communication PTSC programs have long relied upon lore stories of what works to understand and communicate about the work of program administration. Stories are interesting, telling, engaging, and necessary. But a discipline focused primarily on stories, especially the ephemeral stories narrated at conferences and deliberated at department meetings, usually suffice primarily to solve immediate problems and address day-to-day concerns and activities. This edited collection captures some of those stories and layers them with theoretical perspectives and reflection to enhance their usefulness to the PTSC program administration community at large. Like the ephemeral stories, PTSC program administrators are accustomed to the stories told in this volume; are set within specific institutional contexts that reflect specific institutional challenges. They emphasize the intellectual traces, the debts the authors owe to those who have informed and transformed their administrative work. In so doing, this collection creates another conversation, albeit a robust, diverse, and theoretically informed one, around which program leaders might define or redefine their roles and re-envision their administrative work as the rich, complex intellectual engagement that we find it to be. This volume asks authors to move beyond a notion of administration as an activity based solely in institutional details and processes. In so doing, they emphasize theory as they share their reflections on core administrative processes and significant moments in the histories of their associated programs, thereby affording opportunities for critical examination in conjunction with practical advice.

Cellular Communication Networks and Standards Wei Jiang, Bin Han, 2024-07-12. This textbook provides a comprehensive review of the evolution of mobile communications and networking from the birth of cellular networks to the forthcoming sixth generation mobile communications, which is envisioned to be commercially deployed first in 2030. New students who are coming to wireless communications, electrical engineering, computer networking, telecommunications, and network engineering can benefit from this book by quickly grasping the whole history of cellular networks, understanding its trends. This tutorial-styled textbook provides a comprehensive overview but also provides details of the system design aspects of the various cellular generations up to 6G and how they build on each other. The book also gives the student an overview of different cellular generations, motivations, core technologies, architecture, key performance indicators, killer applications, market drivers, and the general main features of each. The authors capture the big picture and fundamental drivers of wireless communication technologies and then motivate students to understand the importance of learning related subjects such as electromagnetics, theory, antenna design, analog and digital circuits, signal processing, Internet protocols, artificial intelligence, etc. The book features homework questions and case studies throughout.

Science Cultures in a Diverse World: Knowing, Sharing, Caring Bernard Schiele, Xuan Liu, Martin W. Bauer, 2021-09-13. Science and technology culture is now more than ever at the very heart of the social project, and all countries, to varying degrees, participate in it, raising scientific literacy, improving the image of the sciences, involving the public in debates, and encouraging the young to pursue careers in the sciences. Thus, the very destiny of any society is now entwined with its ability to develop a genuine science and technology culture accessible for participation not only to the few who by virtue of their training or trade work in the science and technology fields but to all thereby creating occasions for society to debate and to foster a positive dialogue about the directions of change and future choices This book organized on the theme of knowing sharing caring new insights for a diverse world which was derived from the observation that globalization rests upon diversity diversity of contexts publics research strategies and new innovating practices and aims to stimulate exchanges discussions and debates to initiate a reflection conducive to decentring and to be an opportunity for enrichment by providing the reader with means to achieve the potentialities of that diversity through a comparison of the visions that underpin the attitudes of social actors the challenges they perceive and the potential solutions they consider Thus this book aims first and foremost to raise questions in such a manner that readers so stimulated will feel compelled to contribute and will do so In this spirit however significant the results presented and shared are less important than the questions they seek to answer How are we to rethink the diffusion the propagation and the sharing of scientific thought and knowledge in an ever more complex and diverse world What to know What to share How do we do it when science is broken down across the whole spectrum of the world s diversity The book is recommended for those who are interested in science communication and science cultures in the new media era in contemporary social dynamics and in the evolution of the role of the state and of institutions It is also an excellent reference for researchers engaging in science communication public understanding of science cultural studies science and technology museum science society relationship and other fields of humanities and social sciences

Radio Receivers for Systems of Fixed and Mobile Communications Vasiliy V. Logvinov,Sergey M. Smolskiy,2022-05-13 The textbook acquaints the reader with the architecture of receivers of analog and digital radio systems helps to study the stages of designing a modern radio receiver and reveals the reasons and methods for its effective operation in networks for various purposes Particular attention is paid to the methods of generating and processing signals in the receivers of digital systems with multiple access which make it possible to provide data transfer rates close to the maximum possible according to

Shannon As a textbook for students studying methods of optimal signal reception the book will also be useful to specialists in the field of telecommunications involved in the development of radio receivers The book shows how the development of theoretical circuitry and integrated technologies led to the active introduction of algorithmic methods for signal processing changed both the design of receivers and the methods of forming the information flow in free space MIMO beamforming The creation of a global 5G network based on heterogeneous networks puts forward new requirements for the architecture of receivers which are determined by the requirements to achieve high data rates low time delays or use in networks with coordinated multipoint transmission and reception CoMP To consolidate the knowledge gained the book includes a complete set of materials for online classes including questions and answers a guide to solving problems for each chapter and computer modeling units of receivers in the MicroCAP environment based on preliminary calculations

The Epothilones: An Outstanding Family of Anti-Tumor Agents Johann H. Mulzer, 2009-09-29 Epothilones have received unusual attention over the past ten years They are novel antitumor drugs which very much like their predecessor paclitaxel Taxol act via microtubule stabilization In comparison to paclitaxel and a number of alternative drugs with a similar mode of bioaction e.g. laulimalide eleutherobin pelurosides discodermolide the epothilones have significant advantages above all very high activity in the nanomolar range and low susceptibility towards multidrug resistance Epothilone B and several derivatives thereof are in phase I/III clinical trials one of them ixabepilone BMS is already on the market others are supposed to appear on the market in the near future All naturally occurring epothilones have been isolated from Sorangium cellulosum their antitumor action is traced back to the stabilization of microtubules In consequence the formation of the mitotic spindle is prohibited and the cell undergoes apoptosis
