On Becoming a Teen Mom Mary Patrice Erdmans,Timothy Black,2015-02-06 In 2013 the New York City Public Health Department placed public service announcements on trains and buses and at transportation stops that showed photos of frowning or crying children saying such things as I m twice as likely not to graduate high school because you had me as a teen and Honestly Mom Chances are he won t stay with you What happens to me Campaigns like this support a public narrative that portrays teen mothers as threatening the moral order bankrupting state coffers and causing high rates of poverty incarceration and school dropout These campaigns demonize teen mothers but tell us nothing about their lives before they became pregnant In this myth shattering and often deeply disturbing book sociologists Mary Patrice Erdmans and Timothy Black tell the life stories of 108 brown white and black teen mothers They expose the problems that cause distress in these young women s lives and that are often overlooked in pregnancy prevention campaigns Some stories are tragic and painful marked by child sexual abuse partner violence and school failure Others are less devastating depicting girl next door characters whose unintended pregnancies expose their lack of contraception and unwillingness to abort Offering a fresh critical perspective on the links between early childbirth and social inequalities On Becoming a Teen Mom demonstrates how the intersecting hierarchies of gender race and social class shape the personal stories of young mothers Provided by publisher

Making Up with Mom Julie Halpert,Dr. Deborah Carr,2016-02-09 Young women today have infinitely more options than their mothers and grandmothers did decades ago Should I become a doctor a writer or a stay at home mom Should I get married or live with my boyfriend Do I want children Women in their twenties thirties and forties today are wrestling with life altering decisions about work and family and they need all the support they can get But the very person whose support they crave most their mother often can t get on board and a rift is created between the two generations even for women who have always had a strong relationship A mother s simple question like How can you trust a nanny to watch your children all day can bring her poised accomplished CEO daughter to tears or provoke a nasty response more suitable to a surly teenager than a leader of industry Why can t mothers and daughters today see eye to eye when it comes to important choices about love work children money and personal fulfillment Why does a mother s approval matter so much even to the most confident and self possessed daughter And when daughters choose paths different from their mothers why is it so painful for the older generation Making Up with Mom answers these important questions by focusing on three core issues dating marriage career and child rearing Relying on interviews with nearly a hundred mothers and daughters and offering helpful tips from more than two dozen therapists Julie Halpert and Deborah Carr explore a wide range of communication issues and how to resolve them so mothers and daughters everywhere can reclaim their loving relationships This enlightening book is a must read for all women today Advance Praise for Making Up with Mom A sympathetic helpful and accurate look at a topic that affects us all and grows more important every day Kathleen Gerson professor of sociology at New York University and author of Hard Choices How Women Decide About Work Career and Motherhood A well written thoughtful book that could help every mother and daughter connect or reconnect at a deeper more fulfilling level Alvin Rosenfeld M D coauthor of The Over Scheduled Child Avoiding the Hyper Parenting Trap and lecturer at Harvard Medical School If Nancy Friday s My Mother My Self helped a generation of daughters understand their conflicted relationships with their mothers almost thirty years ago Making Up with Mom may well be the book that helps mothers and daughters today understand both themselves and each other It is a book I ve been waiting for Deborah Siegel Ph D author of Sisterhood Interrupted From Radical Women to Grrls Gone Wild Making Up with Mom is a must read for women who want better relationships with their mothers or daughters or both The book is chock full of support and good sound advice culled from the authors interviews with many women across generations This practical book considers many of the most important issues that women face and in so doing it invites the readers both mothers and daughters to find ways to relate to each other in healthier and more effective ways A good thorough read Dr Dorothy Firman coauthor of Daughters and Mothers Making It Work Chicken Soup for the Mother Daughter Soul and Chicken Soup for the Father Son Soul      From One Single Mother to Another Sandra P.
