in Kenya Tanzania and Zimbabwe and from much poorer areas within eastern and southern Africa to give a broad comparative study of rural livelihoods These case studies reveal how household relations poverty and gender all play a part in the changing political economy of rural Africa The Age of Apology Mark Gibney, 2008 In The Age of Apology twenty two law politics and human rights scholars explore the legal political social historical moral religious and anthropological aspects of Western apologies Geography in a Changing South Africa Christian Myles Rogerson, J. J. McCarthy, 1992 Geography in the 1990s is a dynamic and diverse discipline South Africa offers a particularly rich and fascinating subject for research because of its unique blend of First and Third Worlds and the challenges presented by political change The contributors to this volume debate geographical issues which are at the cutting edge of contemporary local and international research on South Africa Environmental degradation urban and rural planning transport the future role of women and popular culture are among the broad range of topics covered A full listing of current research into these topics is provided at the end of the book to facilitate further enquiry Working on the Margins Blair Rutherford, 2001-09 Explores the outer margins of postcolonial culture state and economy This fieldwork rich study focuses on the flue cured tobacco farms that produce Zimbabwe s number one export Building on Foucault s concept of government the book addresses power struggle and accumulation on farms

Derman: In the Shadow of a Conflict, 2023-01-10 Zimbabwe has cast a powerful regional and international shadow since it became independent in 1980 and more recently through the crises of the first decade of the twenty first century The 2000s were a decade of combined political economic and social crises in Zimbabwe following what had been a relatively successful twenty years of independence since 1980 The scale depth and severity of the crises evolving since 2000 have been as dramatic as they have been unexpected While there has been substantial coverage of the internal consequences of Zimbabwe s crises less attention has been paid to its regional and cross border consequences In explaining the ongoing processes stemming from the crises this book looks at three neighboring countries Mozambique South Africa and Zambia to depict how over time they have experienced and interpreted events in Zimbabwe how they have dealt with Zimbabweans entering their territories and how they have or have not formulated policies and developed practices to cope with the arrival of new and mainly undocumented Zimbabwean immigrants

Capital Penetration and the Peasantry in Southern and Eastern Africa
Freedom Mazwi, George Tonderai Mudimu, Kirk Helliker, 2022-02-12 This book examines the impact of neoliberalism on peasant agriculture as a key livelihood strategy in Southern and Eastern Africa against the background of the current development crisis and the crossroads that Southern and Eastern Africa faces It systematically analyses how the neoliberal architecture has deepened extroverted production for capitalist accumulation and how this has been to the detriment of the rural labour force and small scale and communal landowners Apart from examining how neoliberalism has triggered land alienations the book further argues that such policies have also impacted negatively on food security in a number of ways The book presents empirical evidence through twelve case studies emerging from in depth original fieldwork carried out in seven countries in the Southern and Eastern African region This book is a must read for scholars of economics sociology anthropology history agrarian studies and political science as well as practitioners and policy makers interested in a better understanding of the impact of the agrarian neoliberal restructuring on the peasantry in Southern Africa
