The Moderns Amiri Baraka,1963 Short fiction by William Eastlake Edward Dorn Douglas Woolf Paul Metcalf John Rechy Michael Rumaker Robert Creeley Fielding Dawson Hubert Selby Jr Jack Kerouac William Burroughs LeRoi Jones Diane di Prima and Russell Edson      The Moderns Amiri Baraka,1965      The Moderns. An Anthology of New Writing in America. Edited with an Introduction by LeRoi Jones Amiri Baraka,1963      The Moderns. An Anthology of New Writing in America. Edited with an Introduction by Leroi Jones LeRoi JONES,1965      The Moderns Le Roi Jones,2017-02-17 Excerpt from The Moderns An Anthology of New Writing in America The purpose of this anthology and from such statement ought also to be presented its design was not merely to get together stories and pieces I happen to like cookbook style but to present those writers who have impressed me over the range of say 10 years or so as having something to say in a prose medium that was in adjunct to the artful writing of the marketplace It was not merely in terms of a generation of writers there being as much as twenty years separation between some of these writers ages but more towards I think a quality of writing that has come to clarify itself more and more at each publication as the most interesting and exciting writing that has taken place in this country since the war The vital and in some cases very much publicized activity that has returned American poetry to a great measure of emotional and intellectual hegemony among the world's poetries after about thirty years of its representation as a patently unreadable graduate student verse has certainly helped bring my selections more directly in focus There is a definite connection between the so called poetic renaissance and the literary environment that delineates the writers included in this volume from the thousands of other prose writers who live in this country The prose and the writers in this volume are very different from the prose and the writers that would show up say in an anthology gotten together by Herbert Gold or James Baldwin or Norman Mailer and I mention these names in specific relief only because any one familiar with contemporary American fiction on any but the most parochial level will know the personalities that inhabit the most popular literary establishment of our time One of the reasons for such an open statement of difference is that I am most responsive to writing that shows a care for deeper involvement beyond the specific instance of its virtues as literature About the Publisher Forgotten Books publishes hundreds of thousands of rare and classic books Find more at www.forgottenbooks.com This book is a reproduction of an important historical work Forgotten Books uses state of the art technology to digitally reconstruct the work preserving the original format whilst repairing imperfections present in the aged copy In rare cases an imperfection in the original such as a blemish or missing page may be replicated in our edition We do however repair the vast majority of imperfections successfully any imperfections that remain are intentionally left to preserve the state of such historical works      MODERNS LEROI. JONES,2018      Race and the Modern Artist Heather Hathaway,Josef Jarab,Jeffrey Melnick,2003-01-16 Definitions of modernism have been debated throughout the twentieth century But both during the height of the modernist era and since little to no consideration has been given to the work of minority writers as part of this movement Considering works by writers ranging from B A Botkin T S Eliot Waldo Frank and Jean Toomer to Pedro Pietri and Allen Ginsberg these essays examine the disputed relationships between modernity modernism and American cultural diversity In so doing the collection as a whole adds an important new dimension to our understanding of twentieth century literature The New Cambridge Bibliography of English Literature: Volume 4, 1900-1950 George Watson, I. R. Willison, 1972-12-07 More than fifty specialists have contributed to this new edition of volume 4 of The Cambridge Bibliography of English Literature The design of the original work has established itself so firmly as a workable solution to the immense problems of analysis articulation and coordination that it has been retained in all its essentials for the new edition The task of the new contributors has been to revise and integrate the lists of 1940 and 1957 to add materials of the following decade to correct and refine the bibliographical details already available and to reshape the whole according to a new series of conventions devised to give greater clarity and consistency to the entries

