Young,2016-12-05 As he demonstrates that narratives of seduction function as a master plot for French literature in the eighteenth century Paul Young argues that the prevalence of this trope was a reaction to a dominant cultural discourse that coded the novel and the new practice of solitary reading as dangerous seductive practices Situating his study in the context of paintings educational manuals and criticism that caution against the act of reading Young considers both canonical and lesser known works by authors that include Rousseau Sade Bastide Laclos Crillon and the writers of two widely read libertine novels How these authors responded to a cultural climate that viewed literature and especially the novel as seductive sheds light on the perils and pleasures of authorship the ways in which texts interact with the larger cultural discourse and what eighteenth century texts tell us about the dangers of reading or writing Ultimately Young argues the seduction not in the text but by the text raises questions about the nature of pleasure in eighteenth century French literature and culture Space Emma Gilby,Katja Haustein,2005 This book which is the fruit of papers presented at the seventh Cambridge French Graduate Conference offers innovative analyses of how space can provide metaphors for human thoughts utterances and experiences The authors cross fertilise different approaches to the significance of space as a thematic and structuring principle in French and Francophone poetry prose philosophy and film They are interested in three broad areas of enquiry how spaces can be suffused with explorations of identity how the dividing work done by maps marks and makes spaces and how particular questions are thrown up by urban spaces Throughout the book examines the symbiotic relationship between internal and external between delimitation and difference Baron Dominique Vivant Denon (1747-1825) Judith Nowinski,1970 Takes a scholarly approach to bring Denon to life and to the attention of contemporary readers To make his acquaintance is to recapture the aristocracy and the world of art and letters at the turn of the 19th century in several European capitals No Tomorrow Dominique Vivant Denon,2002 Point de lendemain No Tomorrow is the English translation of a French 18th century masterpiece Point de Lendemain by Dominique Vivant Denon Written in

Giovanna Summerfield s preface and notes will offer a new way of reading Point de Lendemain marginalizing the triviality of sex and the love triangle which has been thus far seen as a physical need rather than as an expression of supremacy and
