Points In Time Structure And Event In A Late Northern Plains Hunting Society:

Points in Time P. G. Duke,1991 Points in Time P. G. Duke,1991-01-01 Crafting History in the Northern Plains Mark D. Mitchell,2013-04-04 The histories of post 1500 American Indian and First Nations societies reflect a dynamic interplay of forces Europeans introduced new technologies new economic systems and new social forms but those novelties were appropriated resisted modified or ignored according to indigenous meanings relationships and practices that originated long before Europeans came to the Americas A comprehensive understanding of the changes colonialism wrought must therefore be rooted in trans Columbian native histories that span the centuries before and after the advent of the colonists In Crafting History in the Northern Plains Mark D Mitchell illustrates the crucial role archaeological methods and archaeological data can play in producing trans Columbian histories Combining an in depth analysis of the organization of stone tool and pottery production with ethnographic and historical data Mitchell synthesizes the social and economic histories of the native communities located at the confluence of the Heart and Missouri rivers home for more than five centuries to the Mandan people Mitchell is the first researcher to examine the impact of Mandan history on the developing colonial economy of the Northern Plains In Crafting History in the Northern Plains he demonstrates the special importance of native history in the 1400s and 1500s to the course of European colonization The Cambridge Encyclopedia of Hunters and Gatherers Richard B. Lee,Richard Heywood Daly,Richard Daly,1999-12-16 Hunting and gathering is humanity s first and most successful adaptation Until 12 000 years ago all humanity lived this way Surprisingly in an increasingly urbanized and technological world dozens of hunting and gathering societies have persisted and thrive worldwide resilient in the face of change their ancient ways now combined with the trappings of modernity The Encyclopedia is divided into three parts The first contains case studies by leading experts of over fifty hunting and gathering peoples in seven major world regions There is a general introduction and an archaeological overview for each region Part II contains thematic essays on prehistory social life gender music and art health religion and indigenous knowledge The final part surveys the complex histories of hunter gatherers encounters with colonialism and the state and their ongoing struggles for dignity and human rights as part of the worldwide movement of indigenous peoples Human Ecology of the Canadian Prairie Ecozone B. A. Nicholson,2011 The Canadian Prairie Ecozone CPE is spatially defined by the foothills of Alberta on the west and the boreal forest parkland interface on the north and the east As members of the multidisciplinary SCAPE Study of Cultural Adaptations in the Canadian Prairie Ecozone Project the authors have synthesized a comprehensive account of the successive cultural lifeways and social practices of precontact groups that have succeeded one another over time and space in this region over the past 11 000 years American bison : status survey and conservation guidelines 2010 ,2010 Subsistence and Culture in the Western Canadian Arctic Matthew W. Betts,2008-01-01 Through innovative analysis of animal bones recovered from archaeological sites this comprehensive study documents the intricate relationships between the Siglit or Mackenzie Inuit and their food animals from their earliest occupations 800 years ago to the arrival of Europeans in the 19th century This volume chronicles the connections between developing Siglit economies and shifts in technology settlement demography and climate exposing in the process the primary link between Siglit subsistence and culture Published in English Beyond Subsistence Philip Duke, Michael C. Wilson, 1995-04-30 A series of essays written by Plains scholars of diverse research interests and backgrounds that apply postprocessual approaches to the solution of current problems in Plains archaeology Postprocessual archaeology is seen as a potential vehicle for integrating culture historical processual and postmodernist approaches to solve specific archaeological problems The contributors address specific interpretive problems in all the major regions of the North American Plains investigate different Plains societies including hunter gatherers and farmers and their associated archaeological records and examine the political content of archaeology in such fields as gender studies and cultural resource management They avoid a programmatic adherence to a single paradigm arguing instead that a mature archaeology will use different theories methods and techniques to solve specific empirical problems By avoiding excessive infatuation with the correct scientific method this volume addresses questions that have often been categorized as beyond archaeological investigations Preserving Western History Andrew Gulliford, 2005-08-15 The first collection of essays on public history in the American West The Tourists Gaze, The Cretans Glance Philip Duke, 2016-07-01 As researchers bring their analytic skills to bear on contemporary archaeological tourism they find that it is as much about the present as the past Philip Duke's study of tourists gazing at the remains of Bronze Age Crete highlights this nexus between past and present between exotic and mundane Using personal diaries ethnographic interviews site guidebooks and tourist brochures Duke helps us understand the impact that archaeological sites museums and the constructed past have on tourists view of their own culture how it legitimizes class inequality at home as well as on the island of Crete both Minoan and modern
