Bernier, 2007 By the end of the nineteenth century a mode of painting captured instantaneity had come to be seen as an appropriate and characteristically Impressionist means of depicting its subject when that subject was understood to be our variable perception in nature In May of 1895 however capriciously it seemed to some to the facade of a Gothic cathedral Struck by the curious choice a medieval monument as subject matter critics used to about instantaneity continued to lay emphasis on a theme of temporality and this was addressed in two but related ways First there was the matter of perception the temporality that is involved in engaging visually with near impenetrable surfaces of

Fallen Monuments and Contested Memorials Juilee Decker, 2023-07-05 Fallen Monuments and Contested Memorials examines how the modification destruction or absence of monuments and memorials can be viewed as performative acts that challenge prescribed embodied narratives in the public realm Bringing together international multidisciplinary approaches the chapters in this volume interrogate the ways in which memorial constructions disclose implicitly and explicitly the proxy battle for public memory and identity particularly since 2015 Acknowledging the ways in which the past which is given agency through monuments and memorials intrudes into daily life this volume offers perspectives from researchers that answer questions about the roles of monuments and memorials as persistent yet mutable works whose meanings are not fixed but are rather subject to processes of continual re interpretation By using monuments and memorials as lenses through which to view race memory and the legacies of war power and subjugation this volume demonstrates how these works and their visible representations of entitlement possession control and authority can offer the opportunity to pose and answer questions about whose memory matters and what our symbols say about who we are and what we value Fallen Monuments and Contested Memorials is essential reading for scholars and students studying cultural heritage history art history and public history It will be particularly useful to those with an interest in public monuments and memorials colonial and post colonial history memory studies and nationalism race and ethnic studies

Everyday Poetics Brett Bourbon, 2022-02-24 Locating poetry in a philosophy of the everyday Brett Bourbon continues a tradition of attention to logic in everyday utterances through Wittgenstein Austin Quine and Cavell arguing that poems are events of form not just collections of words which shape everyone's lives Poems taught in class are formalizations of the everyday poems we live amidst albeit unknowingly Bourbon resurrects these poems to construct an anthropology of form that centers everyday poems as events or interruptions within our lives Expanding our understanding of what a poem is this book argues that poems be understood as events of form that may depend on words but are not fundamentally constituted by them This line of thought delves into a poem's linguistic particularity to ask what a poem is and how we know By reclaiming arenas previously ceded to essayists and literary writers Bourbon reveals the care and attention necessary to uncovering the intimate relationship between poems life reading and living A philosophical meditation on the nature of poetry but also on the meaning of love and the claim of words upon us Everyday Poetics situates the importance of everyday poems as events in our lives

Holocaust Monuments and National Memory Peter Carrier, 2006-09-01 Since 1989 two sites of memory with respect to the deportation and persecution of Jews in France and Germany during the Second World War have received intense public attention the Vélodrome d'Hiver Winter Velodrome in Paris and the Monument for the Murdered Jews of Europe or Holocaust Monument in Berlin Why is this so Both monuments the author argues are unique in the history of memorial projects Although they are genuine sites of memory neither monument celebrates history but rather serve as platforms for the deliberation negotiation and promotion of social consensus over the memorial status of war crimes in France and Germany The debates over these monuments indicate that it is the communication among members of the public via the mass media rather than qualities inherent in the sites themselves which transformed these sites into symbols beyond traditional conceptions of heritage and patriotism