Iraq's Modern Arabic Literature Salih J. Altoma, 2010-10-14 Covering 60 years of materials this bibliography cites translations studies and other writings which represent Iraq's national literature including recent works of numerous Iraqi writers living in Western exile The volume serves as a guide to three interrelated data o Translations that have appeared since 1950 as books or as individual items poems short stories novel extracts plays diaries in print and non print publications in Iraq and other Arab and English speaking countries including Australia Canada the United Kingdom and the United States o Relevant studies and other secondary sources including selected reviews and author interviews which cover Iraqi literature and writers o The scope of displacement or dispersion of Iraqi writers artists and other intellectuals who have been uprooted and are now living in exile in Arab or other Western countries By drawing attention to a largely overlooked but relevant and extensive literature accessible in English this first of its kind book will serve as an invaluable guide to students of contemporary Iraq modern Arabic literature and other fields such as women's studies postcolonial studies third world literature American Arab Muslim Relations and Diaspora studies Early Modern Women's Writing and the Future of Literary History Lara Dodds, Michelle M. Dowd, 2025-02-03 Early Modern Women's Writing and the Future of Literary History demonstrates that a full accounting of early modern women's literary and creative activities is necessary to the future of literary studies writ large Despite benefiting from a rich body of scholarship and diverse critical practices early modern women's writing is still treated as an optional or secondary component of Renaissance literary studies as a whole In this book Dodds and Dowd offer a state of the field assessment of the critical and theoretical debates that have resulted in this state of affairs in order to advance specific visions for the future Dodds and Dowd examine how perennial questions about authorship canon and literary value have historically influenced scholarship on early modern women's writing and its place within literary studies Early modern women's writing has been perceived as belated out of sync with dominant critical trends Dodds and Dowd show the belatedness of early modern women's writing to be a happy accident that positions women's writing as a resource for the renewal of literary history In both the classroom and in scholarship early modern women's writing shows the way forward for the field whether in the revitalization of formalist approaches to literature through an alliance with feminism or in the integration of newer critical methodologies such as premodern critical race studies This book demonstrates that a feminist literary history that places women's writing at its center is essential to the future of English Renaissance literary studies There is in other words no history of English Renaissance literature without women writers Beat Film, Beat Writers David Stephen Calonne, 2024-10-25 Beat Film Beat Writers is the first monograph to analyze the films of Christopher Maclaine Lawrence Jordan Ruth Weiss Ron Rice Robert Frank Barbara Rubin Shirley Clarke William S Burroughs and Joanne Kyger The book is noteworthy for its emphasis on women filmmakers who have traditionally been excluded from close analysis by film scholars Beat Film Beat Writers also explores the ways Beat authors such as Philip Lamantia Michael McClure Diane di Prima William S Burroughs Allen Ginsberg Jack Kerouac Peter Orlovsky Gregory Corso Joanne Kyger and others became deeply involved with the film communities of New York and California The book discusses their roles as both actors and participants in the making of these films and demonstrates how many of the same themes that characterized Beat literature surface in cinema The anxiety over the possibilities of nuclear war the search for deeper modes of spirituality in the study of Buddhism as well as occult and esoteric systems the struggle for equality for the LGBTQ community the beginnings of the ecological movement and the fight against censorship and the open depiction of sexuality are all themes that occur both in Beat film and in Beat literature Beat Film Beat Writers also features an Epilogue on the cinema of singer and poet Jim Morrison who although not part of the Beat movement was deeply influenced by Beat literature and carried on many of the aesthetic and philosophical aims of the Beats into the late sixties Modern Indian Writing in English N. D. R. Chandra, 2004 Contributed articles The History of British Women's Writing, 1610-1690 M. Suzuki, 2011-01-19 During the seventeenth century in response to political and social upheavals such as the English Civil Wars women produced writings in both manuscript and print This volume represents recent scholarship that has uncovered new texts as well as introduced new paradigms to further our understanding of women's literary history during this period The Facts on File Companion to World Poetry R. Victoria Arana, 2008 The Facts On File Companion to World Poetry 1900 to the Present is a comprehensive introduction to 20th and 21st century world poets and their most famous most distinctive and most influential poems Modern Japan, Student Economy Edition Mikiso Hane, 2018-04-27 This book presents the essential facts of modern Japanese history It covers a variety of important developments through the 1990s giving special consideration to how traditional Japanese modes of thought and behavior have affected the recent developments South Asian Novelists in English Jaina C. Sanga, 2003-03-30 With the publication of Salman Rushdie's Booker Prize winning novel Midnight's Children

R in 1981 followed by the unprecedented popularity of his subsequent works the cinematic adaptation of Michael Ondaatje's The English Patient R many other best sellers written by South Asian novelists writing in English have gained a tremendous following This reference is a guide to their lives and writings The volume focuses on novelists born in South Asia who have written and continue to write about issues concerning that region Some of the novelists have published widely while others are only beginning their literary careers The volume includes alphabetically arranged entries on more than 50 South Asian novelists Each entry is written by an expert contributor and includes a biography a discussion of major works and themes a summary of the novelist's critical reception and primary and secondary bibliographies Since many of the contributors are personally acquainted with the novelists they are able to offer significant insights The volume closes with a selected bibliography of studies of the South Asian novel in English along with a list of anthologies and periodicals

Contemporary Fiction and the Ethics of Modern Culture J. Karnicky, 2007-03-05 This book argues for the ethical relevancy of contemporary fiction at the beginning of the twenty first century Through reading novels by such writers as David Foster Wallace Richard Powers and Irvine Welsh this book looks at how these works seek to transform the ways that readers live in the world

Anti-Black Racism in Early Modern English Drama Matthieu Chapman, 2016-11-03 This is the first book to deploy the methods and ensemble of questions from Afro pessimism to engage and interrogate the methods of Early Modern English studies Using contemporary Afro pessimist theories to provide a foundation for structural analyses of race in the Early Modern Period it engages the arguments for race as a fluid construction of human identity by addressing how race in Early Modern England functioned not only as a marker of human identity but also as an a priori constituent of human subjectivity Chapman argues that Blackness is the marker of social death that allows for constructions of human identity to become transmutable based on the impossibility of recognition and incorporation for Blackness into humanity Using dramatic texts such as Othello Titus Andronicus and other Early Modern English plays both popular and lesser known the book shifts the binary away from the currently accepted standard of white non white that defines otherness in the period and examines race in Early Modern England from the perspective of a non black black antagonism The volume corrects the Afro pessimist assumption that the Triangle Slave Trade caused a rupture between Blackness and humanity By locating notions of Black inhumanity in England prior to chattel slavery the book positions the Triangle Trade as a result of rather than the cause of Black inhumanity It also challenges the common scholarly assumption that all varying types of human identity in Early Modern England were equally fluid by arguing that Blackness functioned as an immutable constant Through the use of structural analysis this volume works to simplify and demystify notions of race in Renaissance England by arguing that race is not only a marker of human identity but a structural antagonism between those engaged in human civil society opposed to those who are socially dead It will be an essential volume for those with interest in Renaissance Literature and Culture Shakespeare Contemporary Performance Theory Black Studies and Ethnic Studies
