Engaging with Ethics in International Criminological Research Michael Adorjan,Rose Ricciardelli,2016-06-10

Despite a voluminous literature detailing the procedures of research ethics boards and institutional ethical review processes there are few texts that explore the realpolitik of conducting criminal research in practice This book explores the unique lived experiences of scholars engaging with ethics during their criminological research and focuses on the ethical dilemmas that researchers encounter both in the field and while writing up results for publication Who benefits from criminological research What are the roles and impacts of ethics review boards How do methodological and theoretical decisions factor in to questions of ethical conduct and research ethics governance This book is divided into four parts Part I Institutional arrangements and positionality explores the ongoing and expanding process of ethics protocol and procedures principles of confidentiality and the positionality of the researcher Part II Trust and research with vulnerable populations examines the complexity of work involving prisoners indigenous peoples and victims of extreme violence power dynamics between researchers and participants and the challenges of informed consent Part III Research on and with police reflects on the importance of transparent relations with police best practices and the consequences of undertaking research in authoritarian contexts Part IV Emerging areas scrutinizes the ethics of carceral tours and suggests possible alternatives and offers one of the first sociological and criminological examinations of dark net cryptomarkets Drawing upon the experiences of international experts this book aims to provoke further reflection on and discussion of ethics in practice This book is ideal for students undertaking courses on research methods in criminology as well as a key resource for criminology researchers around the world

Procedural Justice and Relational Theory Denise Meyerson,Catriona Mackenzie,Therese MacDermott,2020-10-29 This book bridges a scholarly divide between empirical and normative theorizing about procedural justice in the context of relations of power between citizens and the state Empirical research establishes that people s understanding of procedural justice is shaped by relational factors A central premise of this volume is that this research is significant but needs to be complemented by normative theorizing that draws on relational theories of ethics and justice to explain the moral significance of procedures and make normative sense of people s concerns about relational factors The chapters in Part 1 provide comprehensive reviews of empirical studies of procedural justice in policing courts and prisons Part 2 explores empirical and normative perspectives on procedural justice and legitimacy Part 3 examines philosophical approaches to procedural justice Part 4 considers the implications of a relational perspective for the design of procedures in a range of legal contexts This collection will be of interest to a wide academic readership in philosophy law psychology and criminology

Tides and Currents in Police Theories Elke Devroe,Paul Ponsaers,Lodewijk Gunther Moor,Jack Greene,Lieselot Bisschop,Layla Skinns,Antoinette Verhage,Matthew Bacon,2012 This volume of the Journal of Police Studies reflects on theoretical developments concerning police The book is focused on a paper by Jack R Greene titled The Tides and

Currents Eddies and Whirlpools and Riptides of Modern Policing Connecting Thoughts The paper was the outcome of a seminar organized at Ghent University in the framework of the working group on policing of the European Society of Criminology ESC held in September 2010 Greene s contribution refers to original background papers which were published earlier This book pushes the analysis further starting from the observations Greene makes in his provocative roundup The book s themes include collective action and crime policing and social democracy the role of the law in policing violence and police the militarization and demilitarization of police politics and policing the transformation of policing the evaluation of research methodology buzz words and basics in policing the history of theory the emerging new policing role and its implications police education and training the erosion of community policing the complexity of policing dirty crime global crime and policing the central tasks of the police democratic policing      Unhappy Dialogue James Whitfield,2013-01-10 This book is concerned with the origins of the often difficult relationship between the Metropolitan Police and London s West Indian community and is the first detailed account of the relationship between them during the crucial early decades of largescale immigration It shows how and why the early seeds of mistrust between police and black immigrants were sown culminating in the subsequent riots and public enquiries in particular the Scarman and MacPherson enquiries Drawing upon a wide range of interviews as well as detailed archival research this book also sheds new light on the relationship between the Home Secretary and the Metropolitan Police Commissioner in the post war period the cultures and subcultures within the Met and the different priorities to be found within its rank structure the nature of cultural and ethnic prejudice in the Met at the time its self imposed alienation from the community it served and the Met s lack of commitment at the highest level to community and race relations training All these issues are examined in the broader context of British society in the 1950s and 1960s providing a prism through which to explore the broader context of race relations in Britain in the post war period      Police Conflict Management, Volume I Mario S. Staller,Swen Koerner,Benni Zaiser,2023-12-04 This book as part of a two volume set provides a broad overview of the current state of research on conflict management in law enforcement contexts globally with a focus on contemporary challenges and opportunities in policing globally and ethical considerations They cover a wide range of interactions between police and the public This volume I focusses on the challenges and opportunities examining topics such as police legitimacy police culture violence mental health community relations and crisis situations Volume II focusses on police training and education and the learning settings needed for police to professionally tackle contemporary challenges These books bring together leading research that is determining the state of the art in communication de escalation use of force and other contemporary issues in policing with practical Key Takeaways in each chapter They broaden the field by focussing on research which goes beyond the US including in Scandinavia Switzerland the Netherlands Germany the Republic of South Africa and Russia      Police Without Borders Cliff Roberson,Dilip K. Das,Jennie K. Singer,2010-07-07 The Fifteenth Annual International Police Executive Symposium brought together 65 police executives government officials academics and researchers to discuss issues relating to all aspects of policing in a global community It focused on policing without borders the need for national and international cooperation among policing agencies and th

Police Leadership and Management Margaret Mitchell, John Peter Casey, 2007 This volume presents the new contexts and challenges for contemporary police leaders and managers in the changing landscapes of policing The governance of contemporary police organisations requires leaders and managers even at the local level to work in and understand complex social political and organisational environments The wide range of topics in this collection explores what is changing what is known about the impact of these changes and what leaders and managers now need to be able to do or anticipate as a consequence Operational policing is no longer the militaristic singular activity it once was but embraces new models of partnership and community to manage crime and disorder Equally while command and control models are still an essential of many aspects of policing managing police officers and staff increasingly depends on their professional development and encouraging enthusiasm and innovation Policing takes place under conditions of intense scrutiny from the media and from the community and crime and disorder is the subject of much political debate Each of these broad areas are addressed and present a surprising range of perspectives The volume is aimed at every level of management and leadership in policing researchers of policing and students of police management and leadership

EMPIRE STRIKES BACK Centre for Contemporary Cultural Studies, 2004-08-02 First Published in 1982 The Empire Strikes Back examines the place of race and racism in the political transformation of Britain at the end of the seventies and argues that Britain has entered a longterm political and economic crisis which has brought new urgency to the politics of race and nation The authors explore the elements of a new culturally focused racism which in representations of black families stresses their alienness and the supposed criminal inclinations of the black population They argue that the British state is very far from its popular image as a liberal democracy and that all our notions of culture nation and class are based on deeply racist structures Key areas of state intervention such as schooling policing and policy oriented race relations research are analysed to demonstrate that a definition of the growing crisis in the economy and social services is emerging which shifts the focus of blame on to black people The authors argue that existing race relations theory has significantly failed to deal adequately with the British situation In particular the experience of black women and the political organization of young black people raises major problems for race blind feminism and Eurocentric Marxism alike In conclusion the book assesses the political relation of race to class and suggests that any long term struggle against racism must begin by recognizing the autonomy of black struggles at all levels of British society
